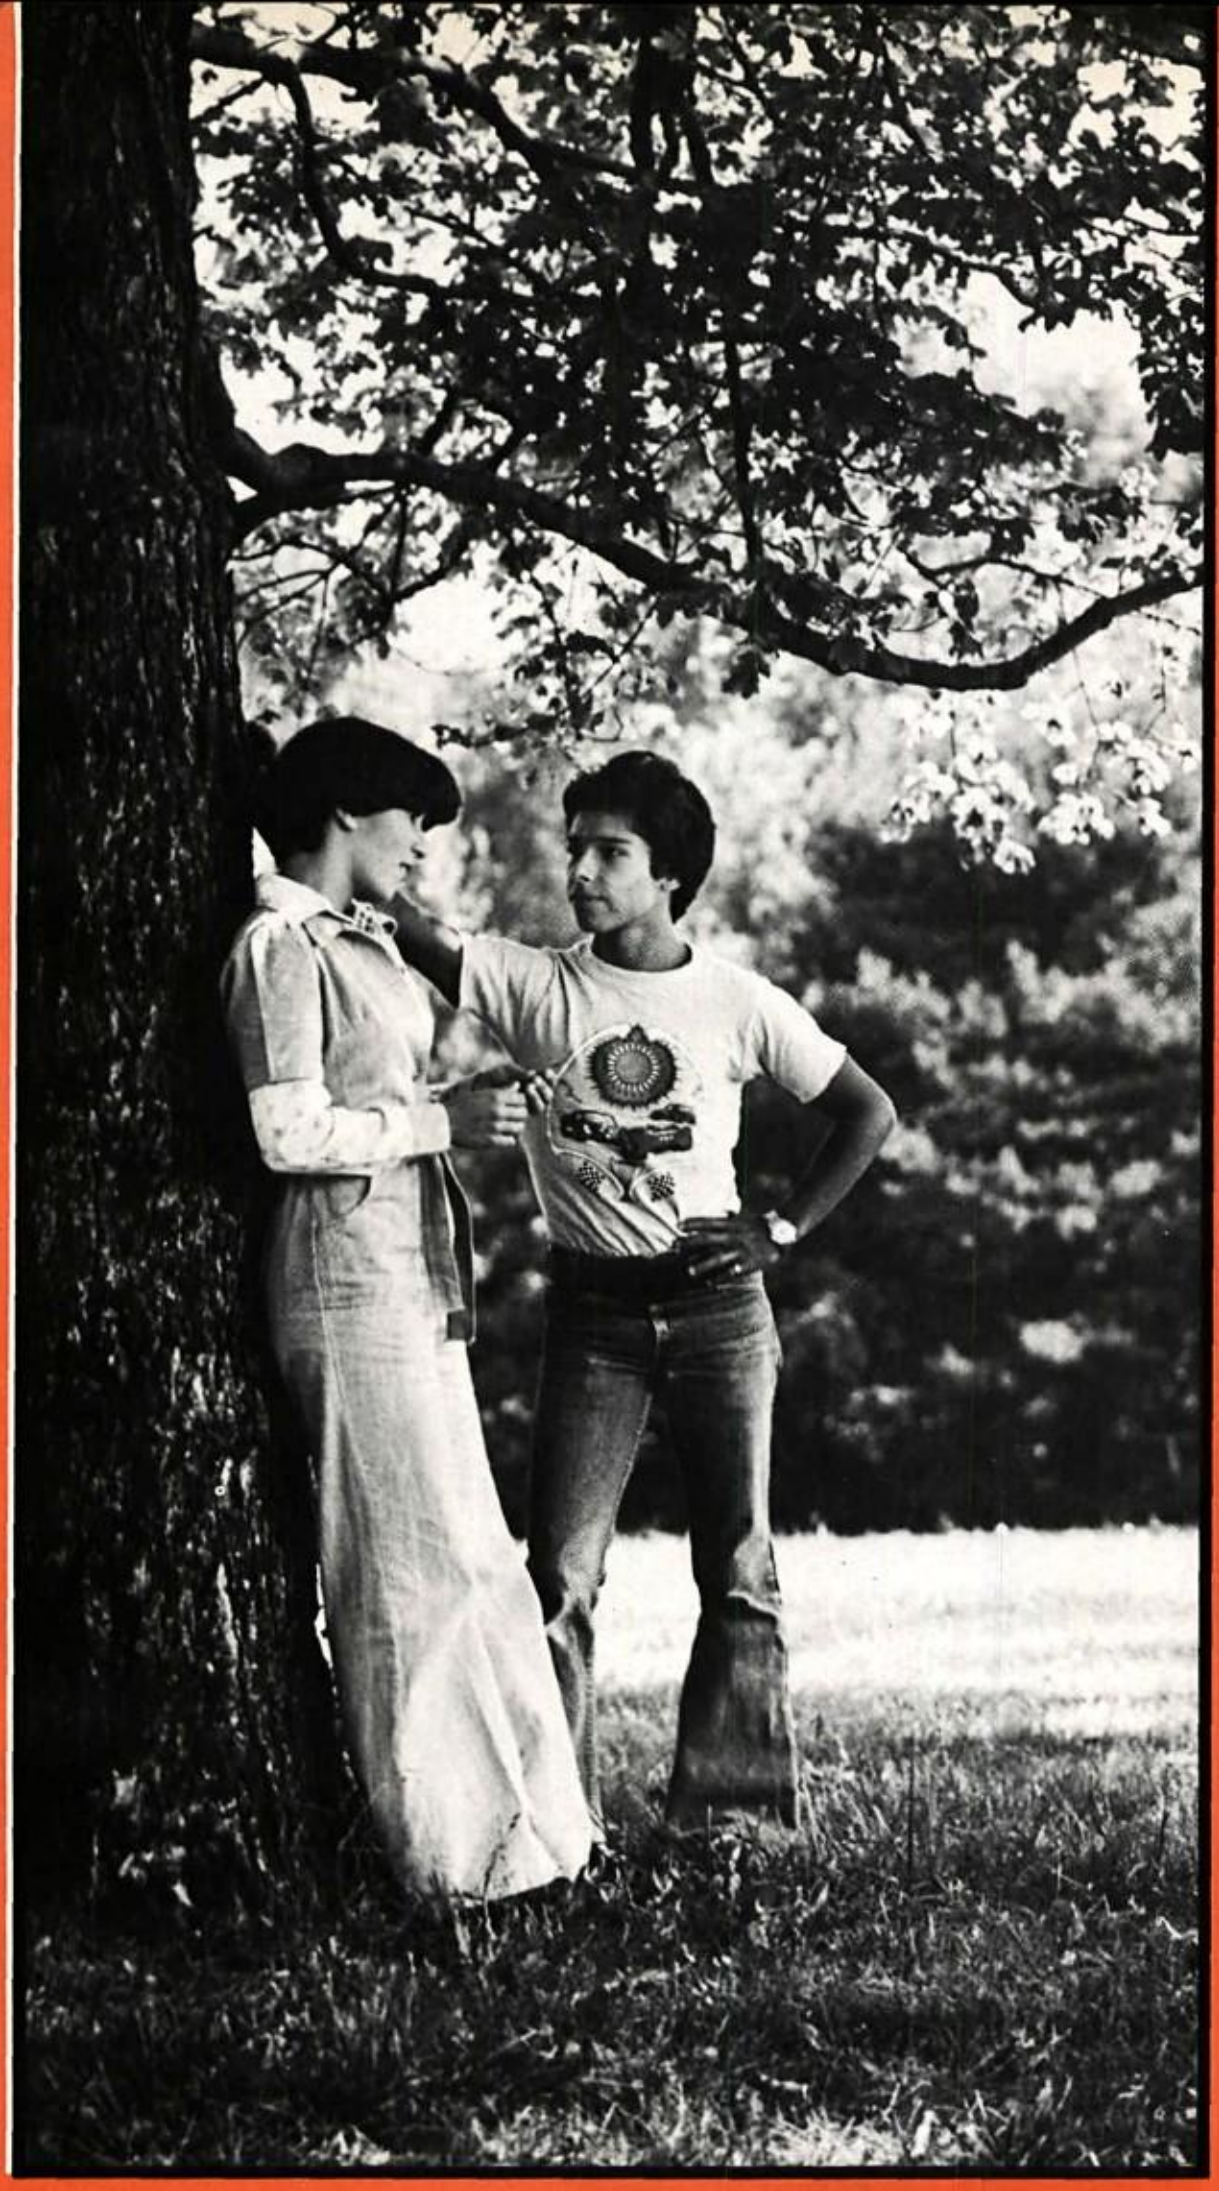
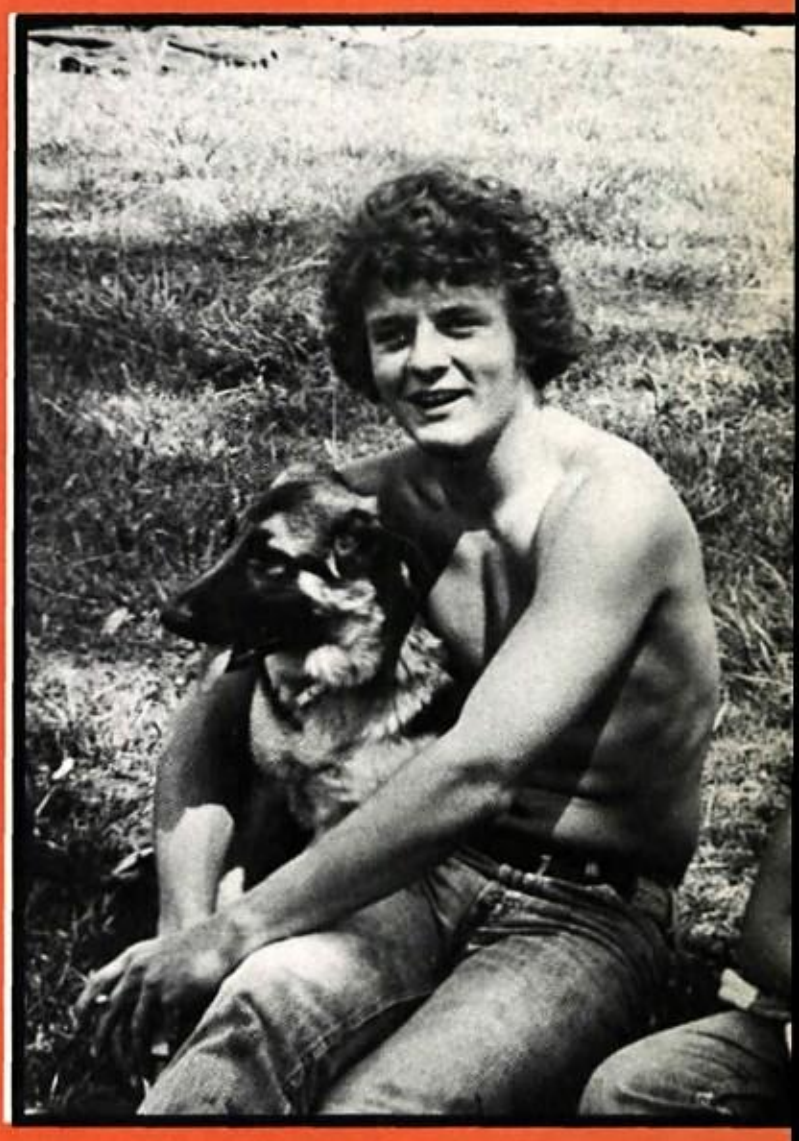
Jeffersontown High School
Jeffersontown, Kentucky
Volume XI





JOHN JORDAN . . . Dog's best friend!

On a beautiful summer day GABRIEL HERNANDEZ looks at DEBBIE BLAKEMAN saying, How do I love thee, let me count the ways . . . 1, 2, 3, 4, . . .

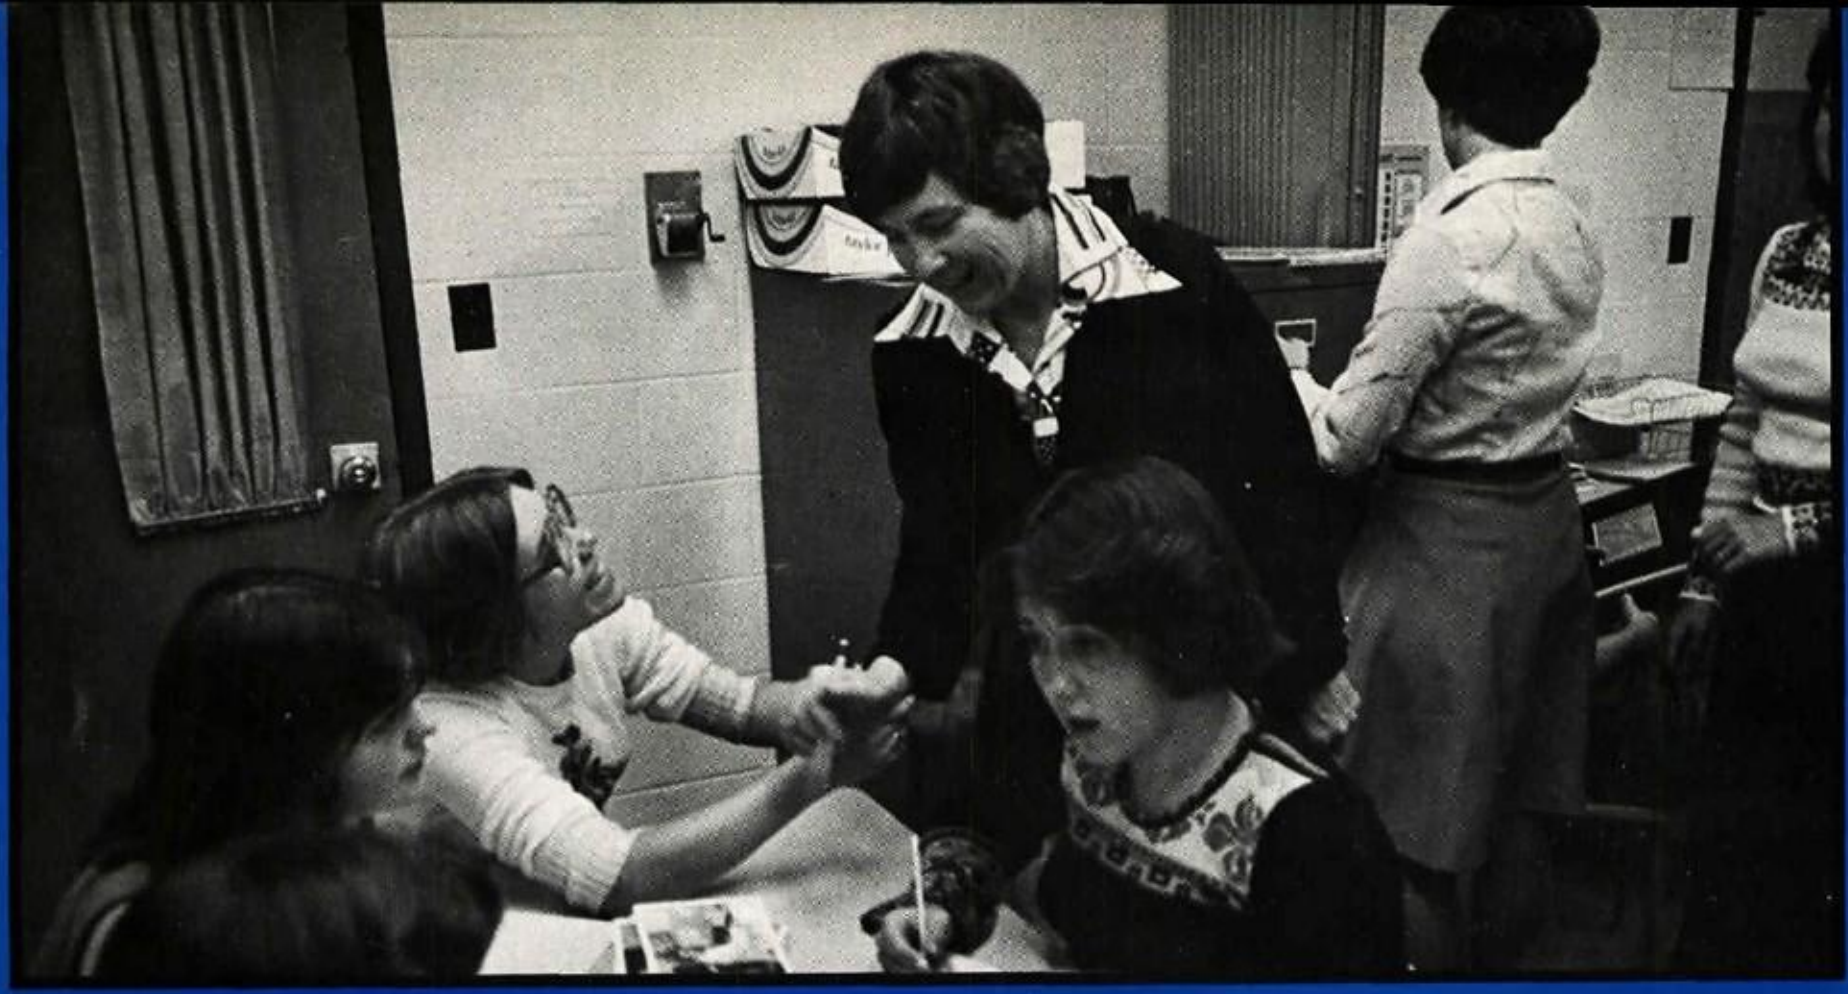
A year at Jeffersontown High School is composed of many feelings and events. It is standing in the lunch line for twenty minutes and eating lunch in three, taking naps in study hall, and cramming for tests. It is being with friends and laughing at jokes. A year at J'town is getting up at 5:00 A.M. to catch the bus and getting home at nearly midnight after practice for the Senior Play. It is pep rallies and cheerleaders and pompoms and school spirit. It is tests and report cards and the honor roll and straight A's. Sometimes it is being grounded for making an F. A year at J'town is rushing to your locker, to the restroom, and to the water fountain in the five minutes between classes. It is going to band competition and bringing home the first-place trophy. It is reading the IMPRINT and autographing friends' annuals. A year at J'town is study, romance, friendship, frustration, co-operation, gaiety, and success. A year at J'town is a sector of life. A year at J'town High School is a year worth looking into . . . Check it out.

The 1977 CHARGER is dedicated to MISS NORMA JEAN RUBLE

For the past two years Miss Ruble has diligently worked as Charger Staff sponsor in an attempt to produce a superior yearbook. She has exceeded her responsibility by spending many hours of her own time devising methods of improving the quality of the annual and finding ways to increase its circulation. She has dealt calmly with the many crises involved with the production of an annual and has encouraged us when we were faced with seemingly insurmountable obstacles. Giving freely of herself, she has made our endeavors more enjoyable. She has had unfailing patience with our efforts to produce an annual and has shown a deep concern for us as individuals. Our lives have been enriched simply through our contact with her. We will always remember her with gratitude and fondness. It is therefore with much respect and affection that we proudly dedicate the 1977 CHARGER to Miss Norma Ruble.

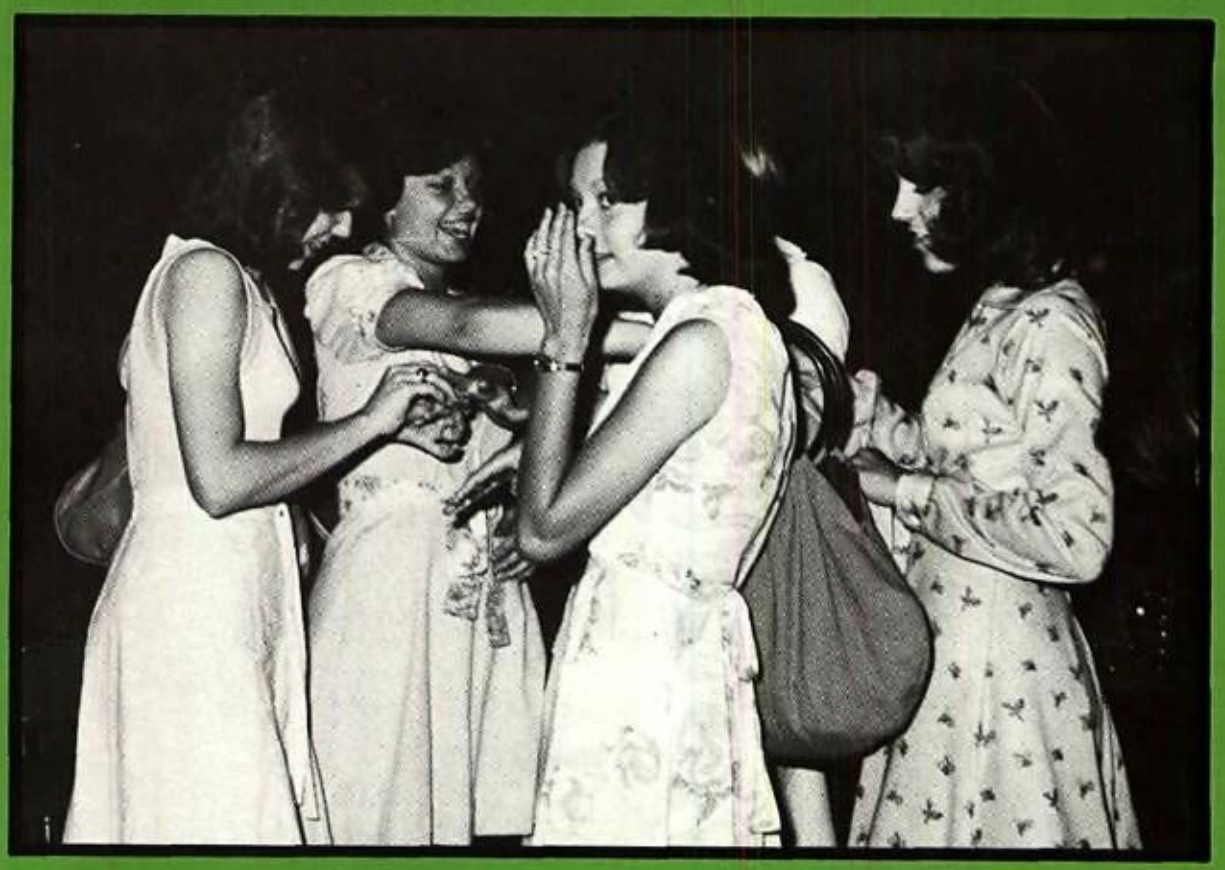
Miss Ruble, Yearbook Sponsor

MISS RUBLE and BARBARA RUCKRIEGEL discover something to smile about in the tedious task of putting together our 1977 CHARGER

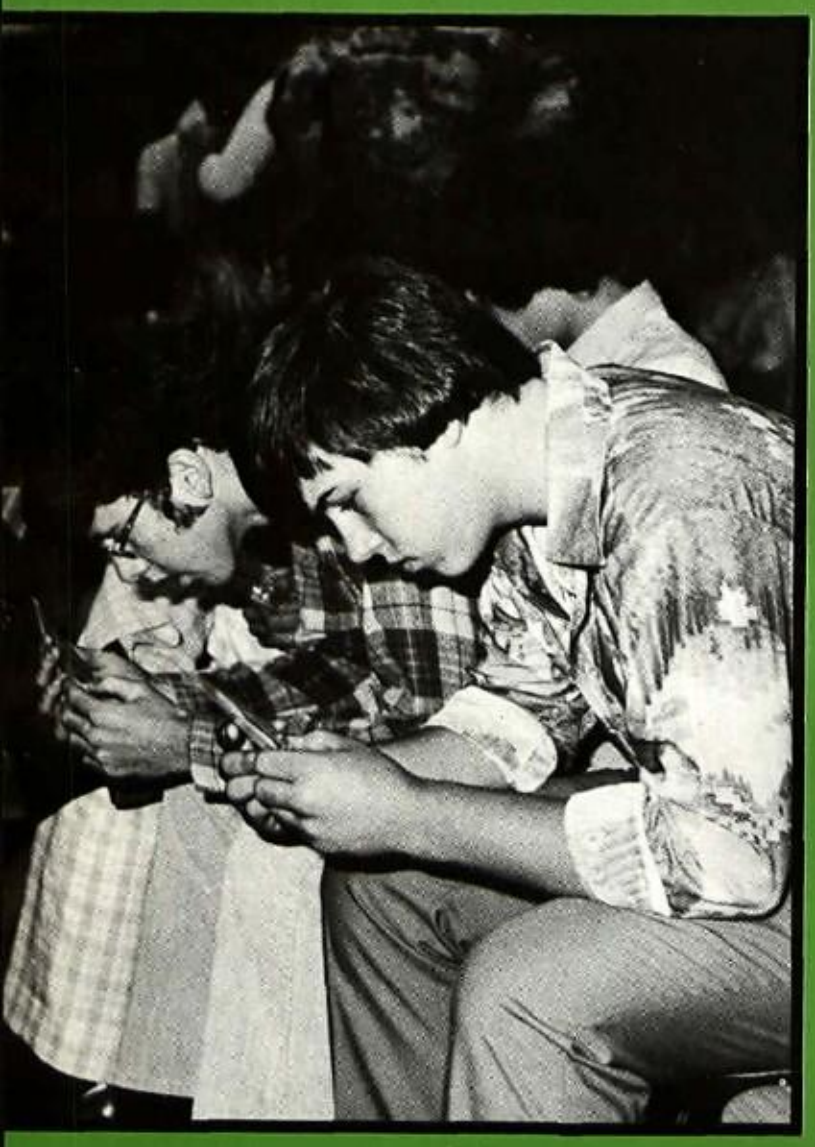


Answering questions occupies a lot of MISS RUBLE'S time and KATHY JOHNSON seems determined to ask the next one.

MISS RUBLE wants you . . . . for next year's annual staff.

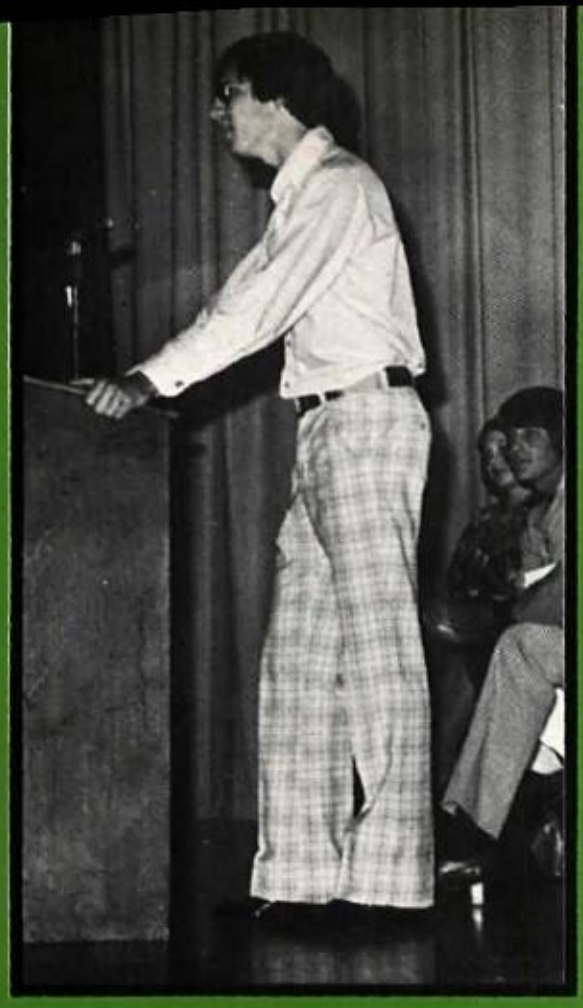


A group of girls proudly display their SENIOR RINGS.



For BARRY DAVIS and BLAINE DAUGHERTY . . . the long awaited moment has arrived.

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!!! That's the SENIOR battle cry!



HAROLD YANKEY, campaigning for a Senior Class office, presents his platform to his fellow students.

A YEAR OF SUCCESS . . .

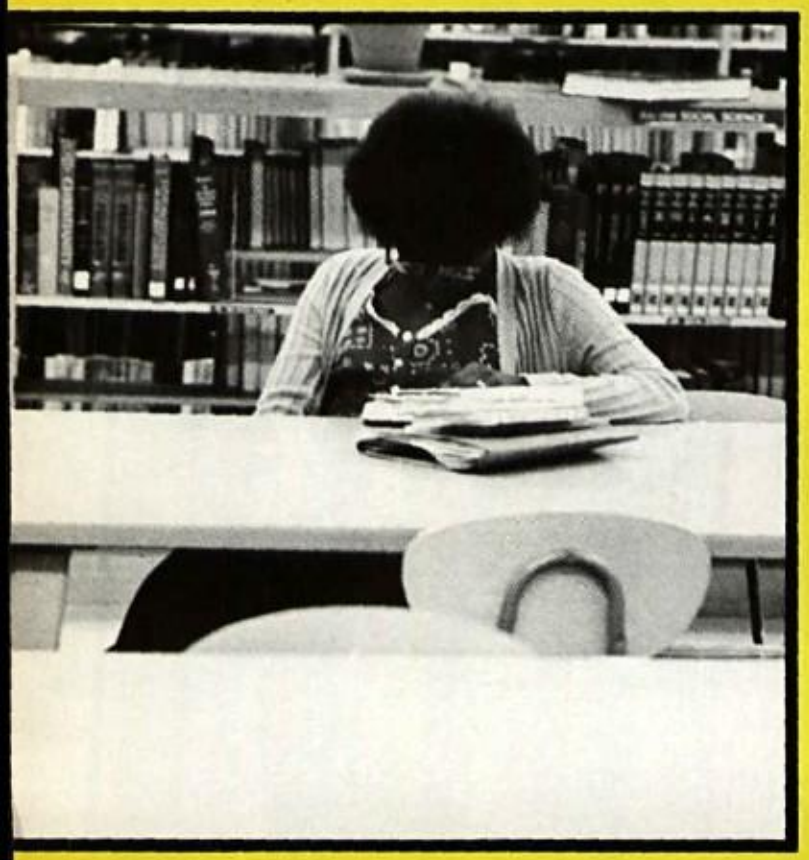
Success is perhaps the most important aspect of J'town High School. Each student strives in his own way to find success in some form. The success of the Marching Chargers is seen through the numerous trophies they win at competition. Success is the Math League team placing first in our district. It is the honor of receiving a leading role in the Senior Play. Success is making a perfect score on a calculus test or being valedictorian of the Senior Class. It is the winning season of the football team or the triumphs of the cross-country runners. Success is Sherri Son and Kathy Stearns becoming National Merit Semi-finalists. Success is winning a full scholarship to the college of your choice. The ultimate success at J'town High School occurs at the end of twelve school years with the graduation ceremony. Though this is the beginning of a new period of life, it is also the crowning achievement of high school. All of these methods of succeeding combine to make success at J'town High worth checking out.

MICHELLE ELLIOTT, ANNE BROTZGE, and DAVID SCHULTZ, members of the band, proudly bring home their first-place trophies.

JANICE MEYERS is in a class of her own.

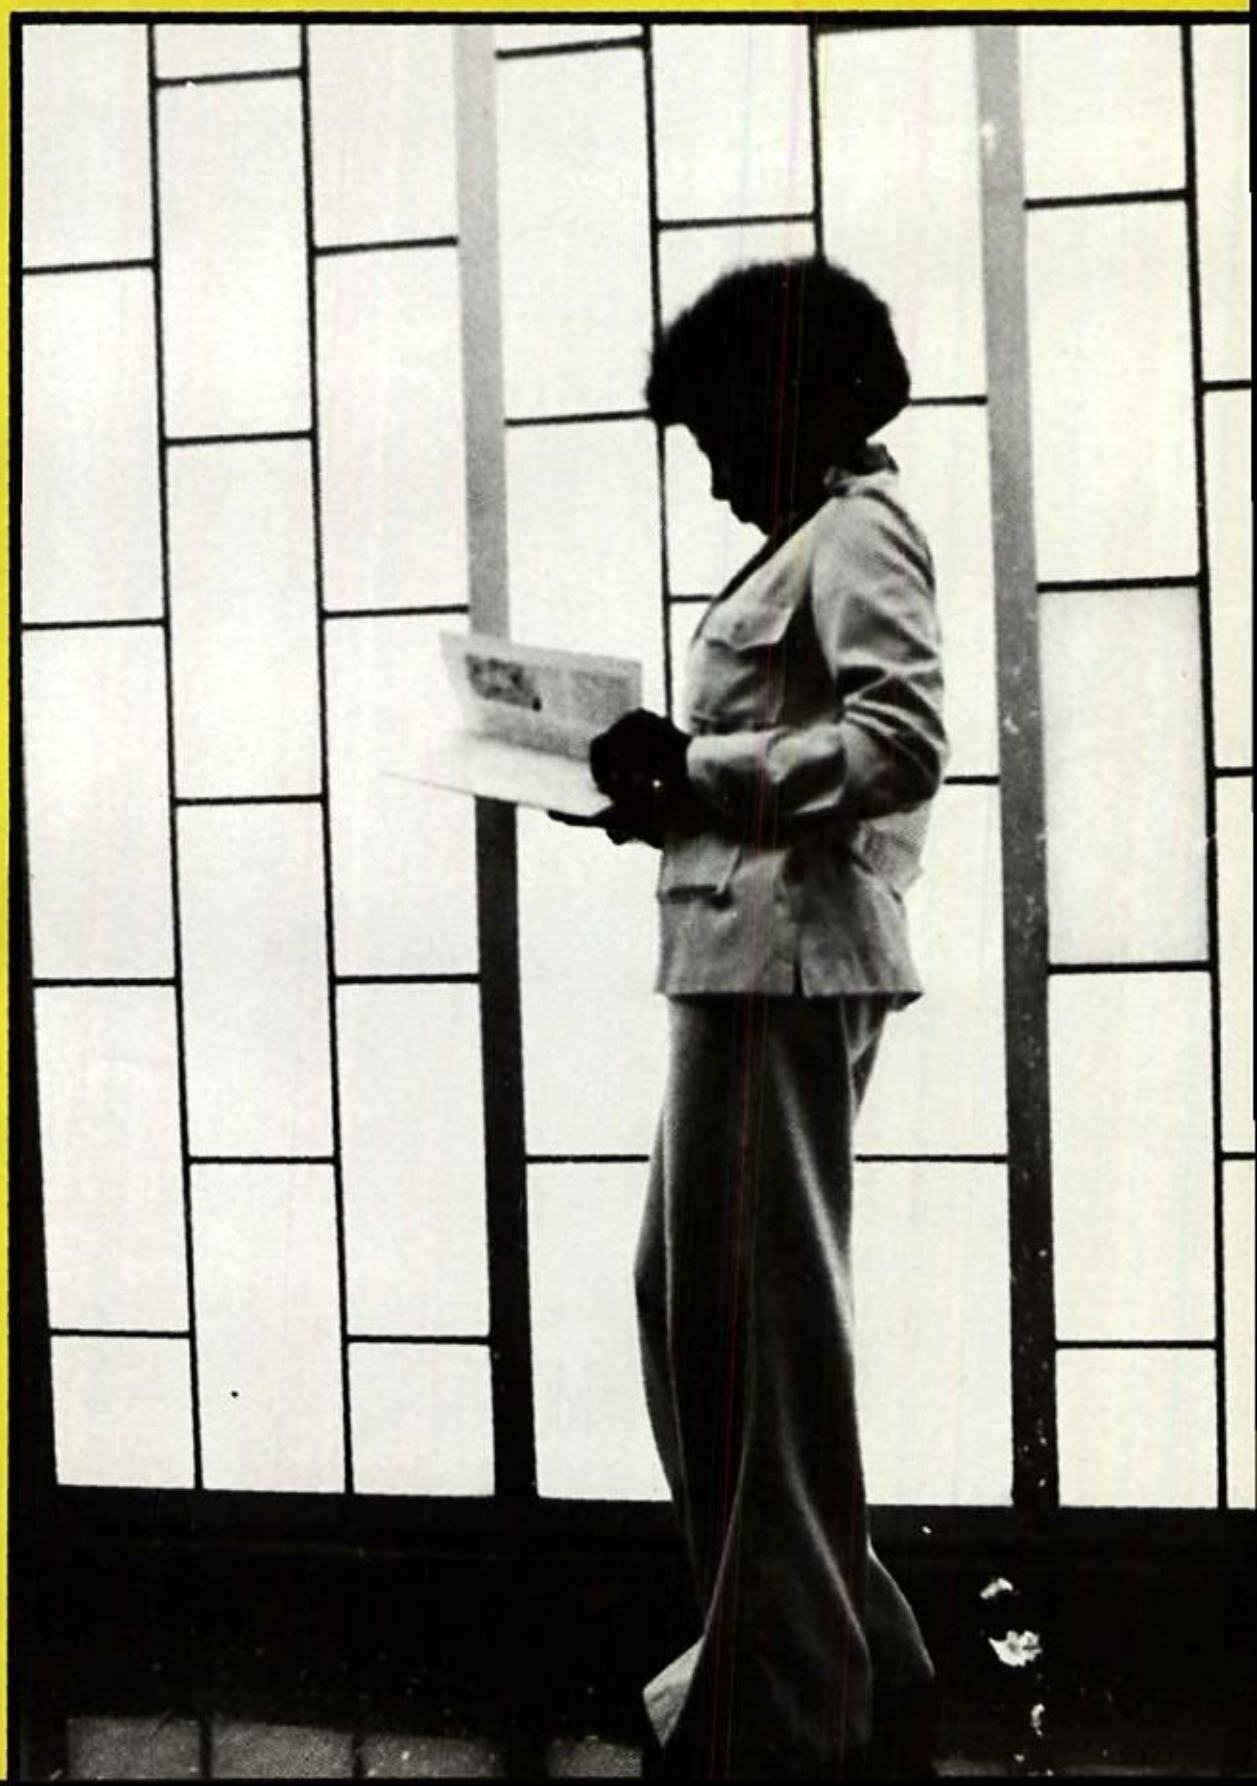
A YEAR OF SOLITUDE . . .

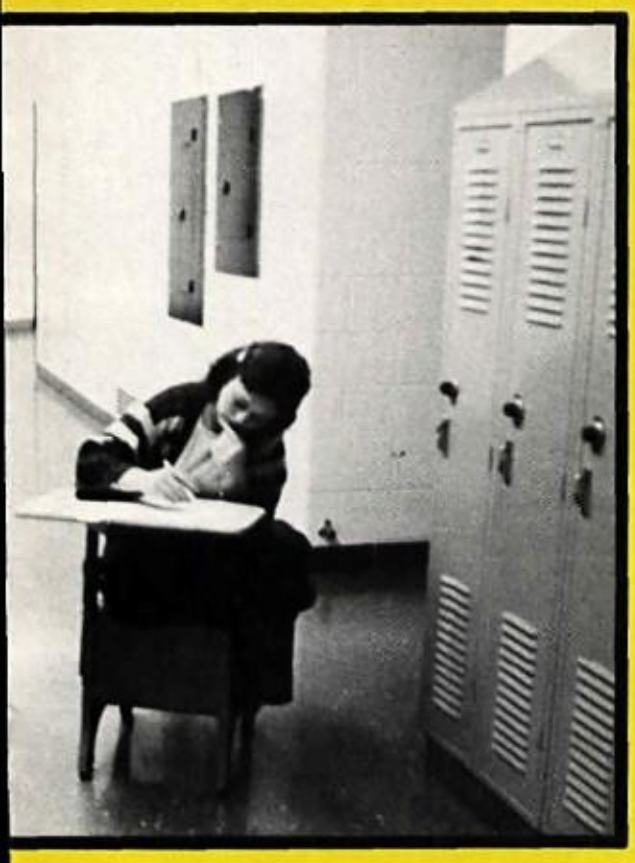
It may seem difficult to understand how solitude can be experienced at a school as large as J'town High School. Yet the more than 2300 faces in the crowd remain individuals. The uniqueness of each student's personality isolates him to some extent from the pulse of student life. Solitude at J'town is seen in a single smiling face in the hall. Solitude is experienced by the only person awake during Mr. Dickey's U.S. History telecasts. Solitude is studying silently in a corner of the library or walking home by yourself after school. It is being in a fantastic mood when everyone else is down. Solitude describes your condition the day that your best friend is absent. J'town students encounter solitude while completing their themes on OTHELLO in the wee hours of the morning. They enjoy the solitude of reading a good book or of memorizing lines for GODSPELL. Solitude is sitting by yourself in the cafeteria or indulging in daydreams. Although the majority of a student's time at J'town is spent among crowds, it is solitude that allows him to grow to understand himself. Solitude at J'town is worth looking into . . . Check it out.



BONNIE JACKSON discovers that, for her, the only place to study is in the library.

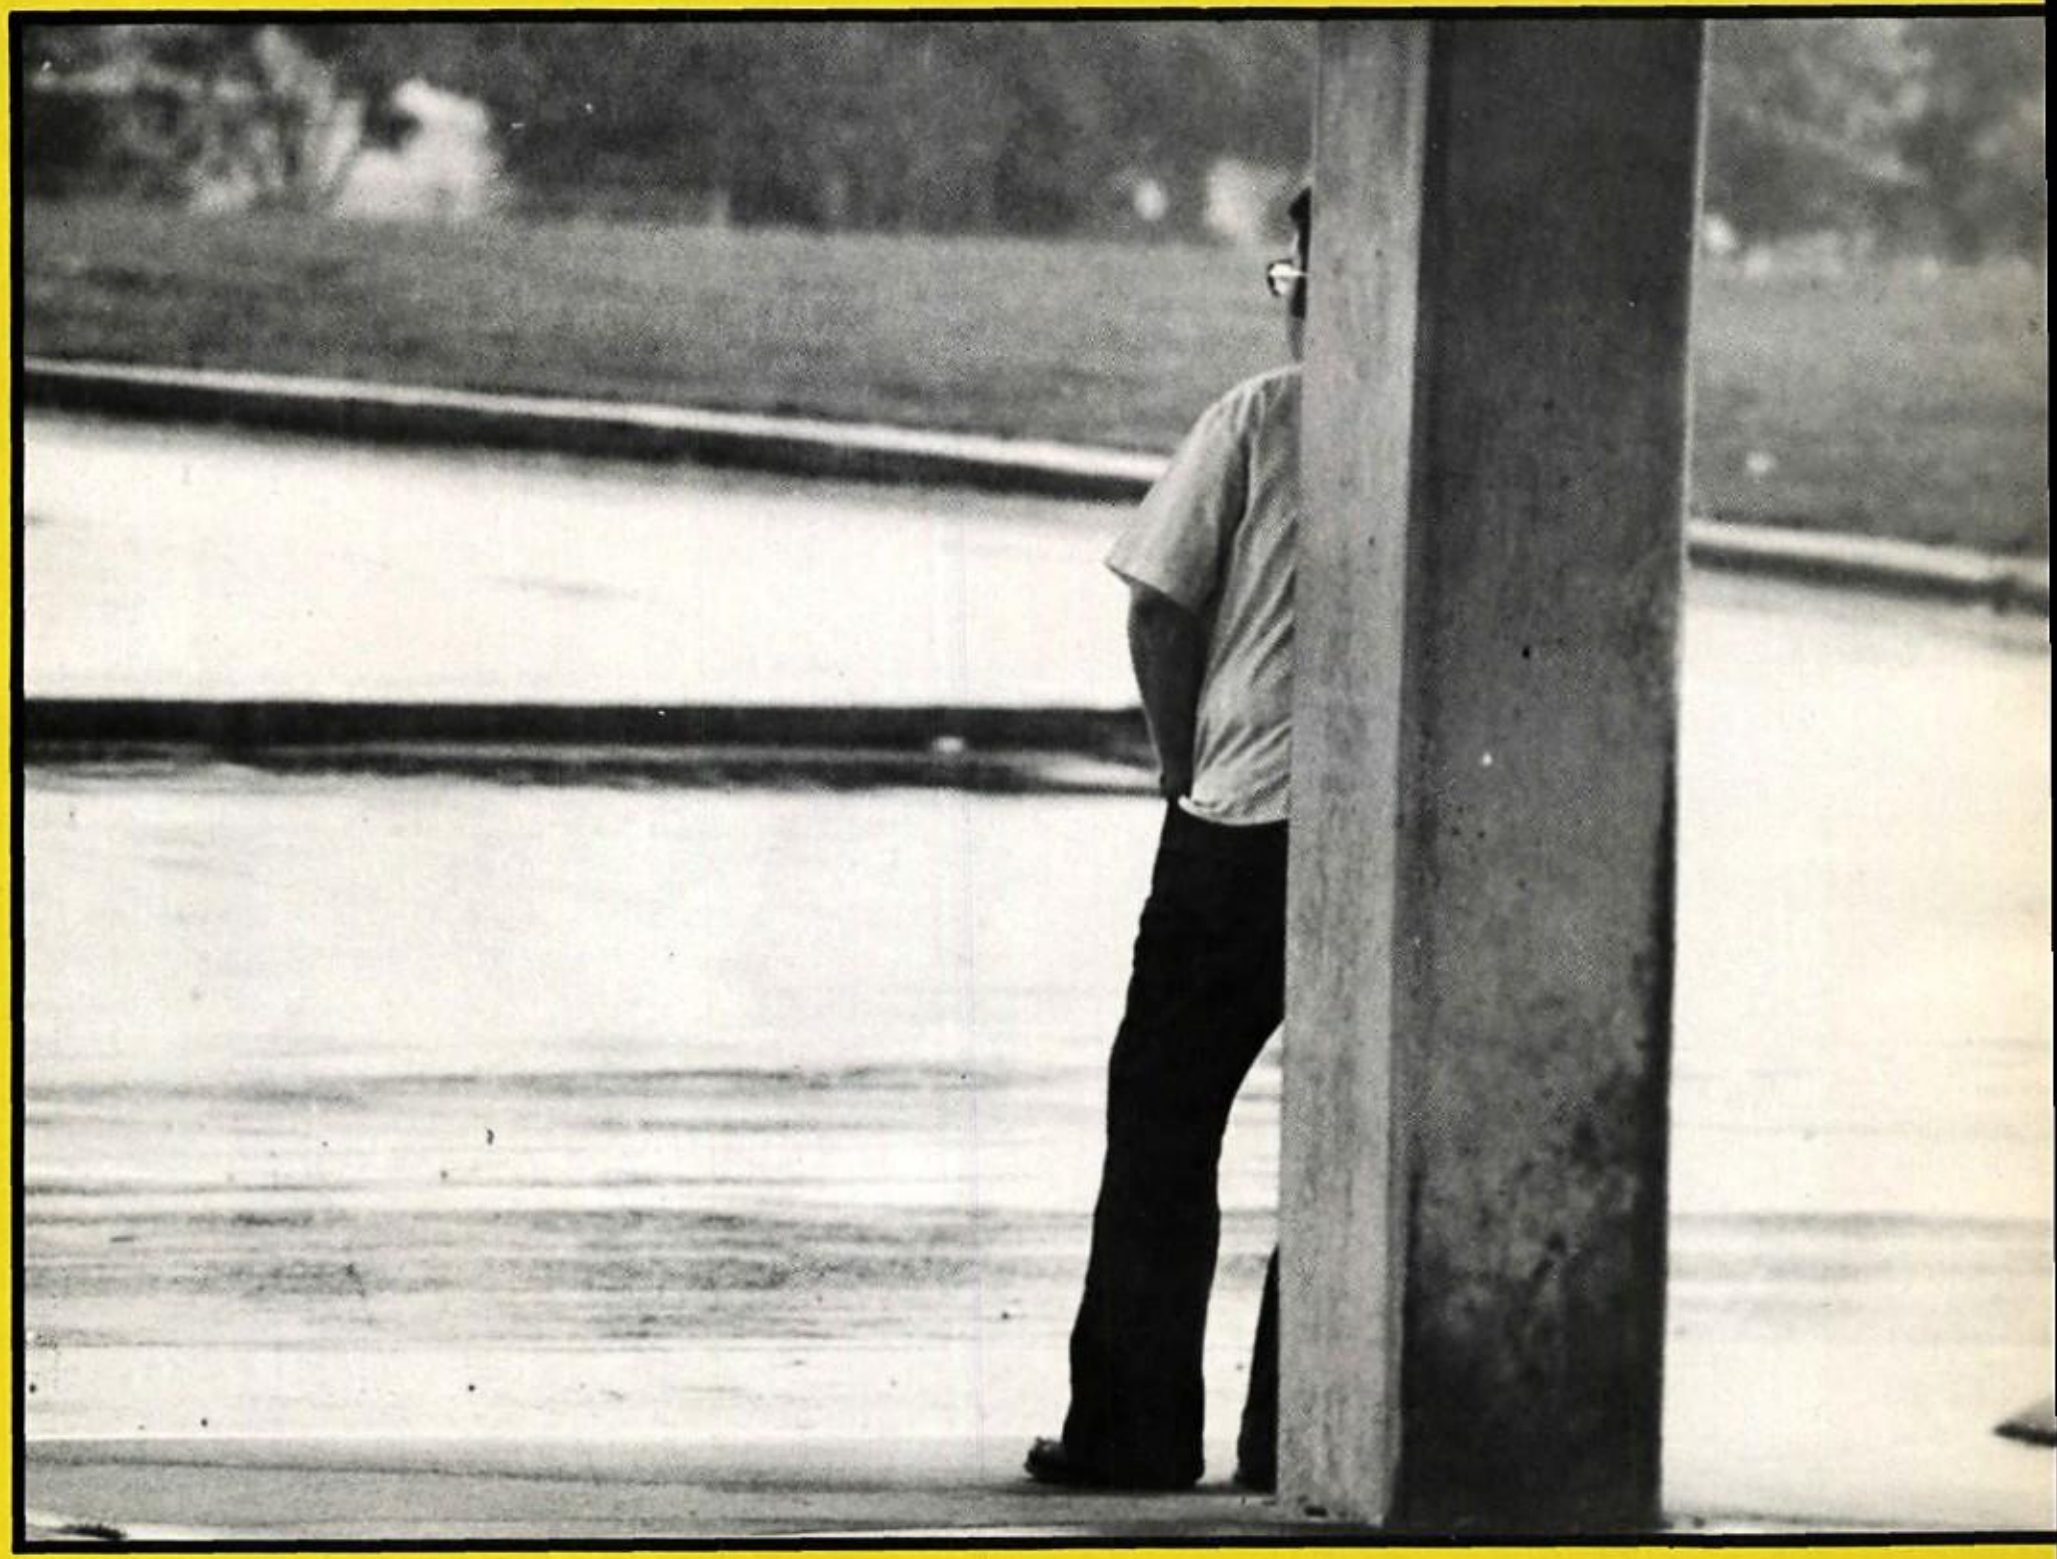
BEVERLY ENGLISH finds contentment in an odd reading spot.





ANN KLARER seems to be in a state of deep concentration. Wonder what she's thinking about?

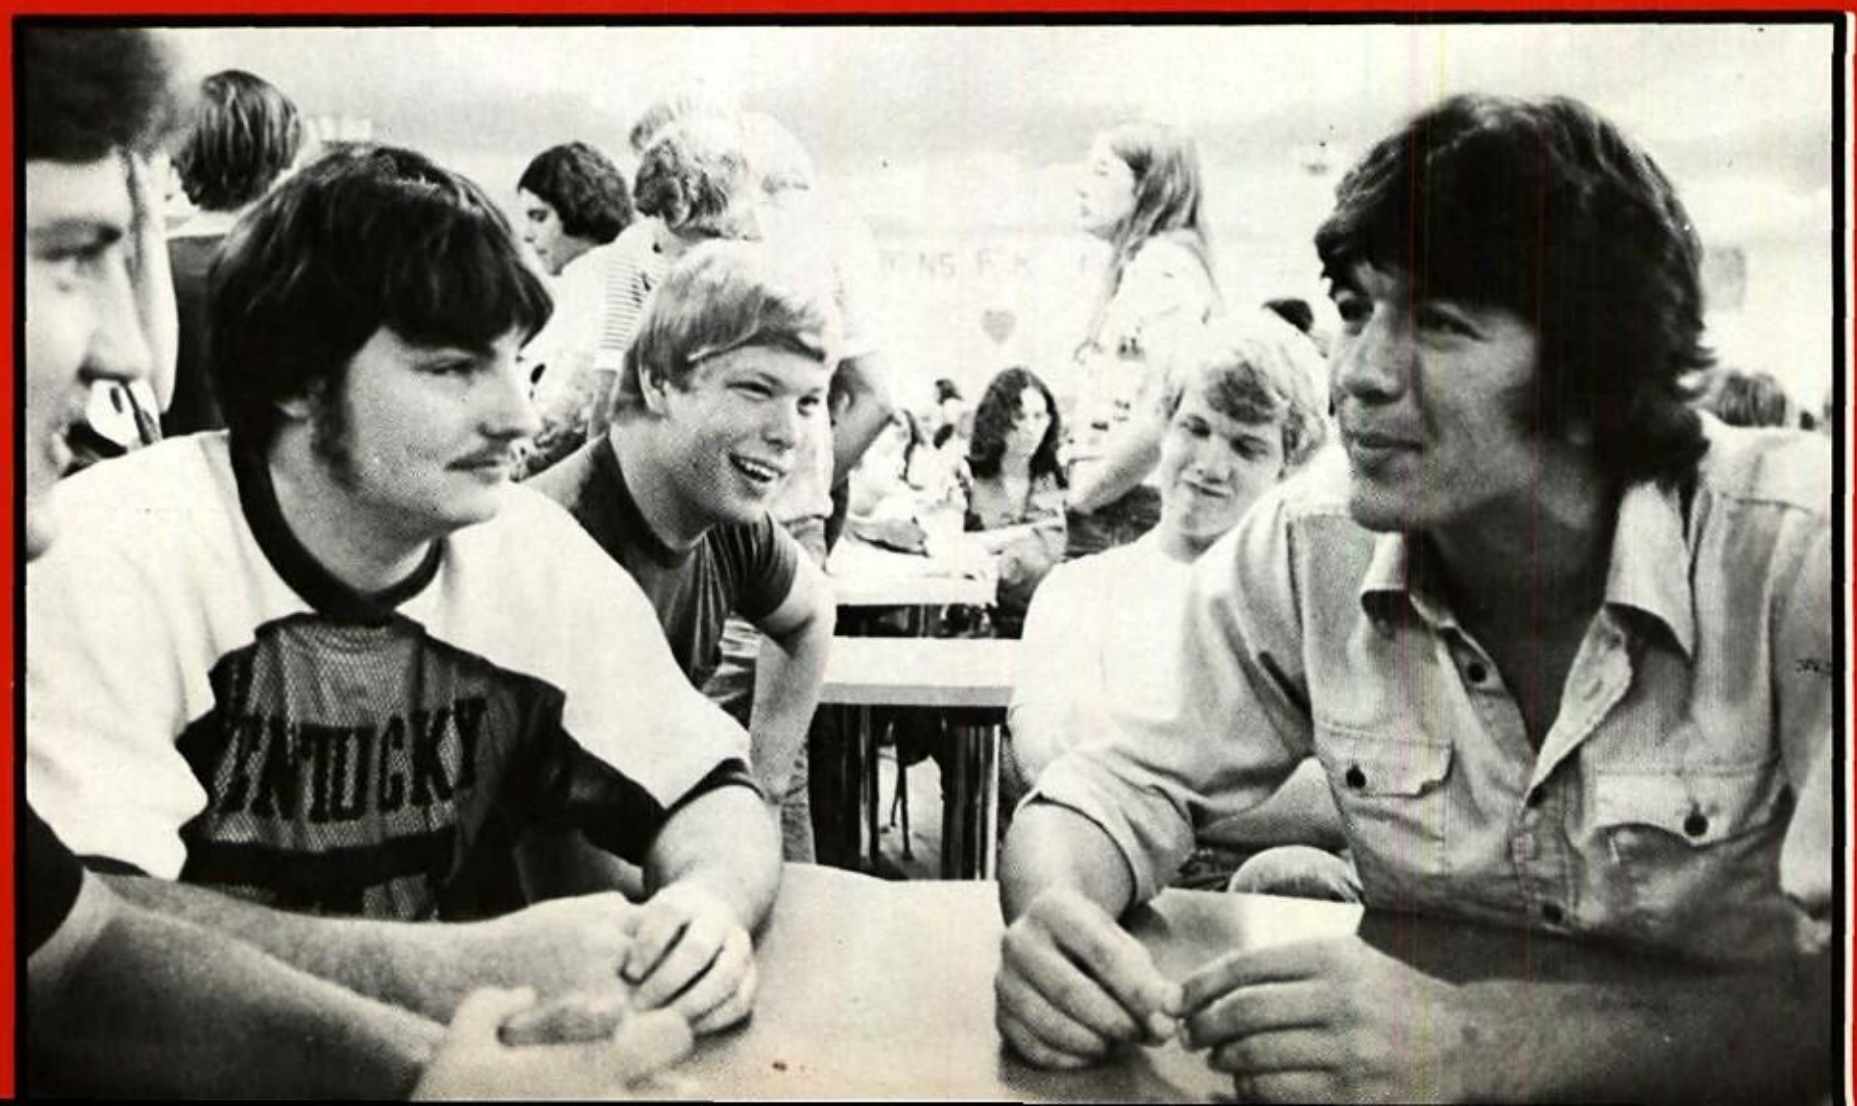
On a rainy day STEVE ROCHELLE thinks without disturbance.



After a long, hectic day, LORI STORY still has the courage to smile.

The Monday Blahs are forgotten by CHUCK SMITH, JIMMY STEWART, TONY SAUER, KEVIN POTTS, and JAY TRAUTWEIN with a discussion of the week-end past.

A YEAR OF LAUGHTER . . . The role of laughter is a vital one at J'town High School. Laughter momentarily alleviates the tensions of study and the pressures of competition. It brightens the mood of each person involved with the high school; it also stems from an infinite variety of sources. Laughter is seen in the gaiety and animation at a lunch table surrounded by a group of friends. Laughter at J'town results from Mr. Shaw's famous impersonation of Elvis Presley or from one of Mr. Houston's favorite jokes in biology. It is the student response to the costumes worn on Groucho Day and Little Kids' Day. Laughter is inspired by the male cheerleaders at the Homecoming pep rally. Laughter is found among the students decorating doors for the Christmas door-decorating contest. Laughter is seen in the giggling in the cafeteria before school as girls talk about their dates for the weekend. Laughter results from the camaraderie between members of the Chargettes. It is found in snowball fights after school in the winter. Laughter and smiling faces can be found in the halls throughout the day. As laughter symbolizes the school's social life, the presence of laughter at J'town High School is always worth looking into . . . Check it out.



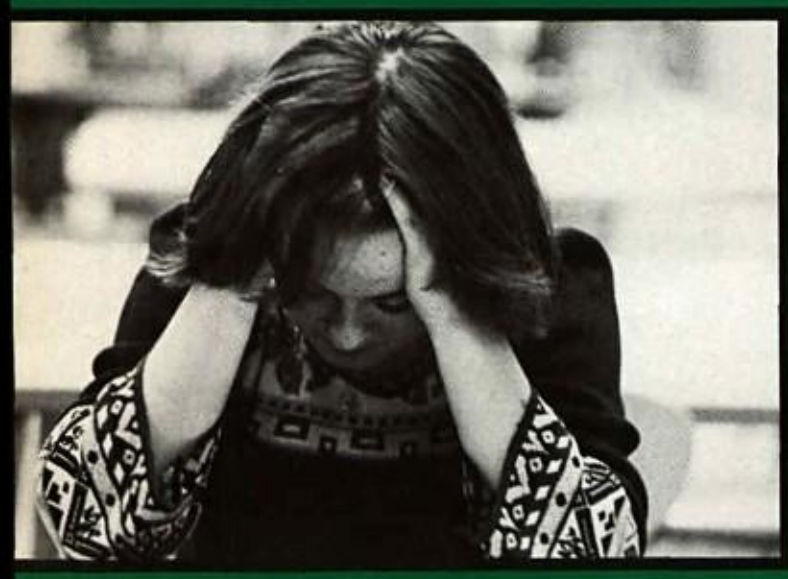
DOUG INGRAM and LORI MEHLBAUER try to get SHERRY RINEHART to ham it up for the camera.

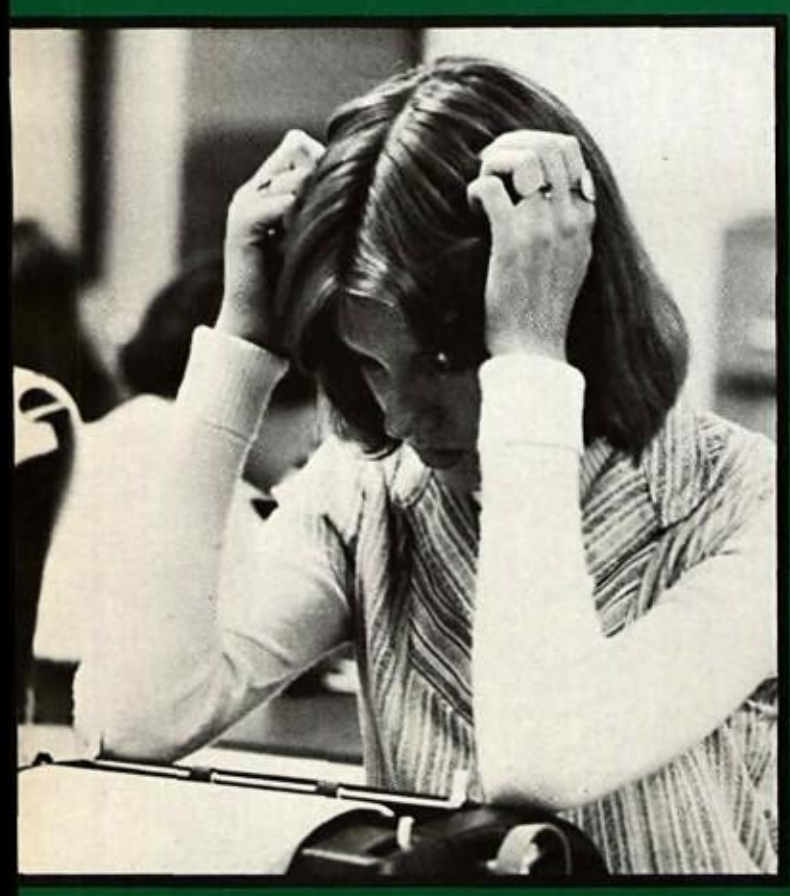
Cookies are a favorite at lunch, and RICKY WILLINGHURST doesn't have to try hard to raffle off his.

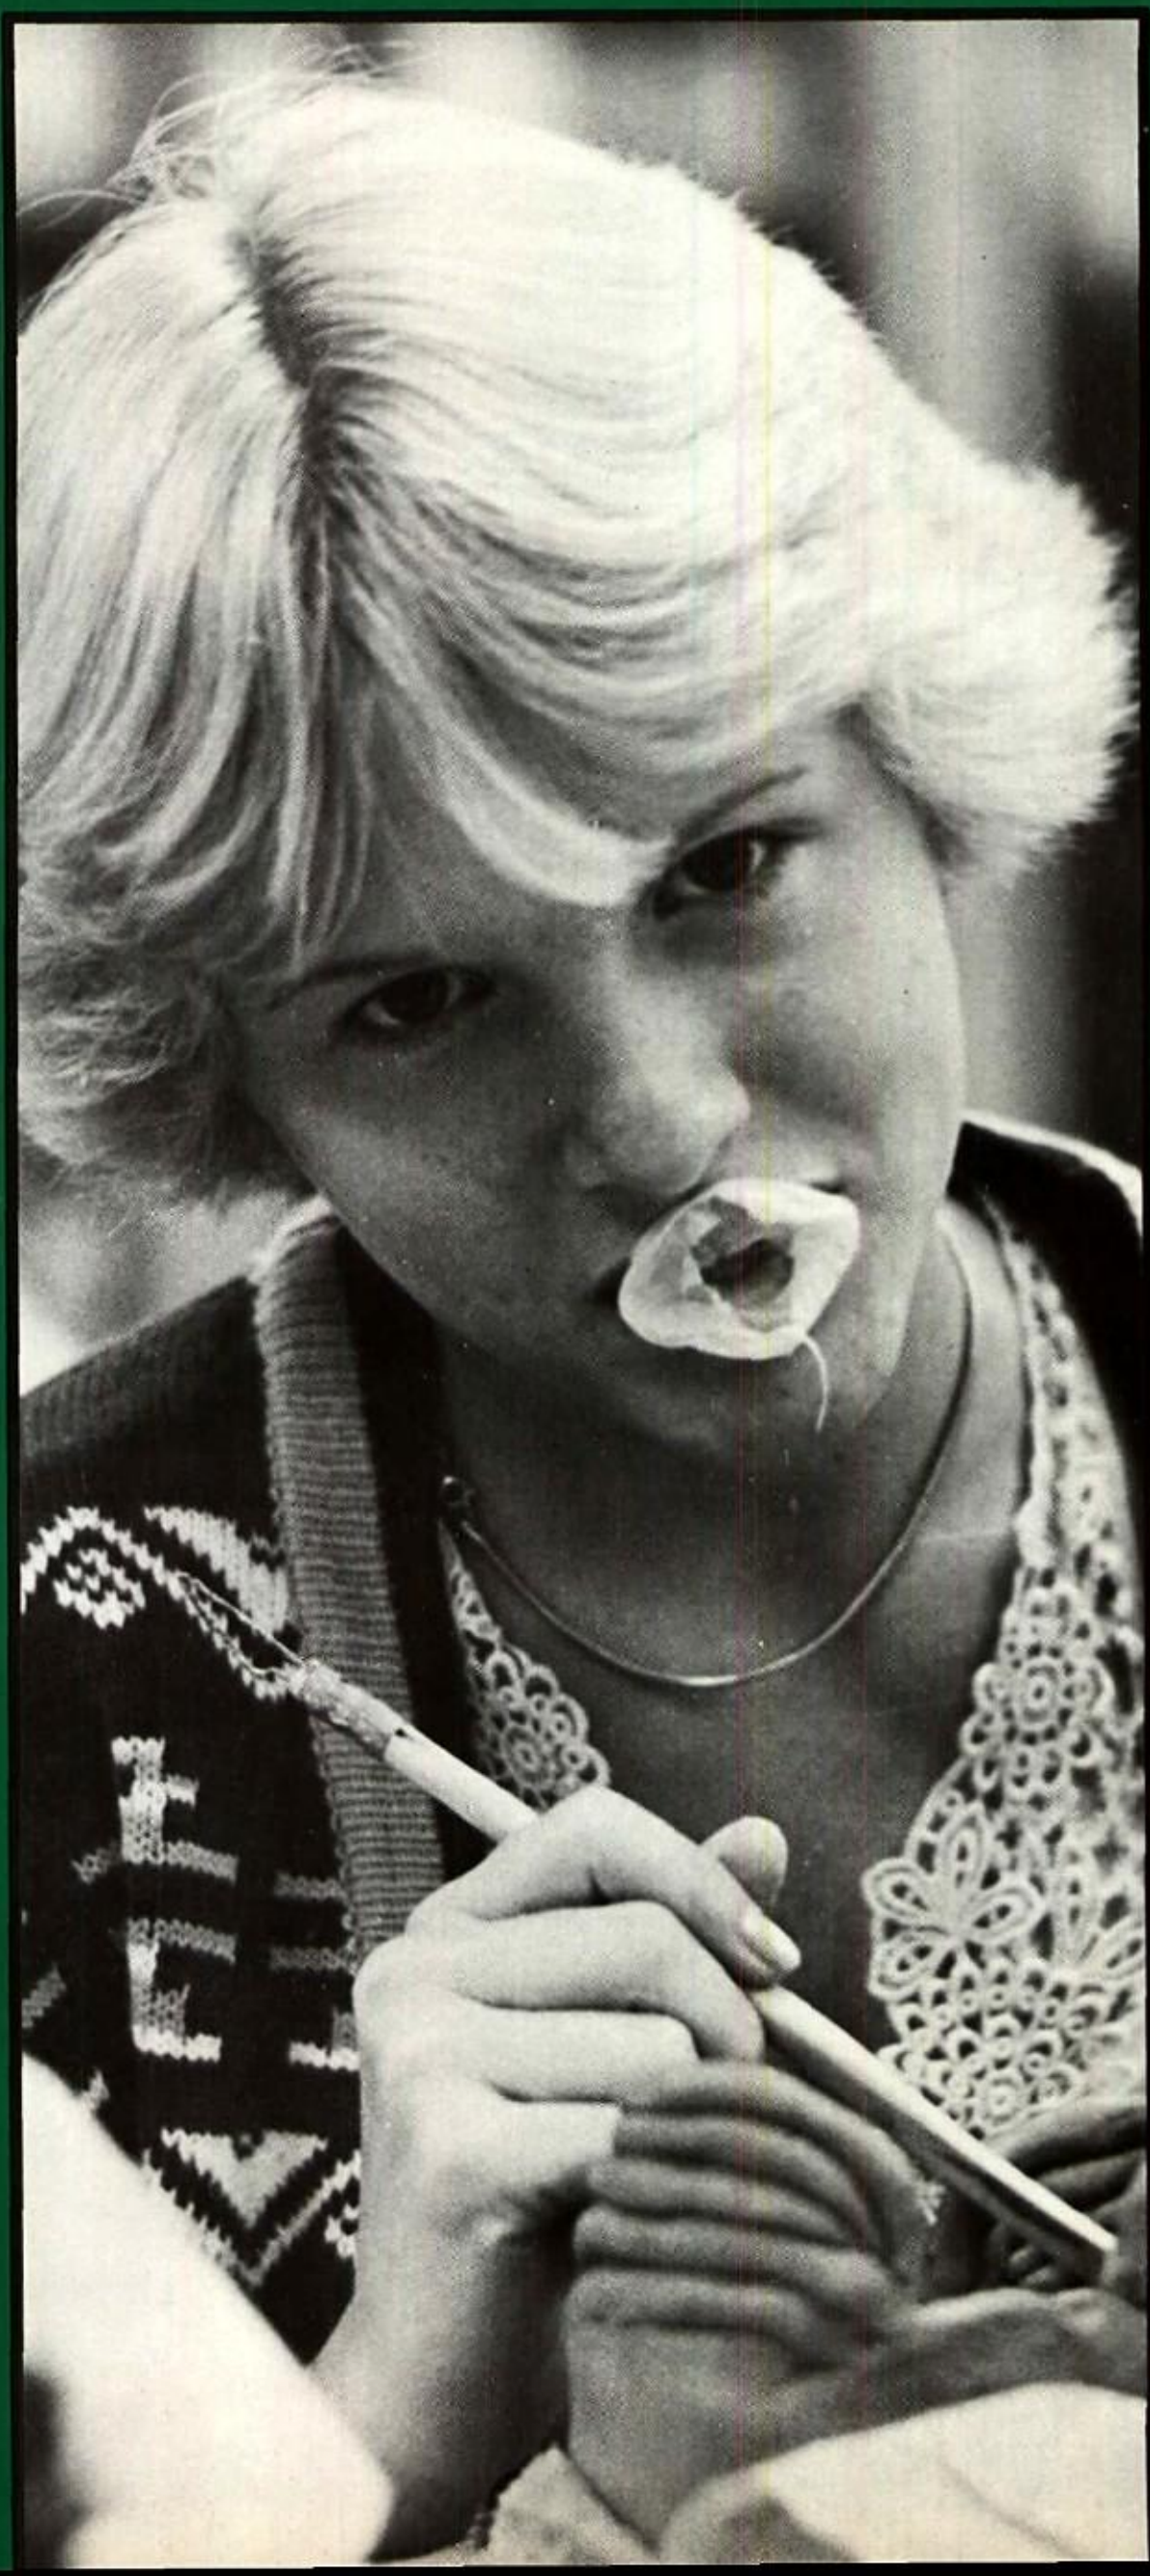
ANITA NETTER feels the agony of defeat, as her bubble bursts in her face.

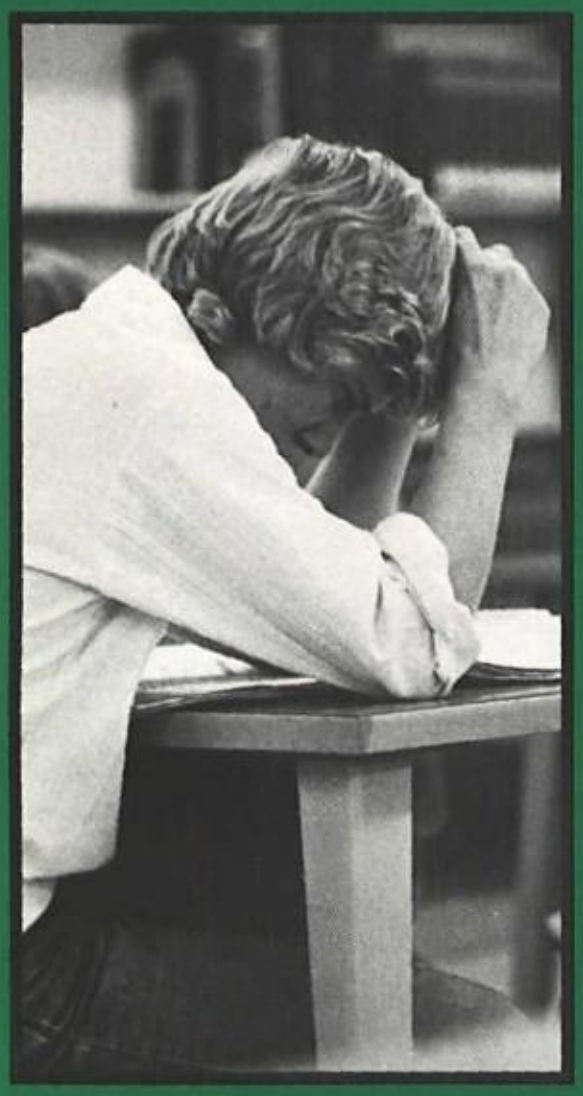
RHONDA SHARP, exhausted from research, rests her head in her hands.

LAURIE LAMB seems disgusted . . . . wondering why she can't use erasable bond paper.









A day of studying in the library leaves LANE FOOTE with Excedrin Headache Number 37.

"Say that again and you'll find the screen in your face," protests MARCIA LYNCH.

Creativity brings confusion even to an artist like LORI STORY.

A YEAR OF FRUSTRATION . . . The pinched look of frustration is a familiar sight around J'town. Puzzling over geometric proofs, memorizing Shakespearean soliloquies, and struggling with parallel forces bring a uniform look of worry to the faces of the student body. Frustration begins at J'town even before the start of classes with the loss of the first football game of the season to Manual. Frustration is standing in line at the bookstore for two hours only to discover that they are sold out of the books you need. Frustration at J'town High School is Gabriel Hernandez getting up three hours too late to take the PSAT test. It is the annual staff working feverishly to meet the first deadline. It is having one more essay question to answer with only thirty seconds remaining until the bell. Frustration is having a wreck in driver's ed or discovering that your locker is jammed when you are already late for class. It is having Coach Leasor confiscate your football uniform or sitting in the wrong class the whole period without realizing it. Frustration at J'town is Mr. Wolpert's physics tests or the doll in chemistry who won't give you the time of day. Regardless of its cause, J'town's constant state of frustration is definitely worth checking out.

OR TREASURED FRIEND-SHIPS?

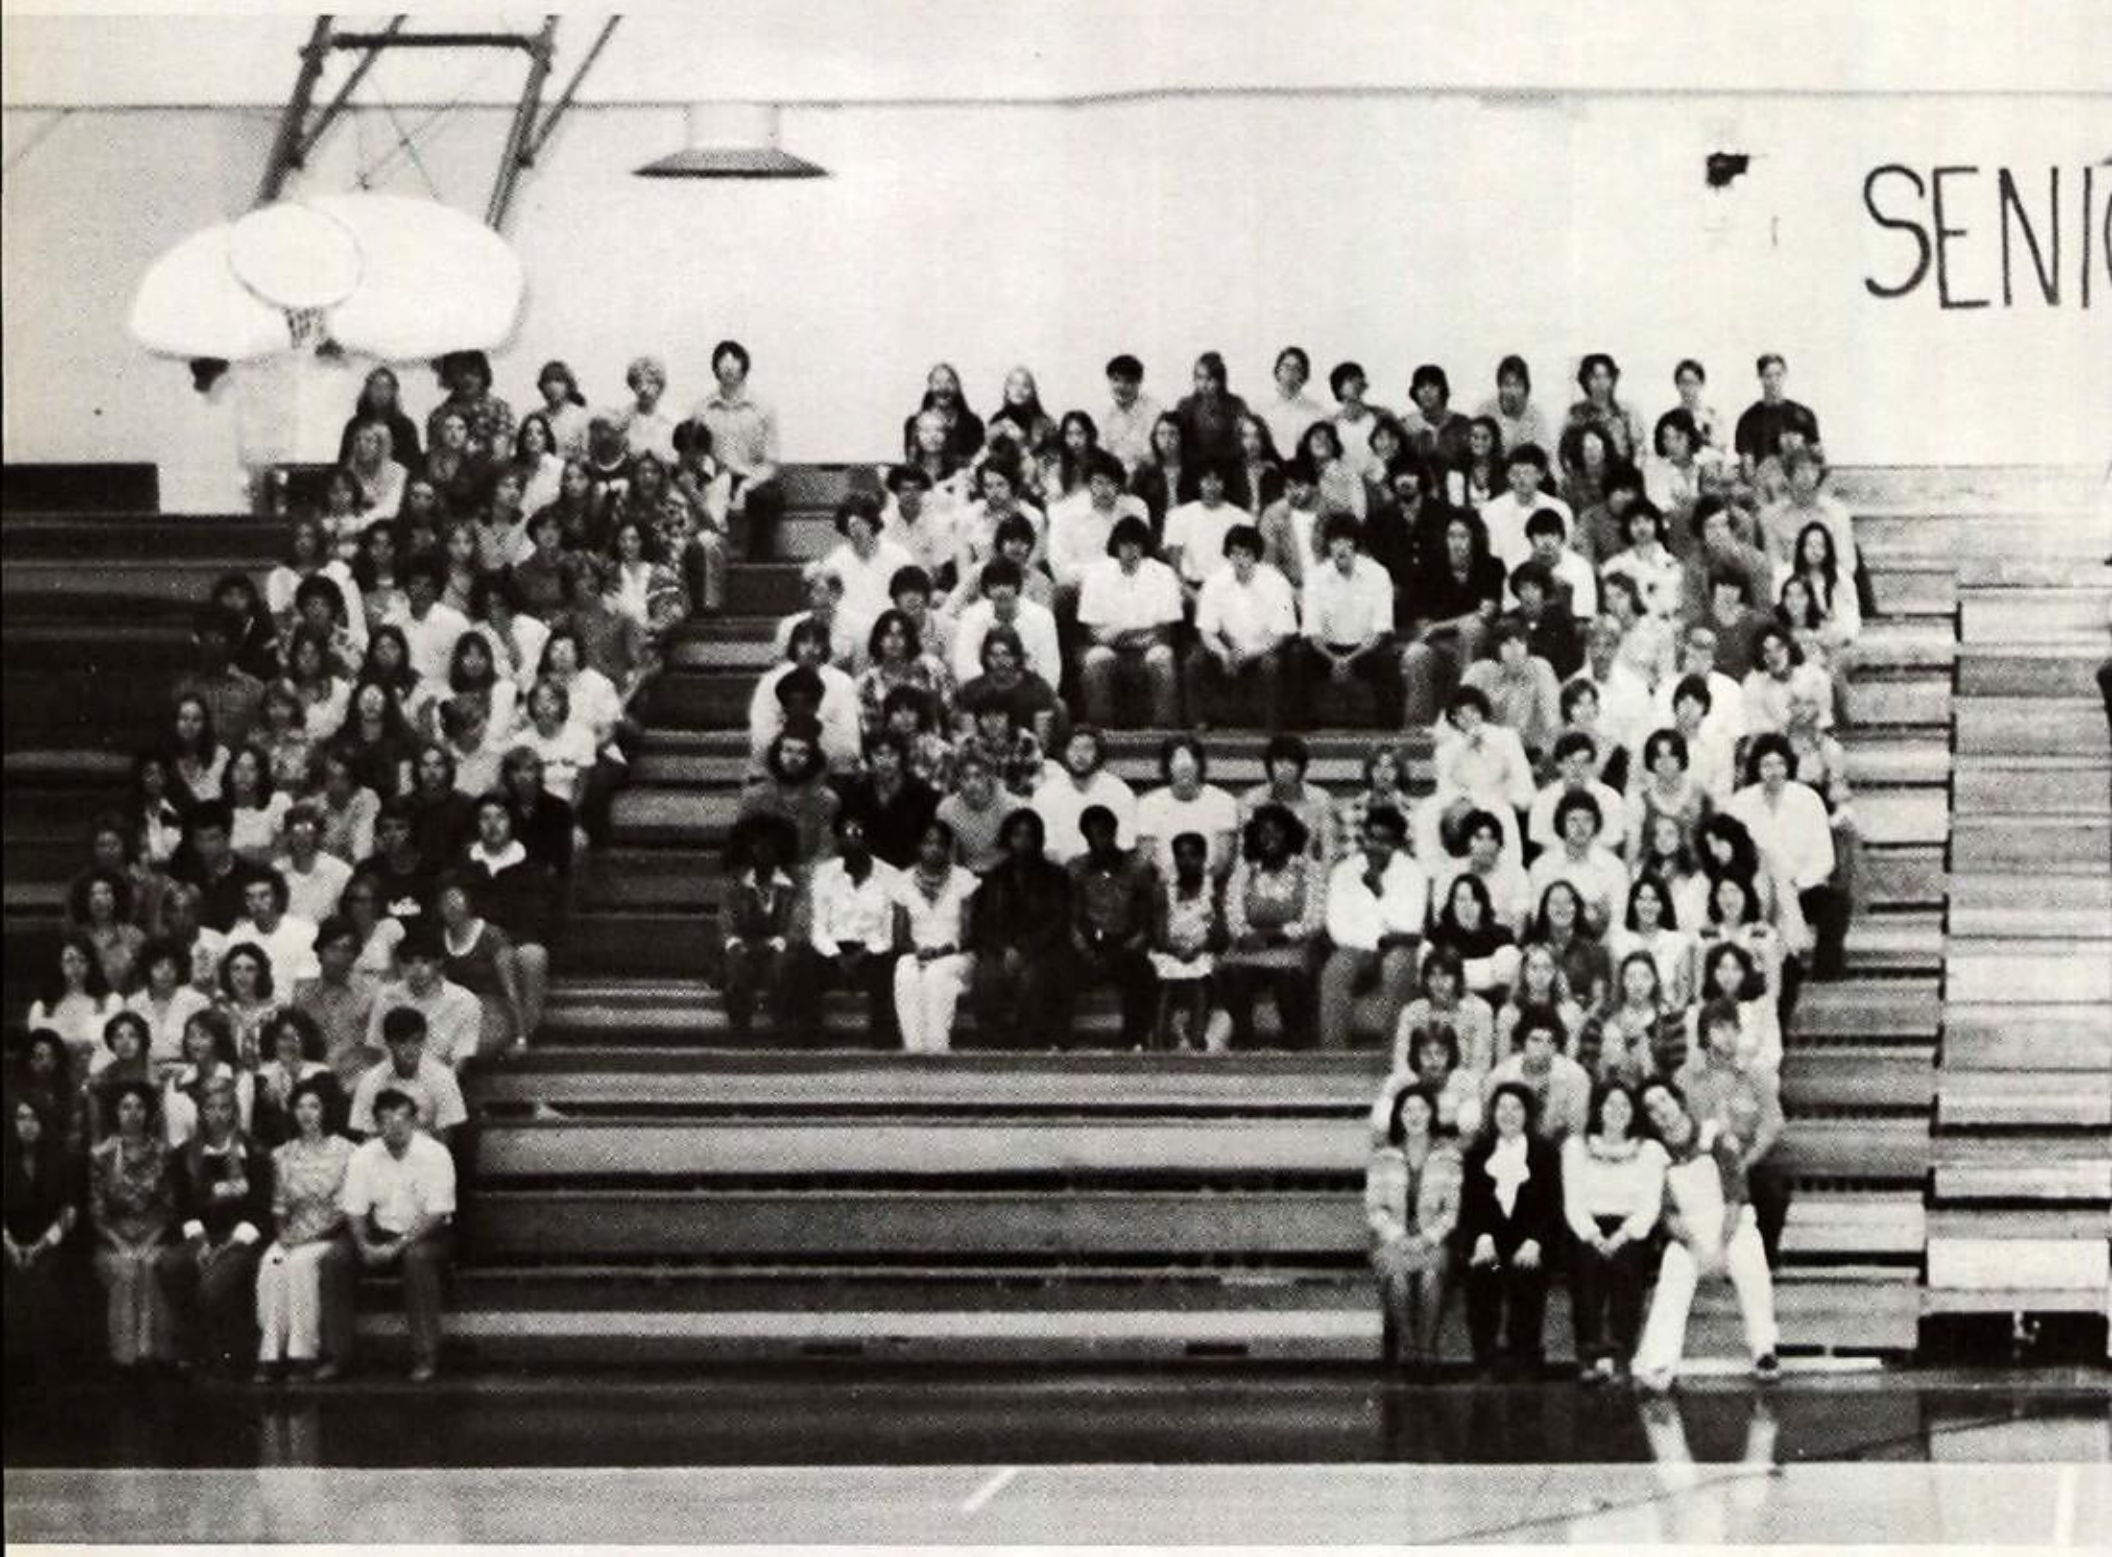
Lower left: CASEY HAHN says to MARK KMIEC, "Be a good friend and twist my ring."

As DONNA McGUIRE and JULIE ZOELLER always say, "A friend in need is a friend indeed."

For some undetermined reason, as Seniors we became more conscious of ourselves and of each other. Realizing that this was our last year of picnics and plays, football games and club meetings, and of just being together, we became more tolerant of each other. We learned to accept our classmates for themselves. Such traditional activities as the Senior Play, the prom, and graduation seemed vastly important, because they were our own. We discovered the true meanings of togetherness, sincerity, and treasured friendships, for we realized that our Senior year might be our last opportunity to encounter such cherished experiences. This is what makes the Class of '77.

THE CLASS

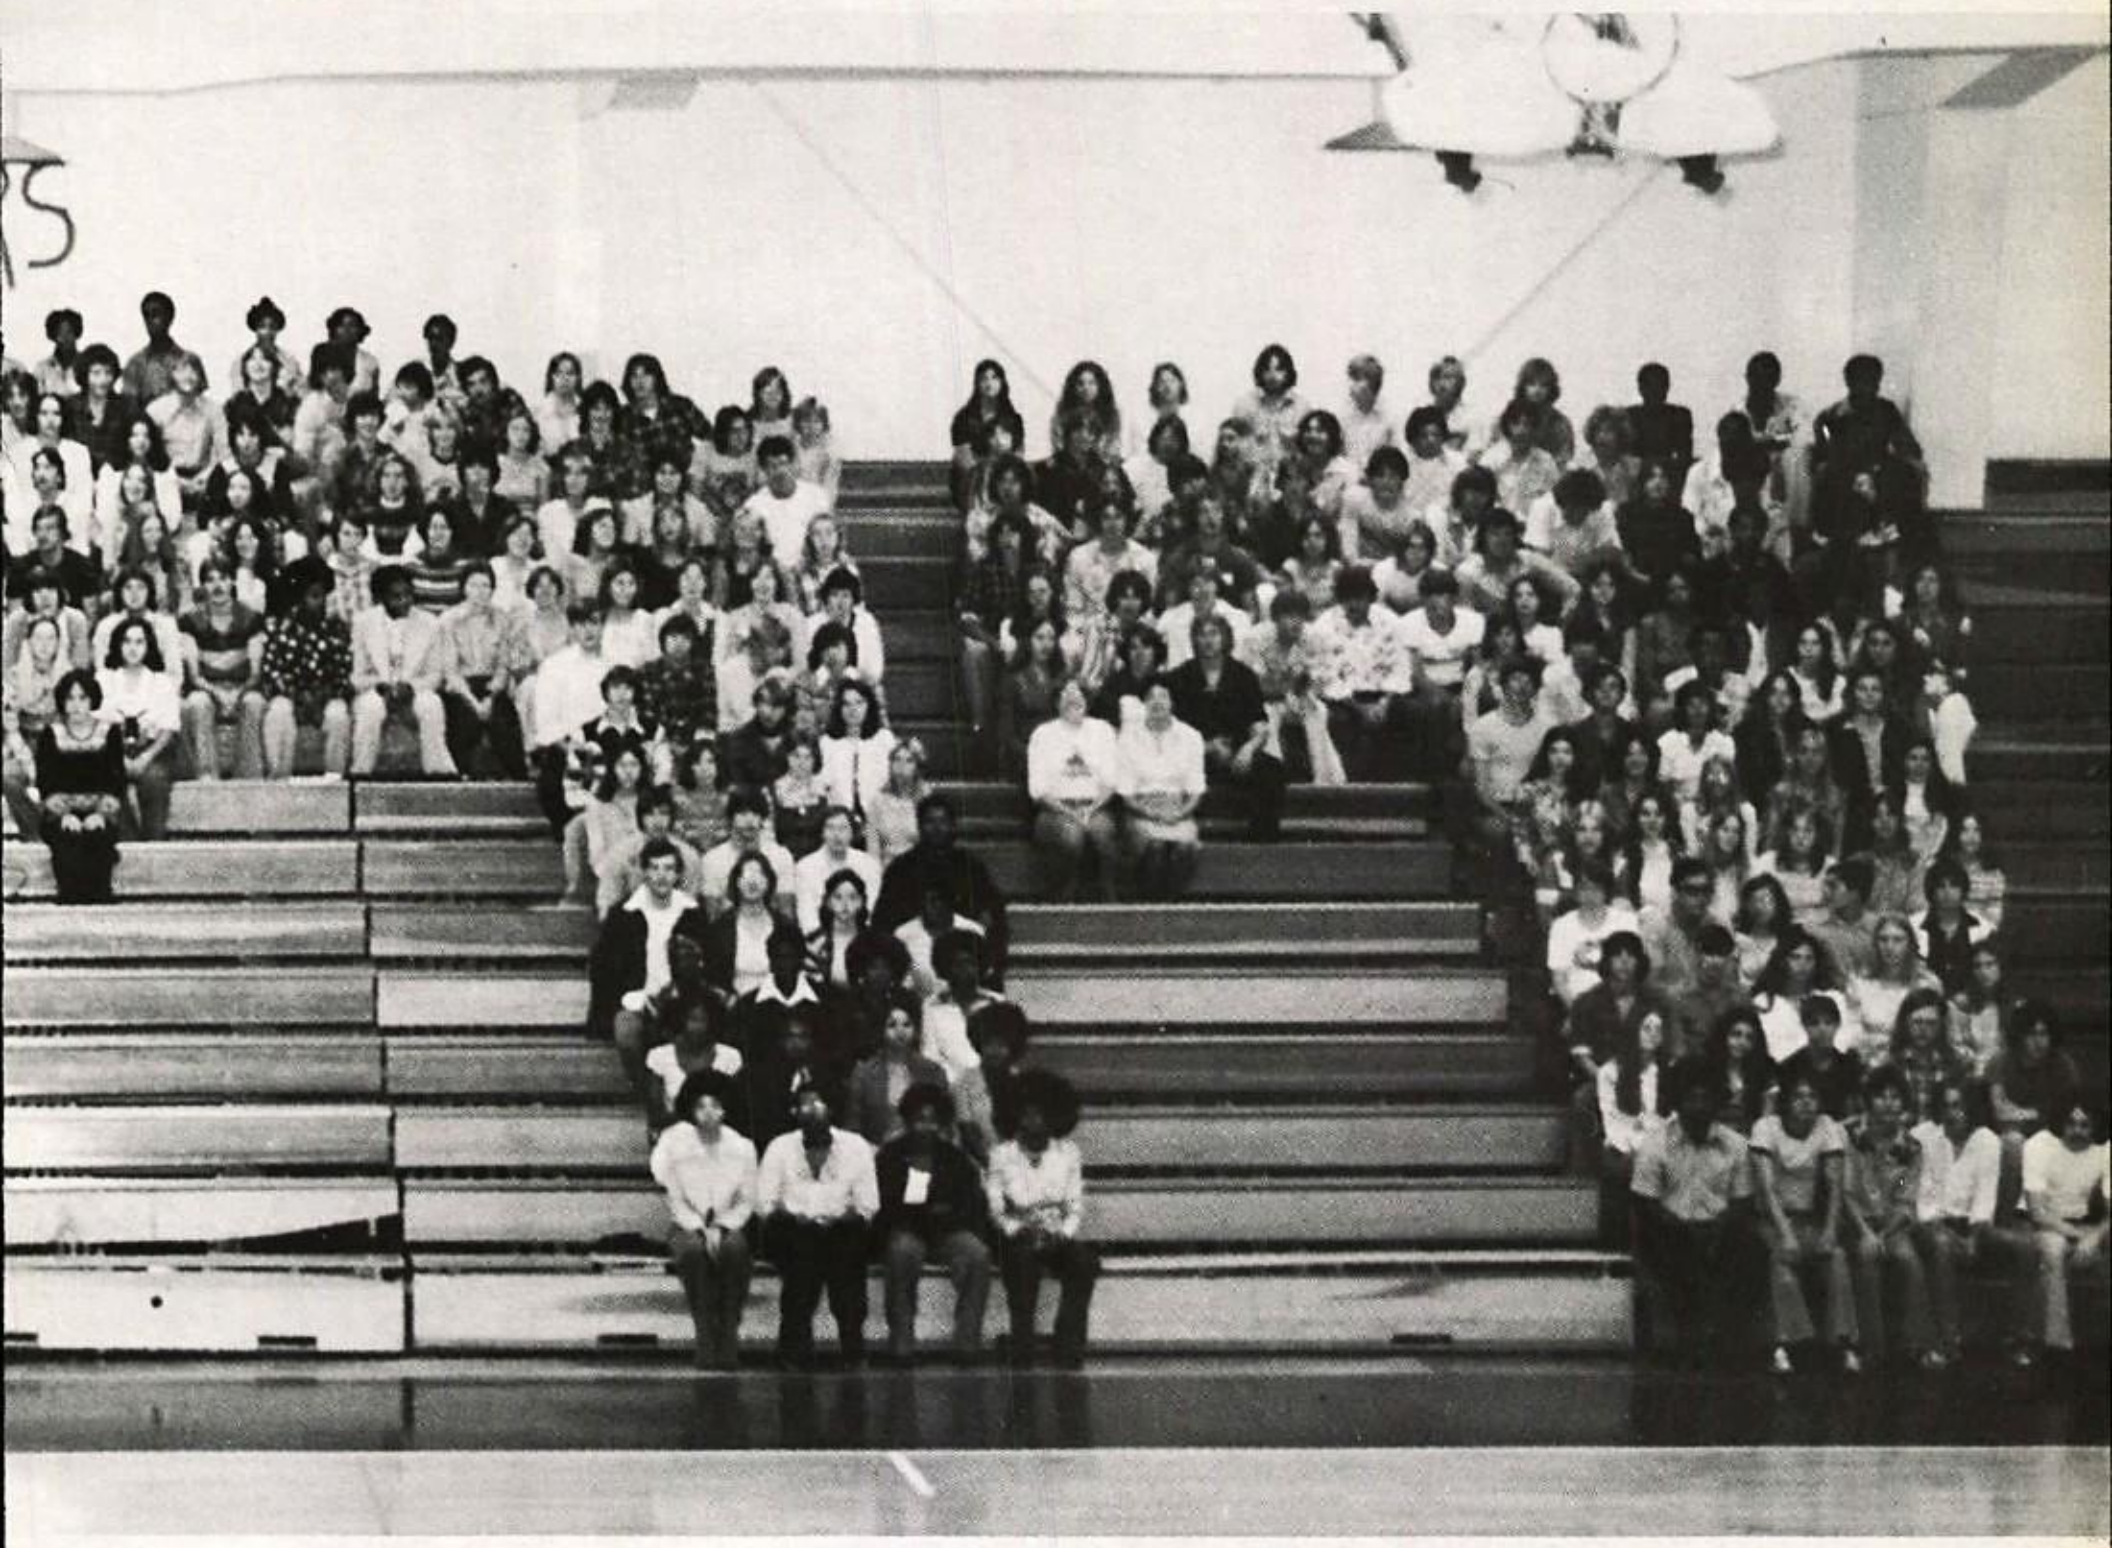


Four years ago we began our life at Jeffersontown High School as Freshmen. Each of us had many dreams and hopes of a school life that would remain in our memories forever. We began as the "kids," the youngest of the Senior High classes. We struggled and gained ground. Finally, we reached the goal of our Freshman year: We became Sophomores.

As Sophomores, we were older and wiser, and we had to learn to cope with the experiences which these changes brought. With this year came our first class-sponsored dance, the 1975 Basketball Homecoming Dance. It was our 50's dance and our first taste of being successful as a class, rather than merely as individuals.

Our Junior year brought changes to each member of the class and to the class as a whole. We were beginning to work together as one body instead of as four hundred bodies pulling in different directions. During our third year of high school, we sponsored the 1976 Sadie Hawkins Dance. The success of this class activity increased our feelings of class unity. Our tide of success continued with the victory of the Class of '77 in the Boys' Class Basketball Tournament. The spring of 1976 brought our class picnic, Junior Class Breakfast, and the culmination of our Junior year, the Ring Ceremony. With these events, the Class of '77 reached its state of total unity. We had come to realize the importance of togetherness.

OF ...



Our Senior year, with all of its joys and responsibilities, finally arrived. We once again sponsored a successful dance, the 1976 Football Homecoming Dance. The pep rally for the homecoming game revealed the tremendous school spirit of the Class of '77. The Senior Class won all three spirit trophies: the spirit stick, the spirit link contest, and the ticket-sales award. Our Senior Play proved to be another triumph for the Class of '77. With the help and talents of Mrs. Rose, we were able to produce not only the first musical Senior Play at J'town, but also the best Senior Play in the history of the school. Our prom, banquet, and Senior Breakfast were well worth the numerous hours spent in their preparation. They were all events of which the class can be proud. The 1977 CHARGER was the most original and meritorious volume created by any Jeffersontown High Annual Staff. Without the ingenuity and cooperation of the ten Seniors on the 1977 Annual Staff, the high quality of the annual could not have been reached.

The goal of our twelve years of school has now been reached; we have finally graduated. Our school life at J'town is over, and all of our activities and accomplishments are now merely thoughts and memories. As we look back on our years at J'town, we will regard them with fondness and warmth. The Class of '77 has grown together, and we will remain together in friendship and in spirit.

William R. Craigmyle, Principal

Jeffersontown High School has as its major concern "discipline of the mind." Through the curriculum offerings, the school has tried to develop and preserve the kind of environment conducive to each student's highest development. Opportunities that meet the interests and needs of the entire student body are constantly evaluated. Instilling an abiding faith and trust in education as a means of improving the future of each person is uppermost in the minds of teachers and the administrative staff. Desirable attitudes for learning and an understanding of the learning processes are seeds to be sown and hopefully cultivated in all students.

You, as students of Jeffersontown, are the evaluators of our efforts as you participate in these efforts and as you graduate and seek to accomplish your goals.

I, as principal of Jeffersontown High School, sincerely wish each of you success and happiness during your days here and as you leave us after graduation. Your support of education is needed both now and in the future if all of us together hope to preserve quality education.

W Craigmyle

Wearing his spirit badge and J'town jacket, MR. CRAIGMYLE is in full swing during a pep rally.

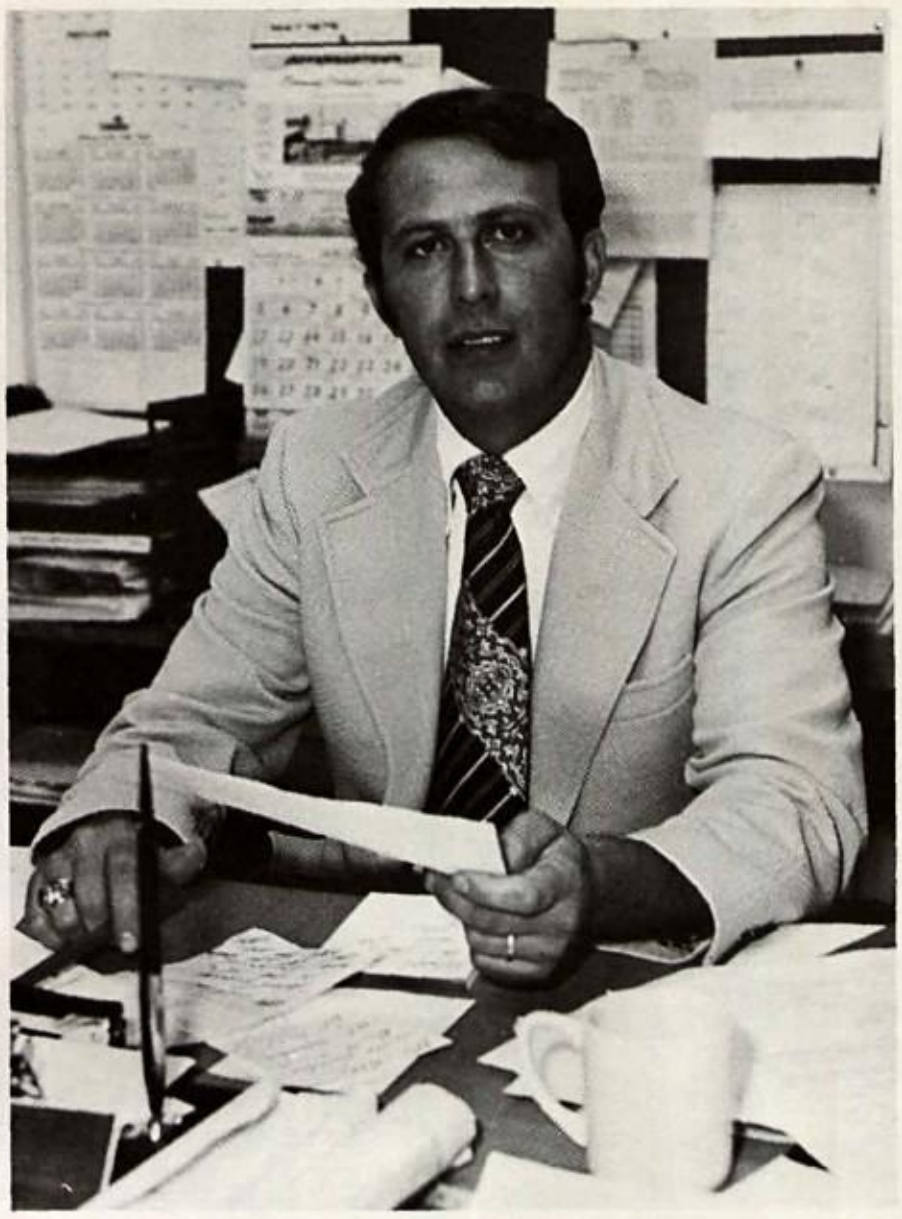
Assistant Principals Supervise Students and Faculty

The assistant principals at Jeffersontown are among the finest anywhere. Putting in many long hours of hard work each day are Mr. Sexton and Mr. Mathison of the Senior High and Mr. Hoffman of the Junior High.

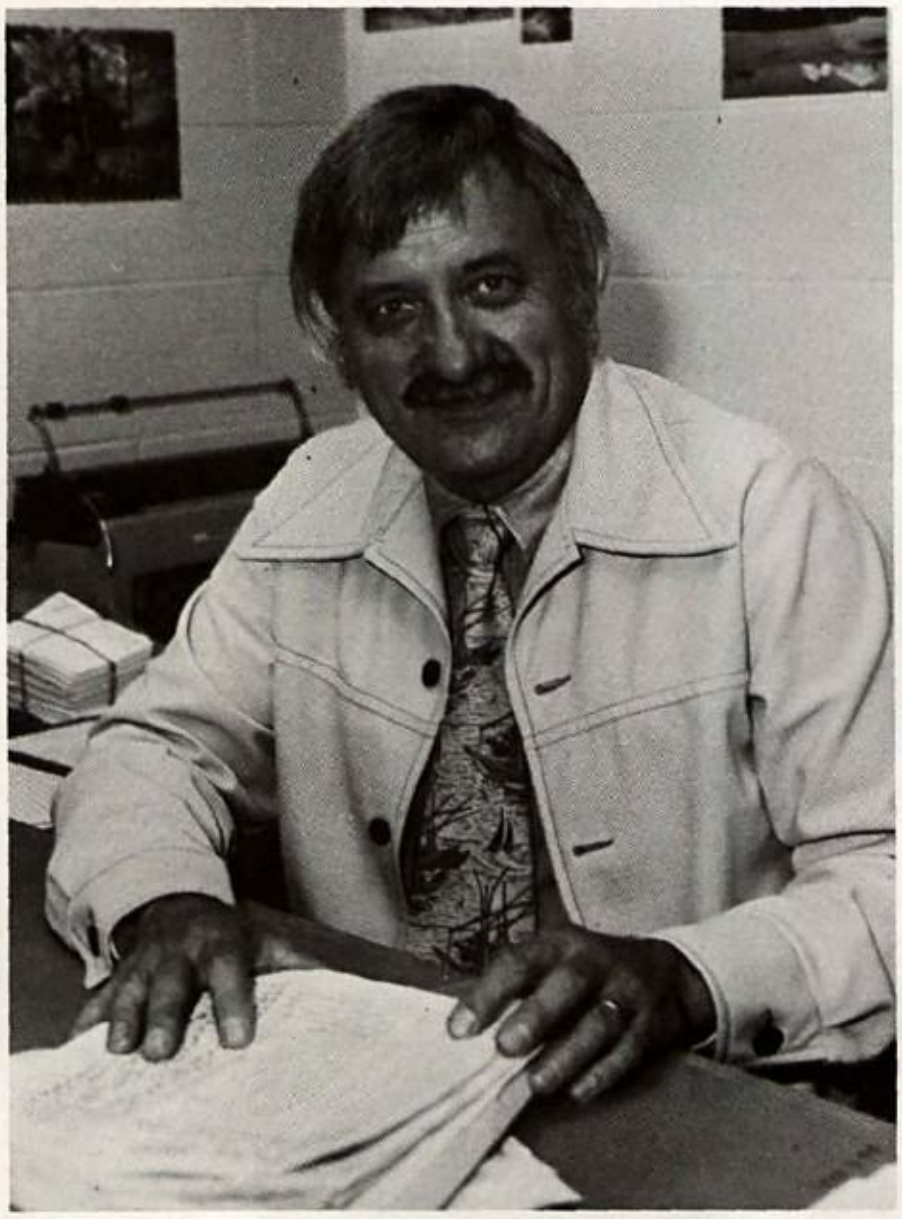
Mr. Sexton is responsible for such complex areas of school administration as computer master scheduling, grade reporting, and attendance. In addition to all of this, he handles the disciplinary actions affecting Juniors and Seniors. Working with Mr. Sexton is Mr. Mathison, who is in charge of transportation and school activities. In this capacity, he provides an important service to many students. All Sophomore disciplinary actions are handled by Mr. Mathison.

Although the Junior High is always stereotyped as small, it nevertheless is one of the bigger jobs to be taken care of at J'town, and Mr. Hoffman seems to handle it with confidence and ease. He is in charge of all areas of administration relating to the Junior High, as well as handling all disciplinary actions relating to seventh, eighth, and ninth graders.

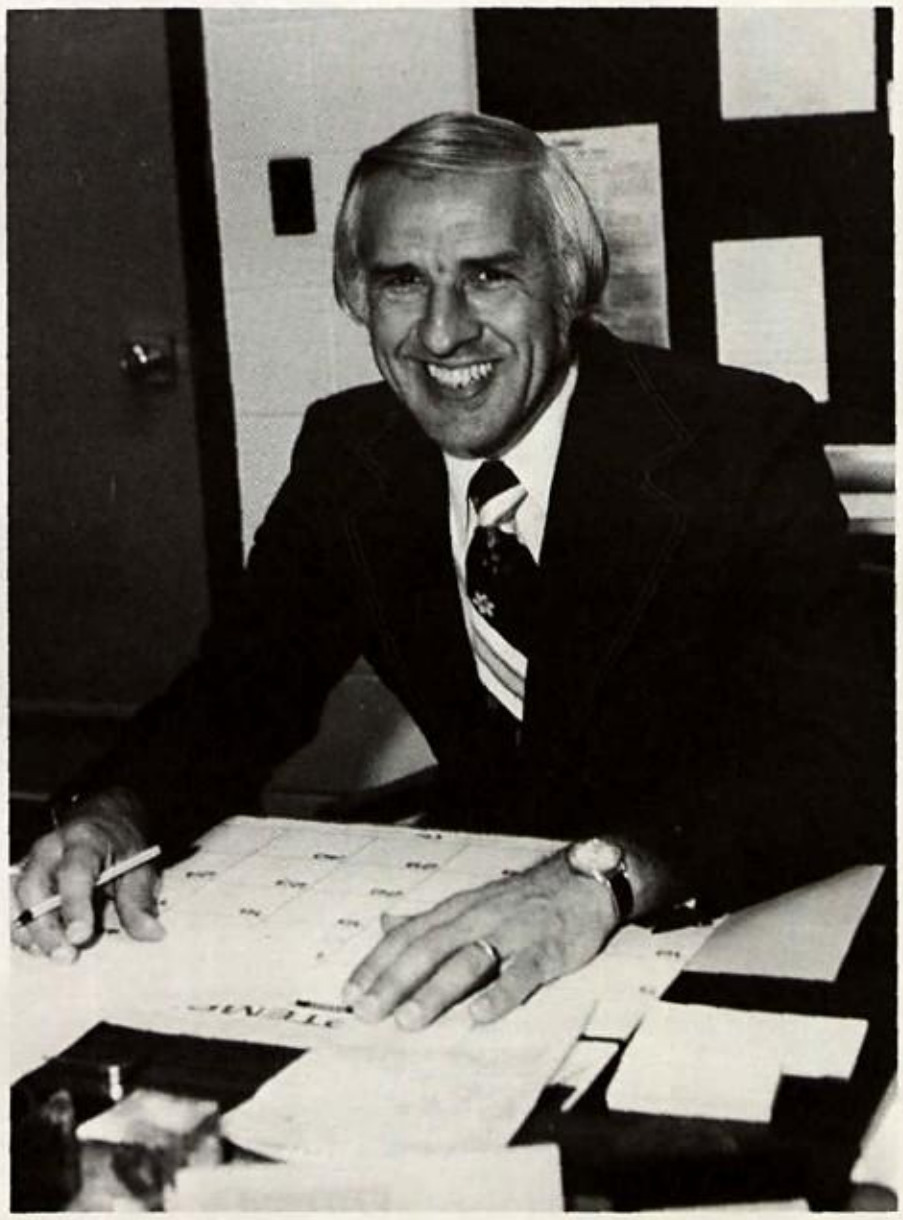
Each of these three gentlemen offers unique qualities of leadership to our school, and each deserves our sincere thanks and wholehearted support.



JAMES A. SEXTON, Senior High



CHARLES MATHISON, Senior High



VIRGIL HOFFMAN, Junior High

Counselors Offer Planning and Advice

The counselors at J'town help us in many ways. Whenever a student has a problem, whether it be major or trivial, our counselors can always be counted on to help in any way they can. In the lower grades, they try to help students plan their schedules; as we move up, they keep us informed on such subjects as scholarships, vocational opportunities, and colleges. Through it all, they still have time for a smile, an encouraging word, or an affectionate pat on the back.

Mr. Russell, our instructional coordinator, works with the entire faculty to insure that every possible avenue is pursued to carry out effective teaching. To all of these friends we say "Thanks."

ELAINE HAYES makes use of MISS WEBER'S counseling services.

MICHAEL COLLIER gets an admission slip from MRS. FRANKLIN so that he won't be counted tardy to his next class.

CHRIS DUKE receives scheduling information from MISS PECK.

FACULTY

Office Staff, T.V. Aides, and Bookstore Manager Serve Faculty and Students Alike

M. Garrett, D. Smith, J. Spencer
Library Aides

These ladies render an invaluable service to students and faculty members alike. It is impossible to list all that they do and equally impossible to adequately thank them for their help. We will simply say "Thanks," especially for your ever-present smile!

S. Floor, M. MacLeod
Jr. High Office Staff

P. Brumley, P. Hall
Sr. High TV Aides

Sr. High Office Staff

Essential Personnel Provide Needed Services

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Gladys Markwell, the lunchroom staff provides us daily with excellent meals. It is not surprising then that our lunch lines are so long! Not only do we have a wide variety of foods, but each dish is perfectly seasoned — almost as good as "home cooking."

Mrs. Evelyn Williams manages the bookstore here at J'town. She helps students obtain their books and school supplies daily. She stays busy all the time, but especially so at the beginning and end of school. Her excellent method of managing the bookstore makes school life much easier for the students.

The custodial staff at J'town is among the finest anywhere. No one will ever see a dusty locker top, a dirty floor, or a messy classroom, because the custodians work hard all day, from early in the morning until late at night.

The two security guards at J'town, Jim Ernst and George Skinner, are both big favorites with the students. They relate well to the students, as well as to the faculty and the administration. Their jobs are essential to maintaining school order and discipline.

To all of these people we owe a great debt of gratitude, because they unselfishly give of themselves to make life at J'town more comfortable and safe for all of us.

1st Row — M. Wheler, M. Charles, G. Markwell, N. Sutherland, R. Butler. 2nd Row — M. Parker, R. Faszold, J. Otto, D. Gimbel, M. Eisenback, W. Ford, D. Helm. 3rd Row — E. Brinley, N. Conrad, C. Rogers, B. Story, G. Brooks, L. Fox, E. Smith, M. Smith.

Hope she didn't see me drop that spoon again!

Mrs. Williams renders an invaluable service, and always with a smile.

Mrs. Bryant prepares to serve everyone's favorite — Pizza!

Above: Security guard GEORGE SKINNER points to TONY ERNSPIKER, MARY HUME, and MARJORIE LONG as the culprits. This was a posed picture, right? Right!

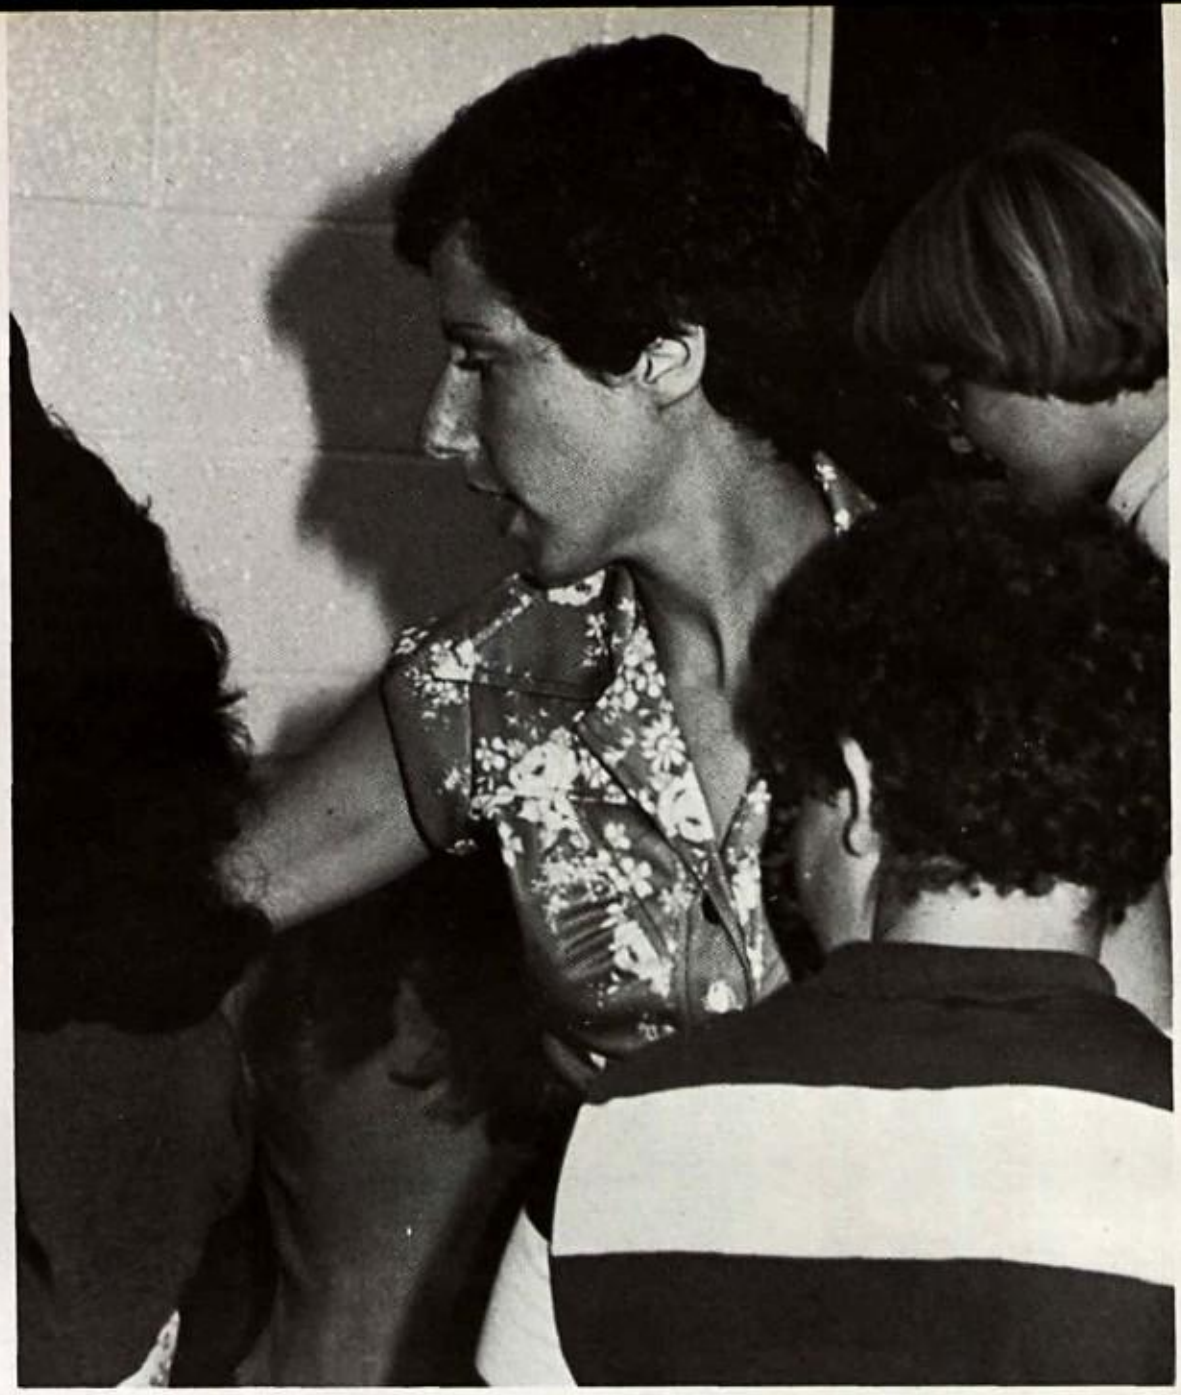
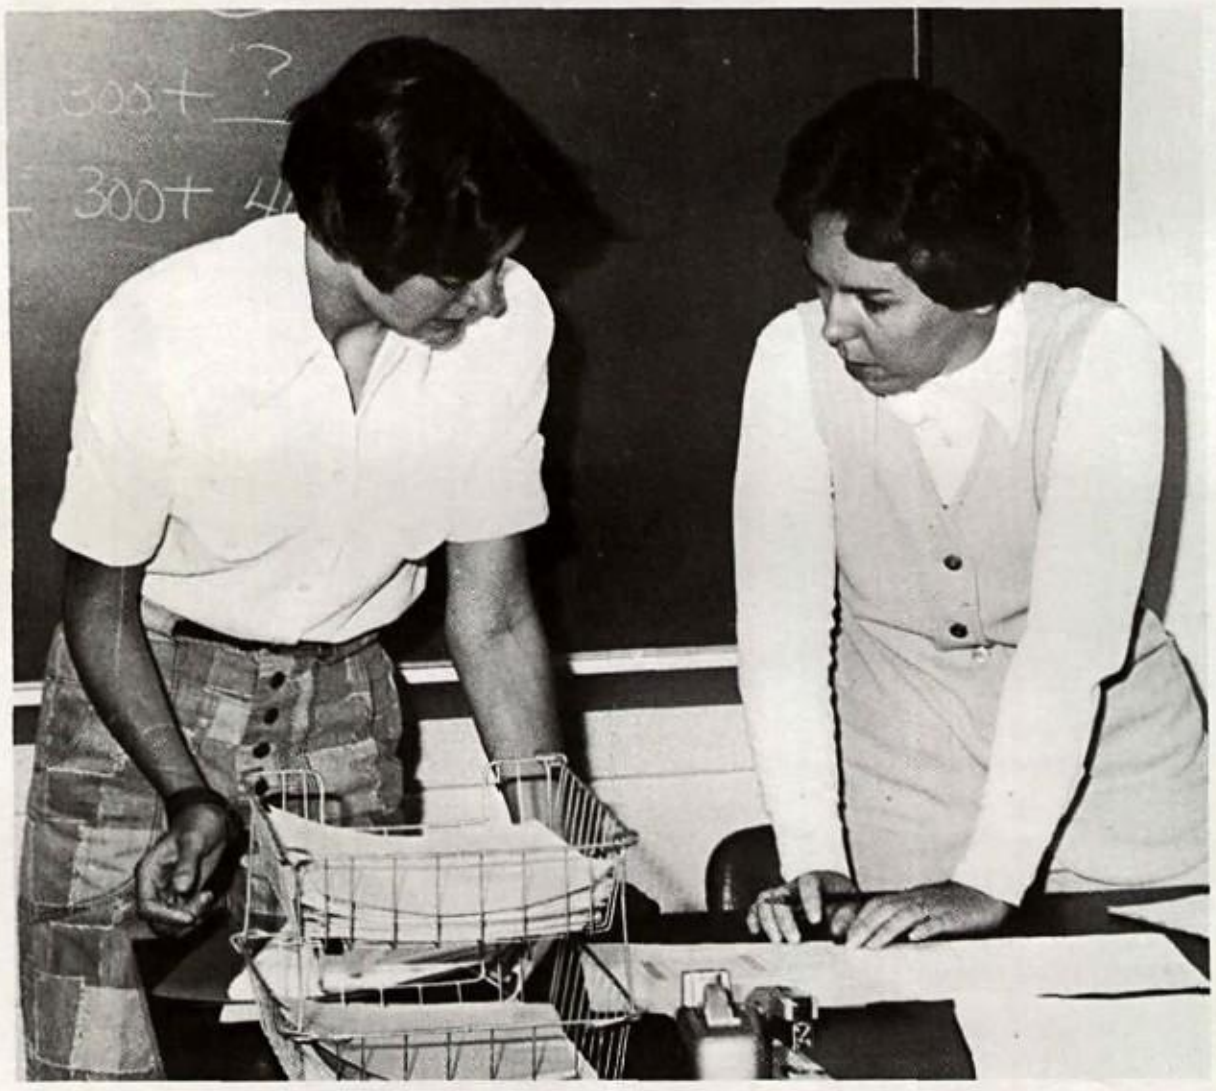
Faculty and Administration

They Create Order Out of Mass Confusion



Calm down, children! It's only a rattlesnake!



I'm sorry, but you made a mistake; bubble gum does not cost $2,000 a piece.

All right, that's fifty lashes with a wet noodle!

Oddly enough, Elvis takes time out to help a student in need.

No, wait! Just because you flunked T.V. Science doesn't mean you have to jump out the window.

Above: No, I'm sorry, but you can't have six study halls!

MR. AND MISS JUNIOR HIGH

Vicki Wright

Kevin Grayson

My hobbies are swimming, fishing, and playing the guitar! I also enjoy riding motorcycles, and I love all kinds of sports, especially football and baseball. I've even won trophies in baseball, bowling, and football.

On the weekends I usually go roller-skating or to the movies.

One of the best things that has happened to me here at J'town is winning Mr. Jr. High. It's really an honor to be the first Mr. Jr. High at J'town.

Kevin Grayson

I like to play softball, basketball, and other sports. In the summer I especially enjoy playing volleyball and going swimming.

On the weekends I go roller-skating and hardly ever miss J'town ball games.

One of my favorite memories here at J-town is being able to have represented the seventh grade in both football and basketball homecoming.

I think when I get older, I'd like to be a model.

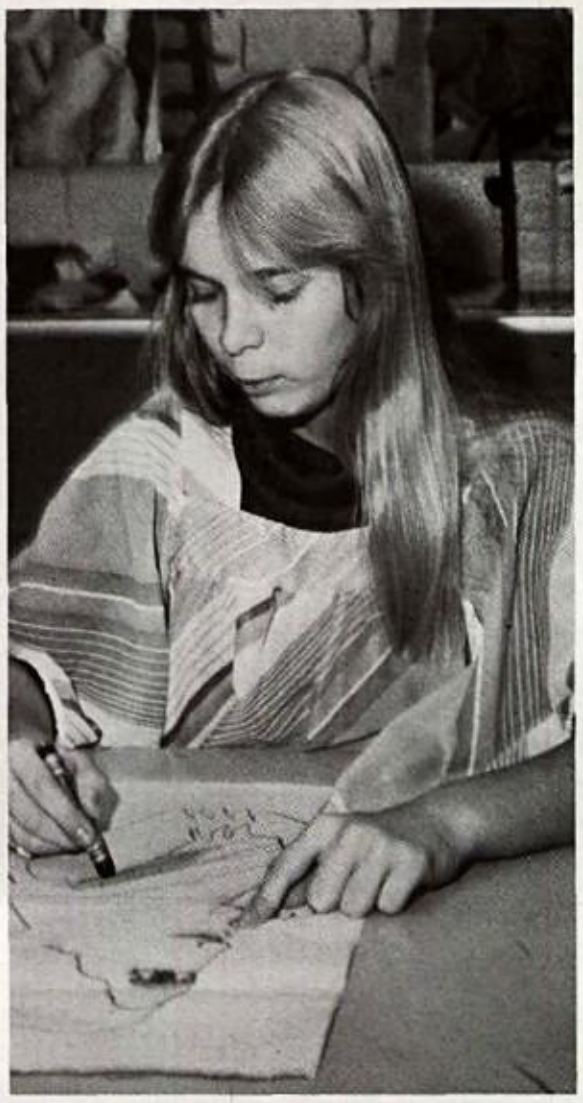
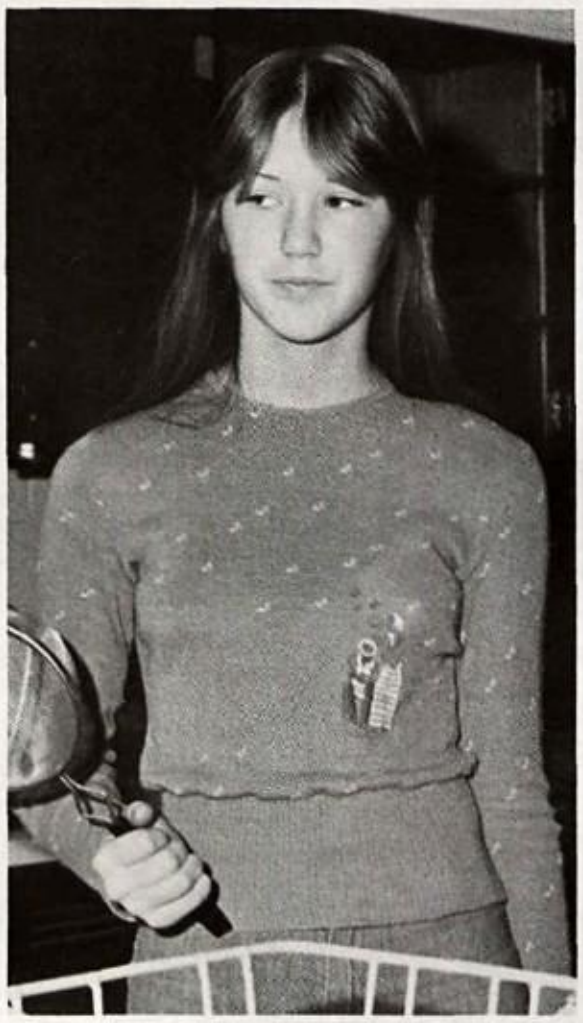
Junior High
We Have a Spirit

Was I the only one bused to this school?

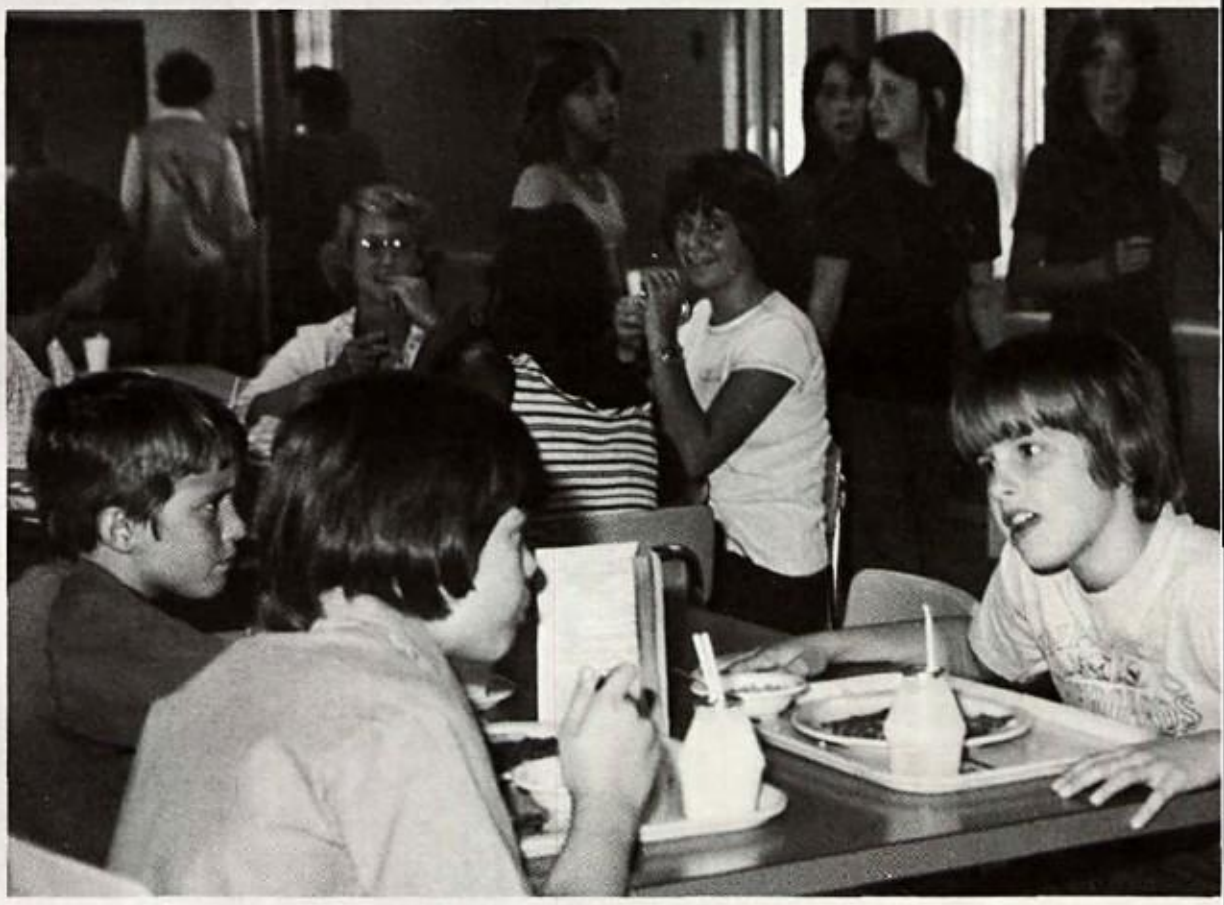


KIM FOSTER sighs, "Somehow this just doesn't look like the FONZ."

TOMMY QUINN must be thinking about that skirt he has to wear!

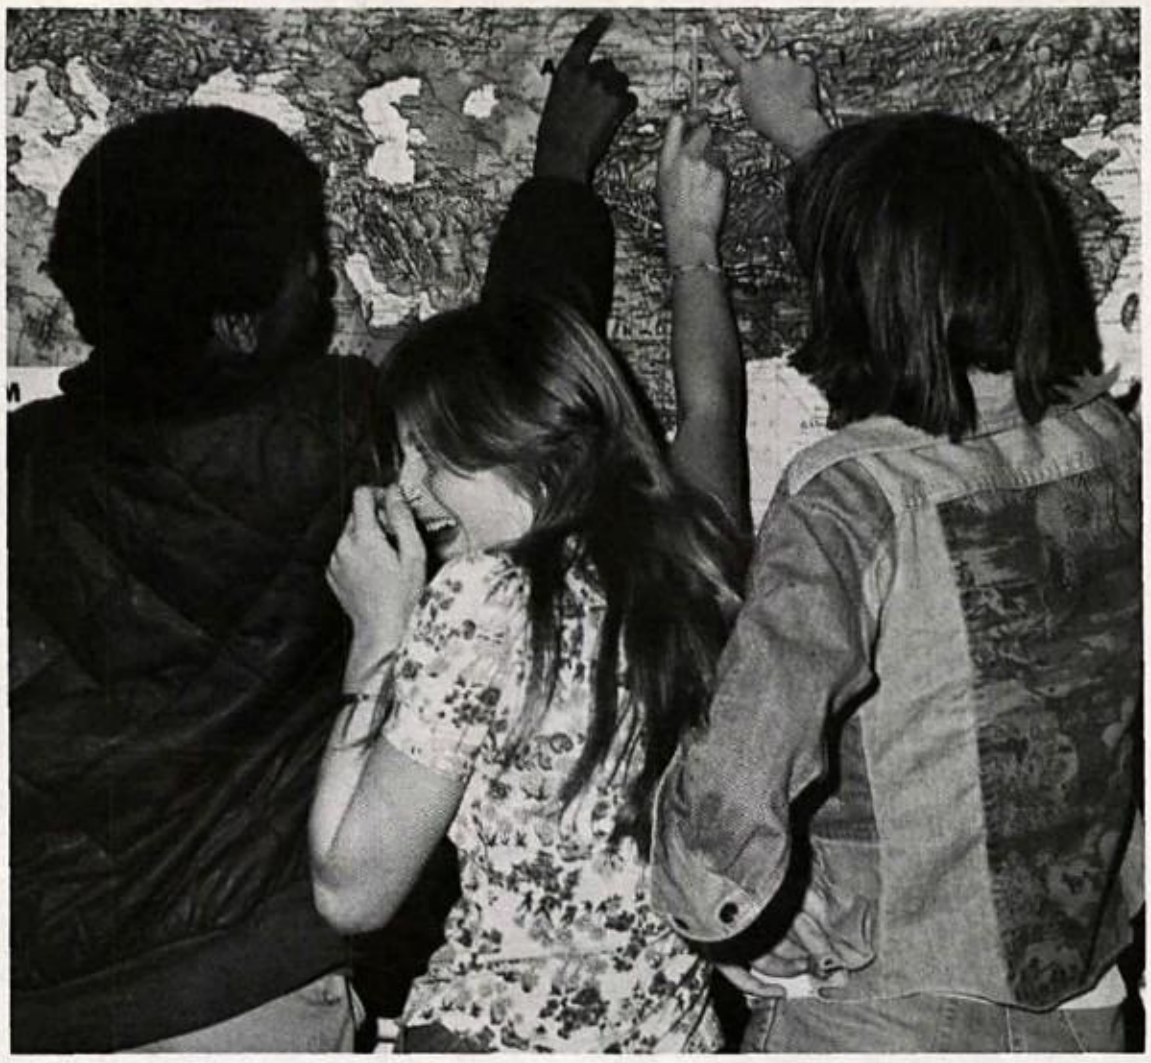


"What do you mean, I have to eat it when I'm done!" mutters JOYCE ALLGEYER.



"What? Are you crazy? No, you can't have my cookie!"

VICTOR BRIGHT, JOSEPH FURMAN, and SHEILA CAMPBELL admire the Bicentennial Banner.



RITA CUPP finds something very amusing about this map.

Hey, what color is our team wearing?

Girls! I've told you before that you can't play Frozen Statues in P.E.!

In this past year, we, the students of Jeffersontown Junior High School, showed our spirit in a thousand different ways. One way was on our Bicentennial Banner project. The subjects of the banner ranged from the Statue of Liberty to Black Spirit '76. Two exploratory classes composed of 7th and 8th graders worked on it for six weeks. We now have this symbol of our spirit hanging in the front hall.

Another way we showed our spirit was to participate in games and pep rallies. We excitedly yelled our battle cry: F-I-G-H-T.

Our spirit was also present in our academic studies. We continued the tradition of Charger spirit by eagerly learning and always trying to the best of our ability.

Our pride in J'town also showed our spirit. We have pride in our school, its activities, and our fellow students. As we continue to grow from 7th and 8th graders to 12th graders, so will our pride grow, because the students of the Junior High, well . . . We have a spirit.

The National Honor Society is an organization designed to recognize academic achievement in high school. Judged by a faculty screening committee on the basis of grade point average, character, leadership, and community service, thirty-nine students were chosen last spring to form the 1976-1977 J'town chapter of NHS. Because one member, Denise Olinick, graduated immediately after the initiation, her picture is not shown. Under the leadership of club president Paul Didier, vice-president Pam Howard, secretary Debbie Dummer, and treasurer Rose Distler, the National Honor Society has participated in several activities this year. The organization worked with the Red Cross this fall to publicize a local blood drive. Club members also plan a canoe trip in May. The last NHS project each year is a tapping ceremony to induct new members. The organization is presently planning this ceremony, during which a number of Juniors will be initiated to continue the NHS traditions of high character and academic excellence.

The J'town Junior and Senior Beta Clubs are among the most active organizations in our school. We owe the imaginative bulletin boards in the Junior and Senior High lobbies to their hard work. Each year these clubs also sponsor the Christmas Door Decoration Contest, which always increases the festive air at J'town near Christmas. Both clubs also sponsor a service project; the Junior Betas sponsor an Office Aide Committee, while the Senior Betas visit Children's Hospital each year to entertain the children with handcraft projects. Sponsoring a separate project each year, the Senior Beta Club holds the Miss JHS Pageant. The proceeds from this contest are used to provide a $250 scholarship to a club member and to purchase a gift for the school. The Junior Betas' separate project is the excellent Junior Beta Talent Show.

Under the leadership of Senior Beta Pres. Tom Stearman, V-Pres. Cynthia Harper, Sec. Maureen Shanahan, and Treas. Cheryl Huntzinger, as well as Junior Beta Pres. Steve Sergeant, V-Pres. Amshu Kemparajurs, Sec. Cindy Huntzinger, Treas. Kara Dummer, and Hist. Kathy Kelly, these clubs work hard to make our school a place to be proud of.

Beta Club and Math League Symbolize Achievement and Success

The 1975-1976 J'town Math League Team ranks among the finest in our school's history. Following four meets against the five other schools in our district, Assumption, Eastern, Fern Creek, Providence, and Westport, the team's scores placed them solidly in first place. This in itself was a first for a J'town Math League Team; yet, in addition, the team brought home several individual honors. Gary Albin was awarded a trophy for placing first among Senior competitors. Two Sophomore members of the team, Jay Bailey and Keerthi Kemparajurs, placed second and third, respectively. Mark Haag, another Senior member, ended the season in fifth place in the district. All members of the team worked hard to achieve such a successful record, and J'town can be proud to have been represented by such an outstanding group of scholars.

GARY ALBIN, winner of the 1976 Senior division.

WHO'S WHO

What do these ten Seniors have in common? All are members of either the Beta Club or the National Honor Society, while most belong to both organizations. Each student ranks among the top ten students in the class. Moreover, all are representatives of J'town High School in Distinguished Students in American High Schools, the only version of Who's Who recognized by the Jefferson County Board of Education.

Ranked seventh in the Senior Class, ROSE DISTLER is active both inside and outside school. A member of the Beta Club, FBLA, and the Senior Executive Board, Rose also keeps busy by serving as NHS treasurer. She is demonstrating her academic ability by competing on the Math League team for the second consecutive year.

SHERRI SON

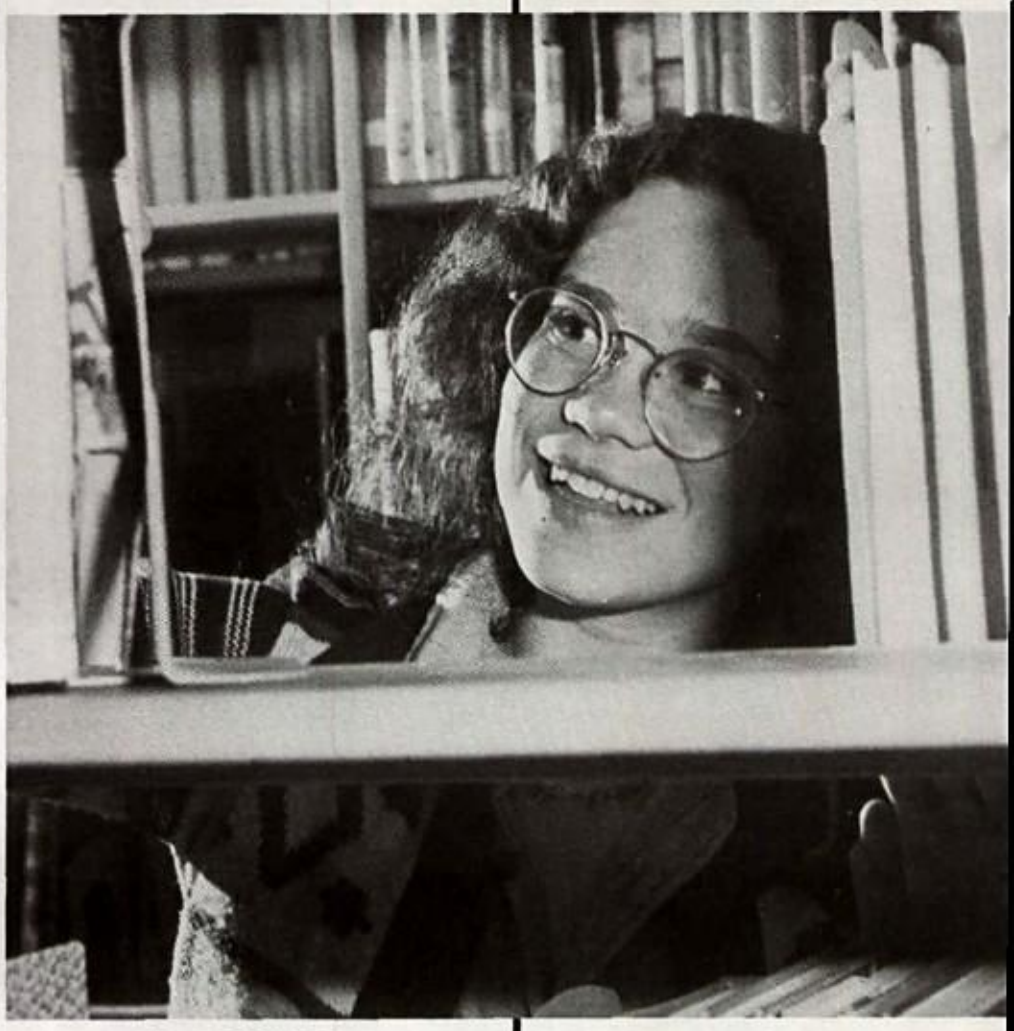
In her spare time, Rose enjoys canoeing and swimming. In fact, she has worked at J'town Swim Club as a swimming coach and a life guard. Her enjoyment of karate has led her to achieve the high rank of a second-degree brown belt.

PHILLIP ROBINSON, who is tied with two other students for first-place ranking, is one of the most active and most honored members of the Senior Class. He is on the Student Council and the Senior Executive Board, as well as serving as President of the Ecology Club. His academic achievements are also evident in his extracurricular activities. Besides belonging to NHS and the Beta Club, Phillip represents J'town as a member of the High Q team. He was also a member of the Math League team for two years.

Phillip has received many local and national honors. He has won a large number of JHS departmental and Scholastic Achievement Awards. Last spring he was one of the winners of the Kentucky Council of Teachers of English Student Writing Contest. He was a recipient of the National Council of Teachers of English Achievement Award this fall. He has also been honored by the American Association of Spanish Teachers for placing fourth in Kentucky among Spanish II students. His most oustanding achievement, however, was being named a finalist in the National Achievement Scholarship competition.

Besides the effort required to achieve these many honors, Phillip works part time at Kroger. He loves Nacho-Cheese Doritoes and chocolate chip cookies. He hopes to attend MIT this fall.

PHILLIP ROBINSON



PAM HOWARD

Known throughout the school for her stack of books, SHERRI SON is one of the students tied for first place in the class. She is also one of its busiest members. As well as belonging to NHS, the Spanish Club, and the Beta Club, she is secretary/treasurer of the Ecology Club, president of the Student Council, and chairman of the Student Council Grievance Committee. Moreover, she spends many hours writing, revising, and typing copy in her capacity as Copy Editor of the annual. She was also on the Math League for two years.

Sherri has received numerous honors and awards during her high school years. Besides receiving many JHS departmental and Scholastic Achievement Awards, she has been presented a medal by the American Association of Spanish Teachers for placing second in the state among Spanish II students. She is also proud to be a National Merit Finalist. Sherri was recently awarded a Merit Scholarship from UK. Her greatest honor, however, was her selection as one of 750 high school Seniors in the nation to compete for designation as one of 121 Presidential Scholars. Her selection for this honor was based on her high performance on the ACT and SAT tests.

In her spare time, Sherri enjoys reading and listening to music. She is an avid soap opera fan and loves chocolate cake and chocolate-covered cherries. She relaxes by doing embroidery and crewel stitchery.

PAMELA ODETTE HOWARD is one of the three students tied for first-place ranking in the class. Her academic efforts have led her to win a series of departmental and JHS Scholastic Achievement Awards. A member of the Ecology Club, German Club, and Beta Club, her academic achievements have led her to the position of NHS Veep.

SUSAN MADDOX

Pam also finds great satisfaction in athletics. A member of JHS's varsity gymnastics team, she has been awarded both a letter and the Coach's Award Trophy. Pam also studies and teaches gymnastics at a private club. She is an avid fan of kayaking and canoeing as well.

PAUL DIDIER

Pam's other hobbies include macrame and pottery-making. She has a passion for chocolate and loves cats.

Although SUSAN MADDOX must spend many hours on homework to maintain her fourth-place ranking, she is basically an outdoor girl. As well as loving camping and canoeing, she is an avid traveller. She has visited Europe several times; in fact, she spent six weeks last summer in Switzerland.

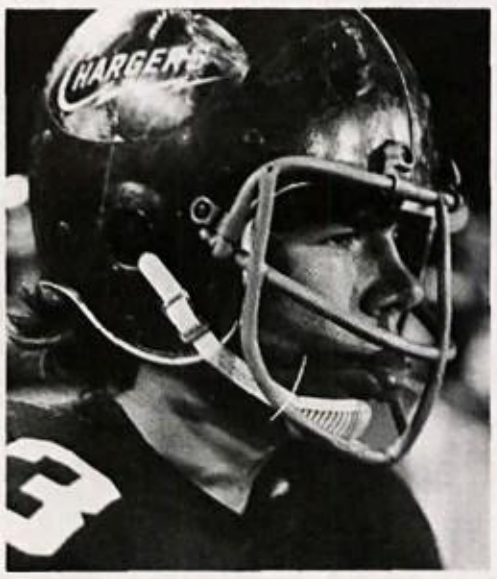
Susan's activities at school are numerous and quite diverse. She belongs to the Spanish Club, Beta Club, and Ecology Club, as well as serving on the Senior Executive Board and the Human Relations Committee. Her academic achievements can be seen in her membership of NHS and the Math League team. She has also been the recipient of many departmental awards. Furthermore, Susan is the captain of J'town's High Q team this year.

Known for her feminist philosophy, Susan is a member of NOW, the National Organization of Women. Susan is also a drama enthusiast. She was in the cast of the Senior Play, and she tries to see an average of two plays per month.

In her spare time, Susan enjoys all types of needlework, such as knitting, crocheting, and crewel stitchery. She loves animals, especially cats and dogs, and adores Nacho-Cheese Doritoes.

Ranked ninth in the class, PAUL DIDIER has received numerous academic awards. He has won the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge JROTC essay contest for two consecutive years. This feat has never before been achieved. He has also been the recipient of both the American Legion JROTC Bronze Medal for Scholastic Achievement and the Sons of the American Revolution JROTC Bronze Medal. Furthermore, he has won a number of JHS departmental awards.

Paul is very active in athletics in his spare time. He played on the JHS football team from his Freshman to his Junior year. He also has been on the basketball team for the past three years. In addition, he played on the varsity tennis team for two years.



BRAD HALL

Paul hopes to attend the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Tied for fifth place, BRAD HALL is one of the more athletic members of Distinguished Students. He has played on our football team for the past four years and received an honorable mention this year for the all-state football team. He was also a member of our track team last year.

A member of NHS, Brad also excels academically. He has been the recipient of a 1976 summer scholarship to Bellarmine.

JEFF JONES, ranked tenth in the class, stays busy both insdie and outside school. Although his job as evening manager at Watterson Trail Exxon requires a great deal of time, he still finds time for membership in NHS.

In his moments of relaxation, Jeff enjoys sports. He further likes working on cars. Jeff hopes to attend the U of L Speed School.

JEFF JONES

SUSAN SCHURCH, eighth ranked in the class, is the newest J'town student to be selected for Distinguished Students. Having transferred to J'town from Seneca for her Junior and Senior years, she attended J'town for less than two years, as she graduated after the first quarter this year. She is now attending U of L. Susan was a member of the Pep Club, German Club, and annual staff at Seneca, while she belongs to the Beta Club there and at J'town.

Susan enjoys fashion designing and hopes to pursue a career in that area. She also likes bowling, soccer, and exotic food.

GABRIEL HERNANDEZ is definitely one of the busiest members of the Senior Class. Besides studying long hours to maintain his fifth-place ranking, Gabe works at both Kingsley Food Market and Jasco Products. Yet he still finds time to participate in track, NHS, Beta Club, and Pep Club. Beyond his responsibilities as Ad Manager for the Annual, Gabe spends many hours doing all sorts of odd jobs required in the publication of the annual. Gabe also works hard as Senior Class president.

SUSAN SCHURCH

Gabe is proud of his track achievements. He was a member of the 1975 mile-relay team which placed first among seven national teams in the AAU meet in Ohio. Academically, on the other hand, he was recently awarded a Regeants Scholarship from WKU.

In his spare time, Gabe rides motorcycles, works on his car, and practices karate.

GABRIEL HERNANDEZ

BOB McDONALD

JEFFERSONTOWN'S SUPER TALENTS

J'town High can be proud of its fine music and drama departments. Besides their group excellence, students in both departments have excelled individually. The Honors Section is proud to present J'town High's Super Talents . . .

BOB McDONALD, a talented student in both music and drama, was named a regional semi-finalist in the National Association of Teachers of Singing competition in April, 1976. He is a voice student of Mr. Larry Schenck at Jefferson Community College. Bob has also been rated as the most outstanding bass in Jefferson County for three consecutive years at All-State Chorus auditions. He is pictured here in his leading role in GODSPELL, the Senior Play.

Three members of the Marching Chargers were chosen by audition in November, 1976 to participate in All-State Band. These students are HAROLD YANKEY, KATHY WORDEN, and PEGGY CLAYTON. They will join other Kentucky musicians in a performance on April 12.

Four JHS violinists received a superior rating for their violin solos at the Kentucky Music Education Association Contest held at the University of Louisville in March, 1976. These students were KATHY STEARNS, JAMIE GARRETT, JACK STEARNS, and SANDY MAY. We can be proud to have such talented strings students at J'town.

In the spring of 1976, a number of J'town drama students were awarded Thespian Society awards, J'town's equivalent of an Academy Award, for their work in OLIVER, the all-school musical. DEBBIE BLAKEMAN was voted Best Actress by her fellow Thespians. BOB MCDONALD and NATALIE TAYLOR were selected as Best Dancers. SCOTT WILSON was voted Best in Chorus, while CHAS STEPHENS was voted Best on Crew. The fine work of such stu-

Four members of the band received superior ratings in solo competition at the Kentucky Music Education Association competition at U of L on March 25. These students were AMY CROUCH, HAROLD YANKEY, MARILYN McREYNOLDS, and PEGGY CLAYTON. Such talented musicians as these make the Marching Chargers one of the county's best bands.

After a lengthy period of rehearsals and auditions, seven J'town students were selected to participate in All-State Chorus this year. Nine J'town students were selected from over thirty J'town choir members competing for a place at the county auditions. Of these nine students, DOTTIE O'BRIAN, TONY ERNSPIKER, BOB McDONALD, SCOTT BRADFORD, NOEL CLARK, WALLY LESLEY, and DARRELL LAY were chosen for the chorus. Between March 10 and 12, they will rehearse for their performance in Lexington on March 12 at the Kentucky Music Educators Association.

KATHY STEARNS is one of J'town's finest musicians. In the summer of 1976, she was chosen from over sixty competitors as the winner of the concerto contest at Sewanee Summer Music Center. This meant that she served as the soloist with the Sewanee Festival Orchestra. Kathy was also the winner of the Third District Women's Club Music Contest this year.

PAUL DIDIER

J'TOWN'S TOP ACHIEVERS

J'town students have always excelled in all academic areas, but several students have particularly shone this year in their individual fields. We should all be proud of these students who have distinguished themselves and their school through scholastic competition.

This year PAUL DIDIER received one of the greatest honors ever awarded to a student at J'town. On November 11, 1976, Paul was awarded the Legion of Valor Bronze Cross for achievement, one of the highest awards which a high school ROTC student can receive. The medal was presented by a national organization of recipients of the Medal of Honor and other high awards presented by each branch of service. Awarded to him by Army Major John Whitehead III, a Vietnam hero, the medal was the eleventh Paul has won in past years.

The Math department is delighted by the achievements of SONIA LUNA in the Louisville Regional Science Fair, which was held on March 27, 1976. Sonia entered a project entitled "Probability and Accuracy in Using Statistics," in which she devised a method for predicting the scores of basketball games. Her project was judged first in the area of Mathematics in the Senior Division. She also placed first in the Behavioral and Social Science Division. For this honor she received $25 and a certificate awarded by the U of L Department of Psychology. She received a Certificate of Scientific Achievement from the United States Army as well. This award was presented to her after her project was judged to be one of the best five in the Senior Division. We congratulate Sonia for this honor.

Four J'town students, SHERRI SON, PHILLIP ROBINSON, JO MILLER, and ANGELA HAIRSTON, brought glory to the language department by their success in the State Spanish Contest, sponsored by the American Association of Spanish Teachers. Sherri placed second among Senior High Spanish II students, while Phillip placed fourth in the same category. Jo was first among Junior High students taking Spanish II. Angela was first in her category of Spanish I students.

Over the summer of 1976, CHERYL HUNTZINGER and BECKY SHORE represented JHS at Girls' State, while PAUL DIDIER and BRAD HALL attended Boys' State for our school. Sponsored by the American Legion Auxillary, these conventions are designed as exercises in government. The Girls' State Convention was held for one week at Morehead. Becky served as a "Congresswoman" at the convention, while Cheryl worked in the "Senate." Through their activities at the meeting, the girls learned the procedures involved in passing a bill into law. Paul also received two individual honors at Boys' State. Paul was voted "Party Chairman" on the city level, as well as "a member of the City Board of Trustees."

HAROLD YANKEY earned a special honor in the spring of 1976 in the field of English. Harold submitted a composition to the Kentucky Council of Teachers of English for consideration for publication in their quarterly magazine, KENTUCKY WRITING BULLETIN. His essay, "Looking From the Inside Out With a Smile," was printed in the Spring, 1976 edition.

SHERRI SON and KATHY STEARNS brought honor to themselves and J'town High through their selection as National Merit Finalists. Along with the majority of their class, they took the PSAT test in the fall of their Junior year. On the basis of their high scores, which were among the top ½% in the nation, they became National Merit Semi-Finalists. After completing an extensive application and achieving an equivalent score on the SAT (Scholastic Aptitude Test), they were notified of their standing as finalists in late February, 1977.

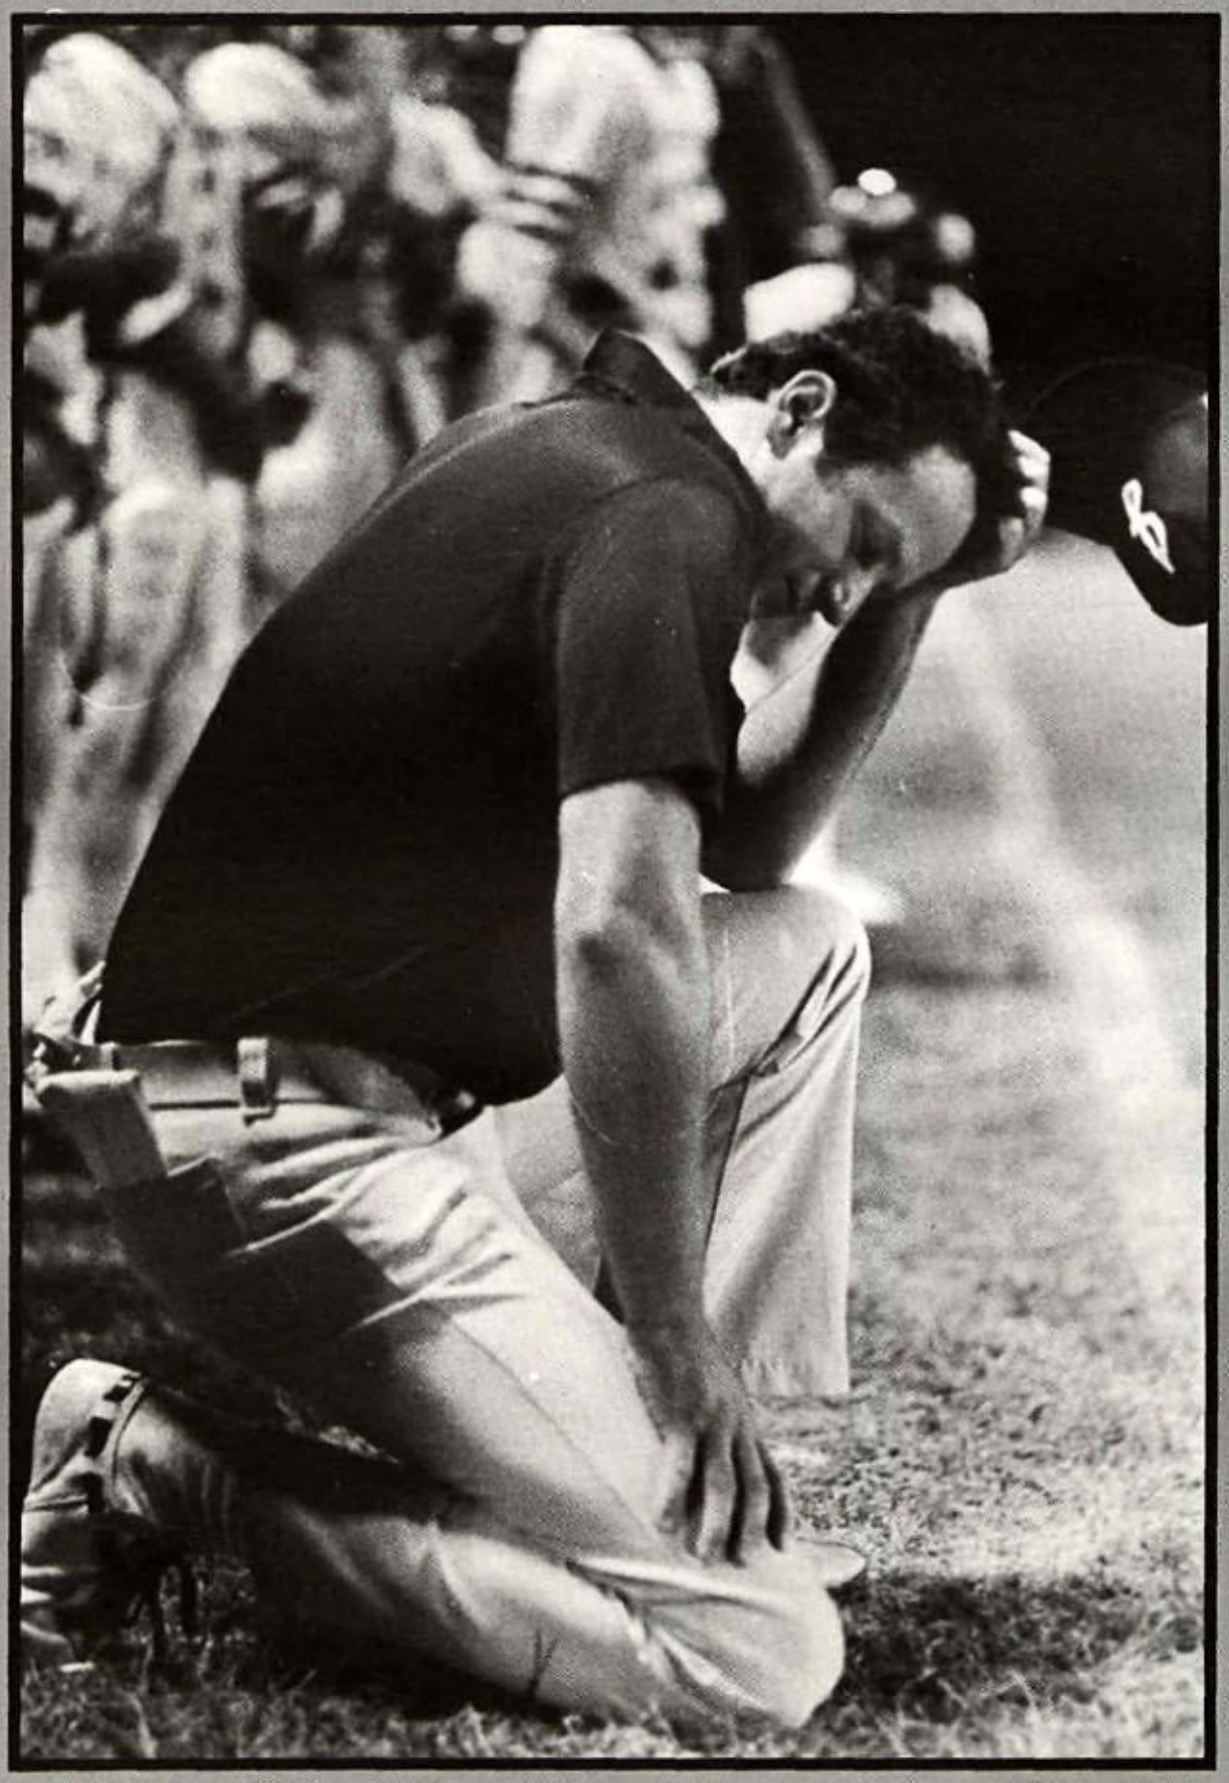
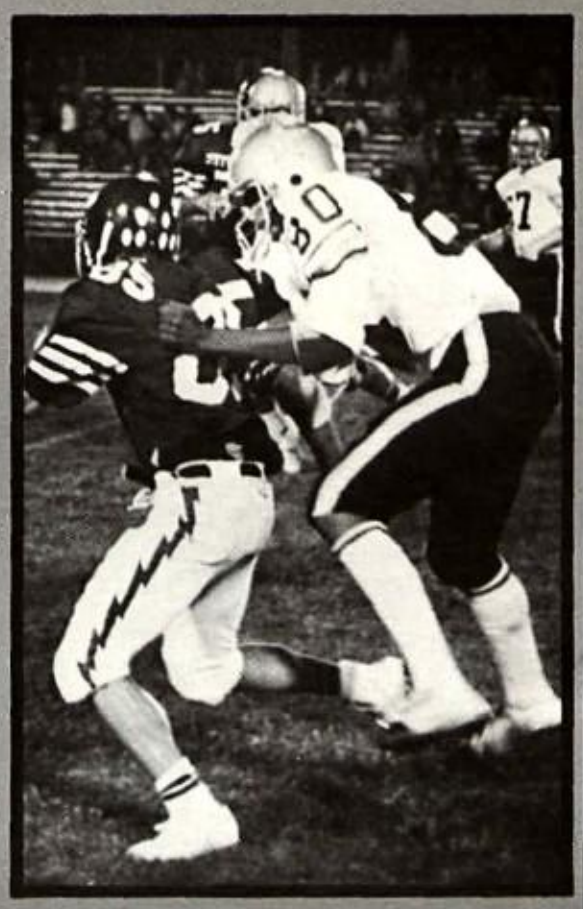
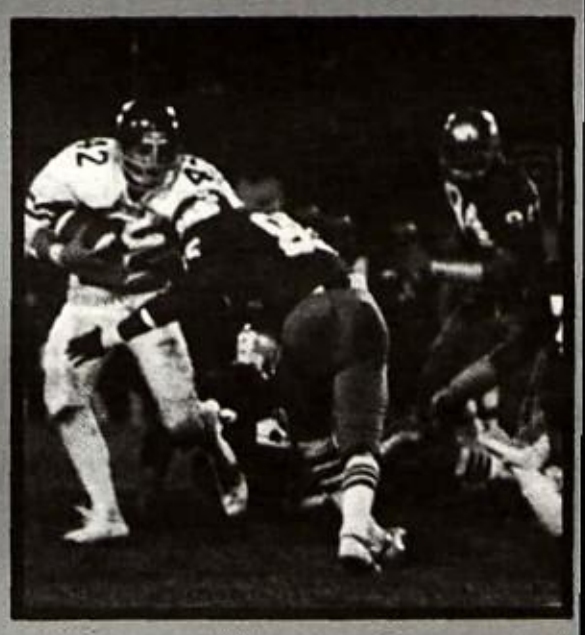
Last year's Chargers won the county championship with a record of 11-2. This year's team was blessed with an abundance of talent, but the breaks did not go their way, and they ended up the season with a record of 8-3. The final game of the season pitted the Jeffersontown Chargers against the Fern Creek Tigers. The Chargers were defeated by the determined Fern Creek team by a score of 14-7. This game ended a season that was . . .

so close it hurt.

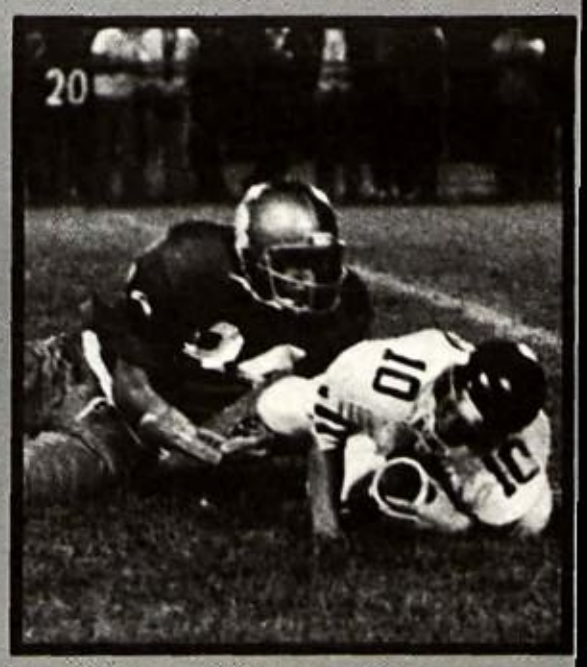




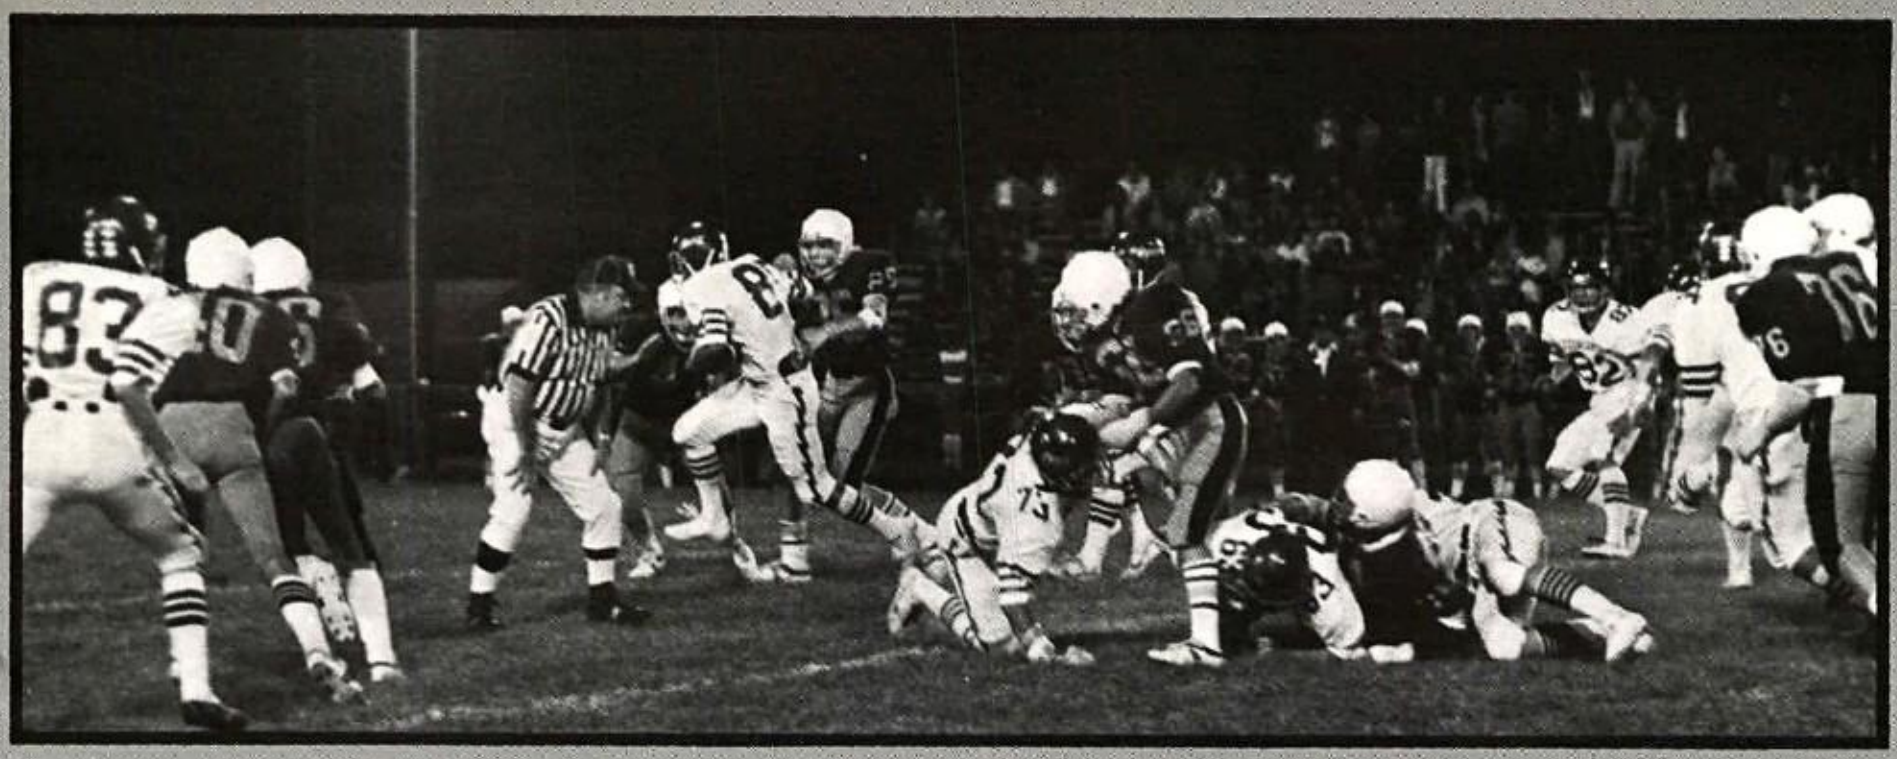
With a quick move, PAUL SAUER tries to elude a Moore defender.



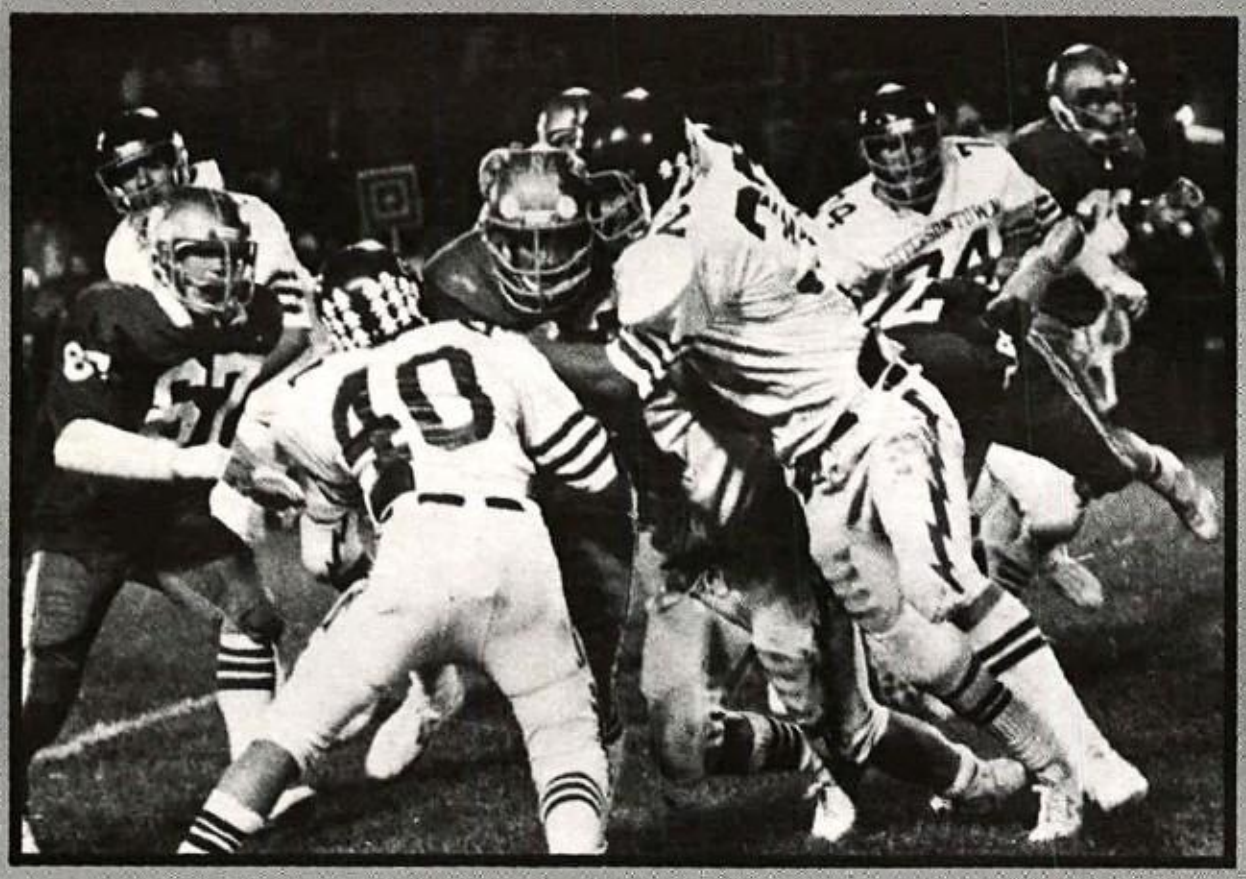
RICKY THOMAS rushes for yardage against Seneca.



Charger quarterback DANNY MATTINGLY is brought down by a Seneca tackle.

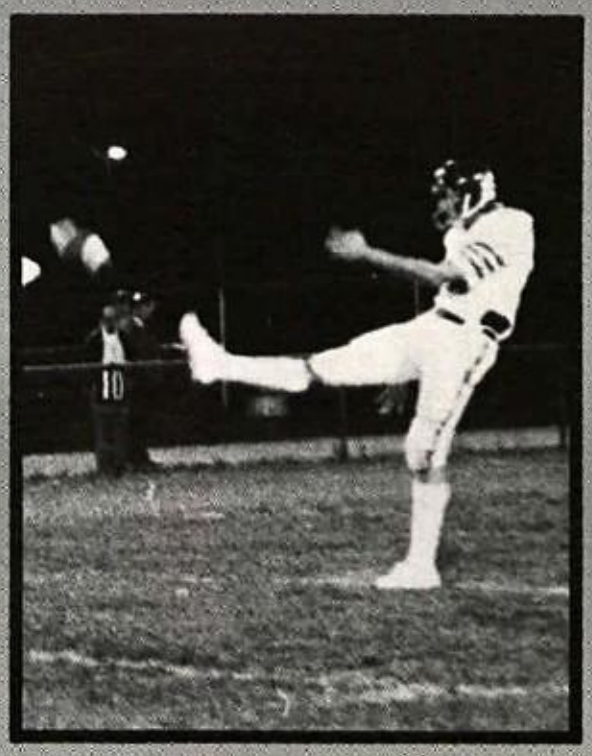


PAUL SAUER charges through Fairdale's defensive line.



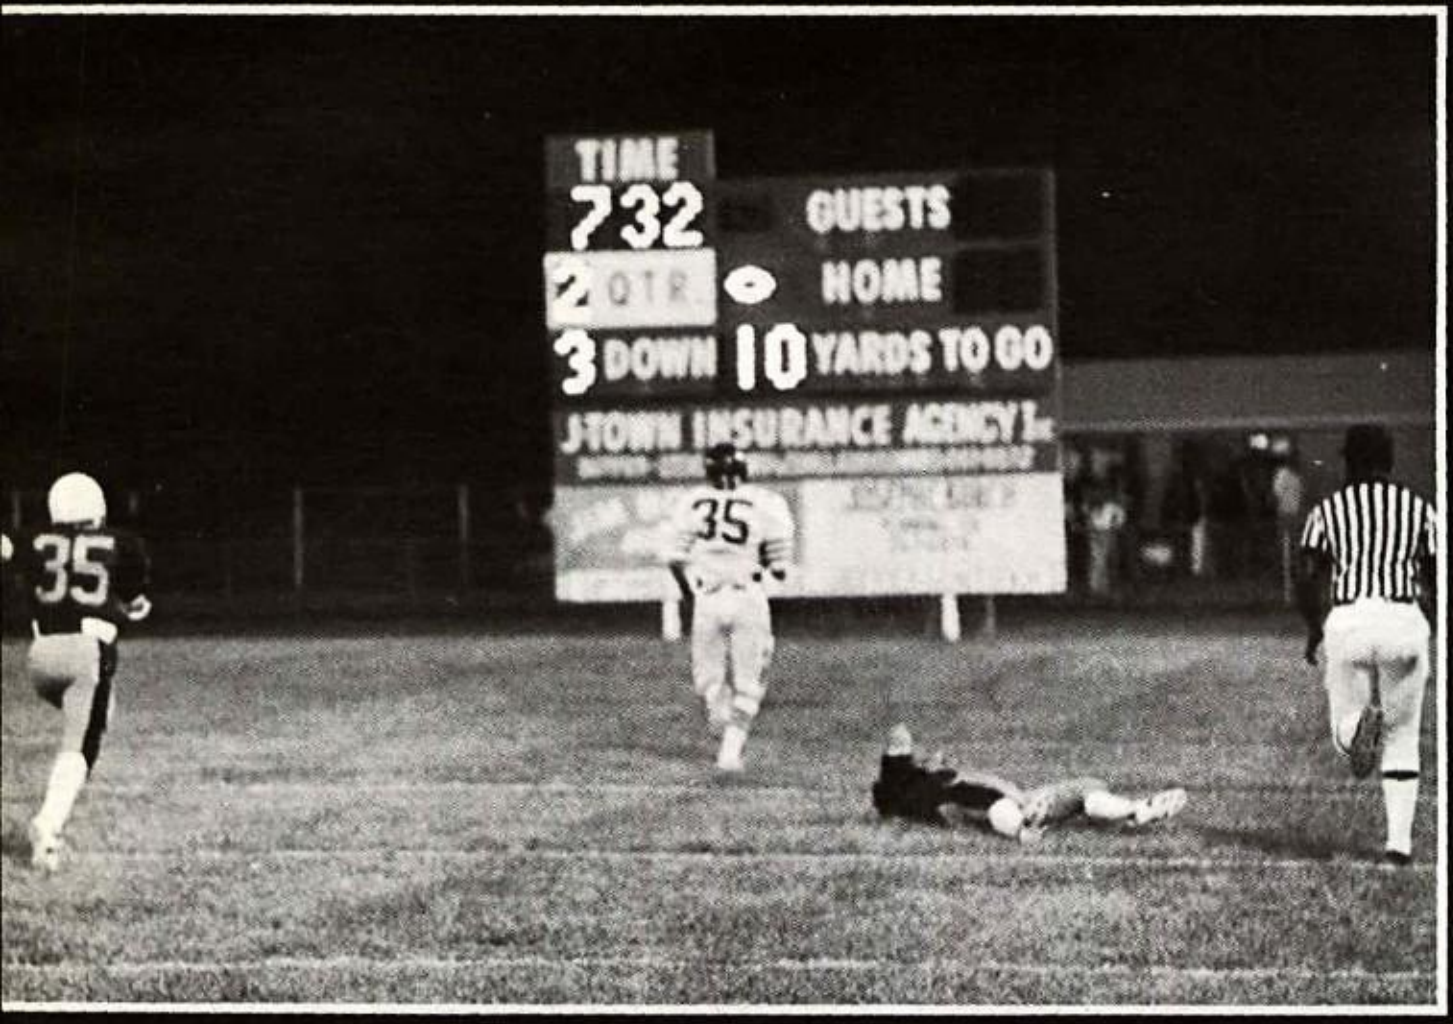
GREG JORDAN and CHUCK SMITH lead the assault on the Seneca quarterback.

SKIP GUELDA demonstrates his defensive ability by recovering a fumble against T.J.



With a flick of his foot, ZACK DAWSON sends the ball sailing down the field.

MIKE PRATHER blocks, as PAUL SAUER rushes for the goal line.



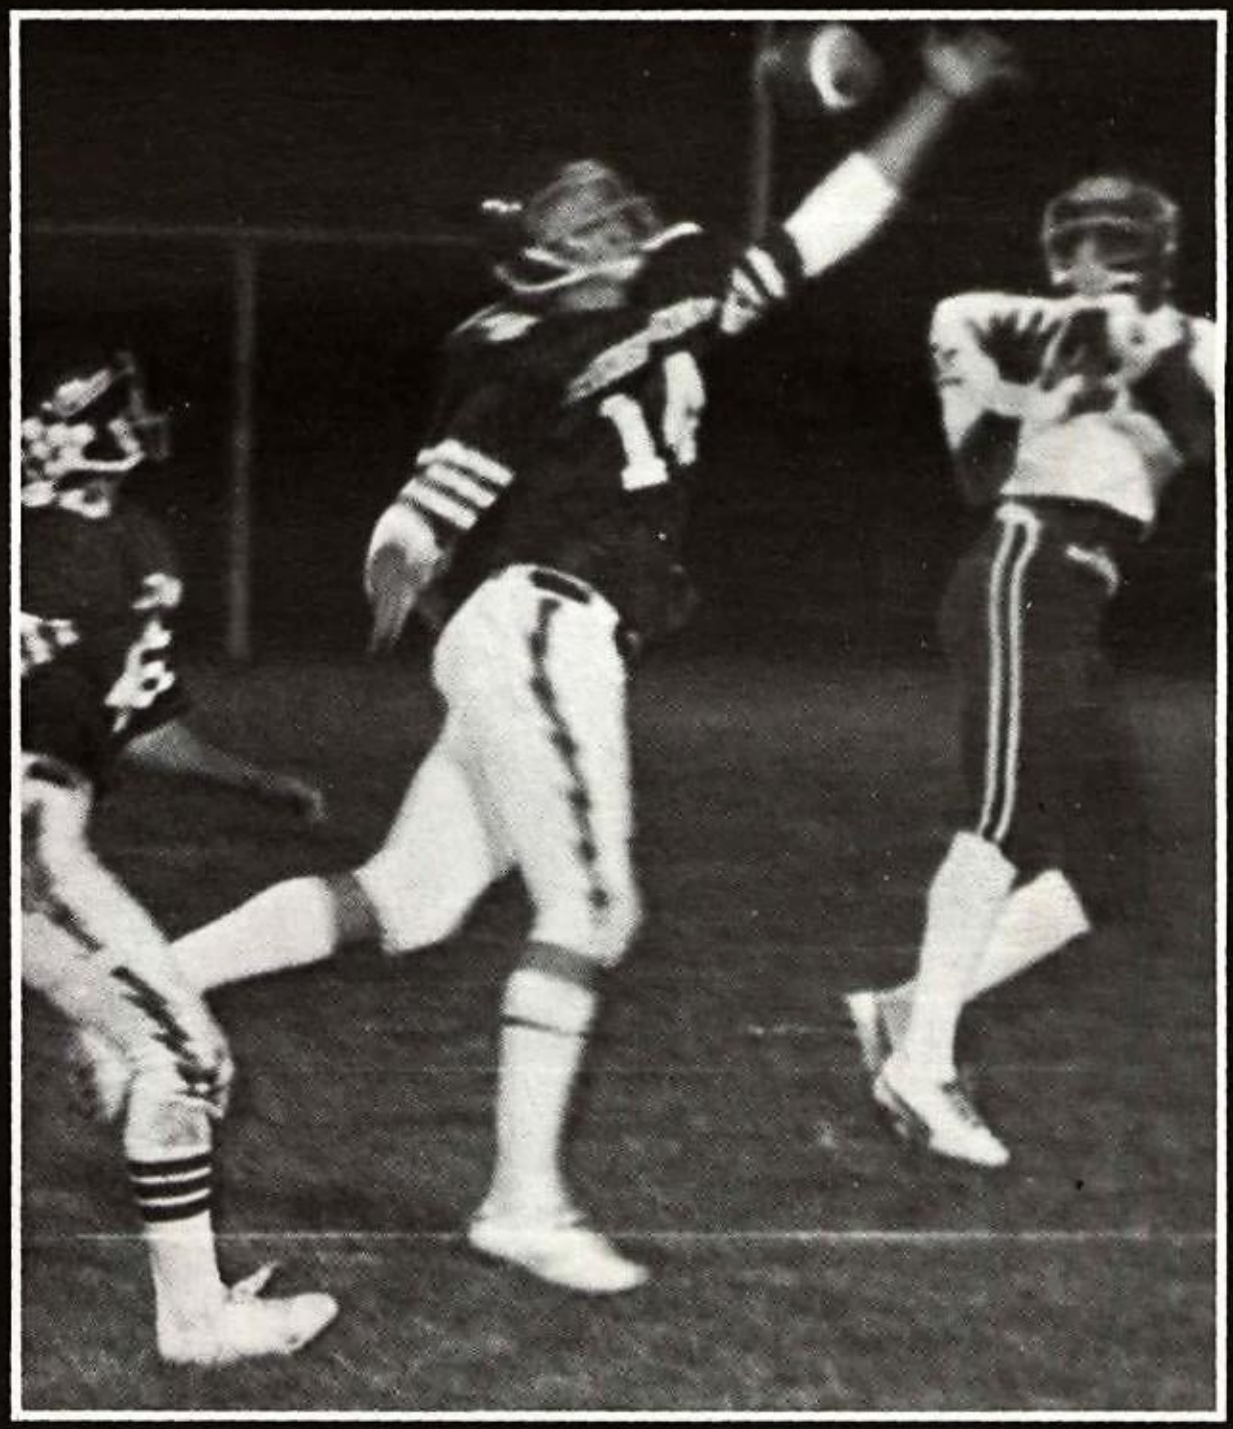
After shaking off a Fairdale player, MIKE PRATHER strides for the end zone.

This year's football team was one of great potential. The coaching staff expected a state championship as usual, and everyone else expected no less than another district title for J'town.

The team had several outstanding athletes returning from the Regional Championship team of '76. However, many of the positions left open by graduation had to be filled by underclassmen with little or no experience.

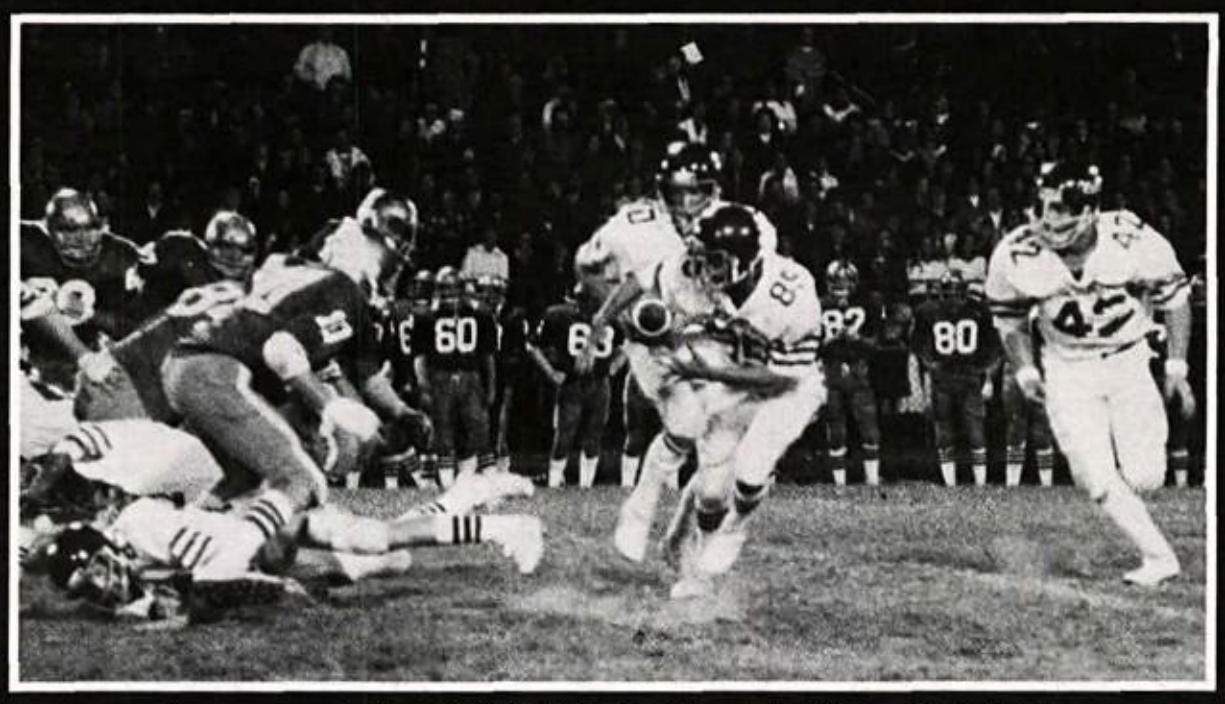
Everyone worked hard; by any other schools' standards, we had an outstanding record. But this is Jeffersontown and everyone connected with the Charger football program thinks only in terms of championships.

GOOD LUCK SENIORS!!!



Big "Z," ZACK DAWSON, is about to intercept another pass.

Charger Defense Takes Football Spotlight.



The offensive line holds, as DANNY MATTINGLY hands the ball off to PAUL SAUER.

Football

Defensive football here at Jeffersontown has been blessed during the 1976-1977 year with some outstanding performers. Under our aggressive, disciplined atmosphere, we have developed some recognized war lords of the highest caliber. This year, we had on the defensive line two All County honorable mentions: gladiators Ron Frey and Scott Wood, who held the trenches during battle. Another All County player, Henry Robinson, sought the enemy from his linebacker position with great intensity. Two All County giants, Jay Trautwein and Zack Dawson, loomed over the opposition offense game after game. While Zack Dawson received All-State 4A to prove his ability in the secondary, Chuck Smith made the All County, as well as every All State team possible, showing that UK was correct in recruiting him. Chuck, the defensive captain, helped to lead our football family to the second-best team ever with a record of 8-3. With players such as these and a spirit of excellence, the pride that fills our defensive unit is easily seen every time they enter the arena. Good job!!!

Steier Is a Star

This year's Boys' Cross Country team scored well in 2 Invitationals and also in the county meets. It placed three boys in the State Meet where Kevin Steier finished 15th.

A high point of the season was Kevin Steier's election to the high school All-American Cross Country team. He was also placed on the All-State 2nd team.

This was a very successful year for Boys' Cross Country, but we graduate four top runners, Kevin Steier, Tim Hartford, Blaine Daugherty, and Doug Oberhausen. However, next year's returnees include David Hines, Matt Zehnder, Mike Bazzell and the two top 9th grade runners in the county, Brent Dodge and Kelly Gentry, so we can look forward to another good year.

Having only three returning Varsity players, the girls' basketball team spent the 1976-77 season rebuilding itself. Practice began in mid-October and continued regularly until the end of the season, with the exception of the interruptions caused by the strike and the snow. The team began to settle down by mid-season and piece together its efforts. The team had a four-game winning streak in February, including an upset over the heavily favored Westport. Illness took its toll on the team toward the end of the season, and the club lost its last three games. Although the team was defeated in the District Tournament, Joni Pass and Dee Dee Boone were selected for the 27th District All-Tourney Team.

Day by Day

For your absolute enjoyment, this year the Class of '77 presented the Broadway musical GODSPELL! It was the first musical ever attempted by a Senior Class at J-town. With lots of hard work and everyone's cooperation, the play was a huge success. Such new special effects as strobe lights and flashpots were used. Moreover, for the first time, cuttings were performed at several area shopping centers and malls.

Overall, the play was one of the best productions in J'town's history. To the participants in all future Senior Plays at J'town, "Break a leg."

"All the good things fell to you while you was on earth."

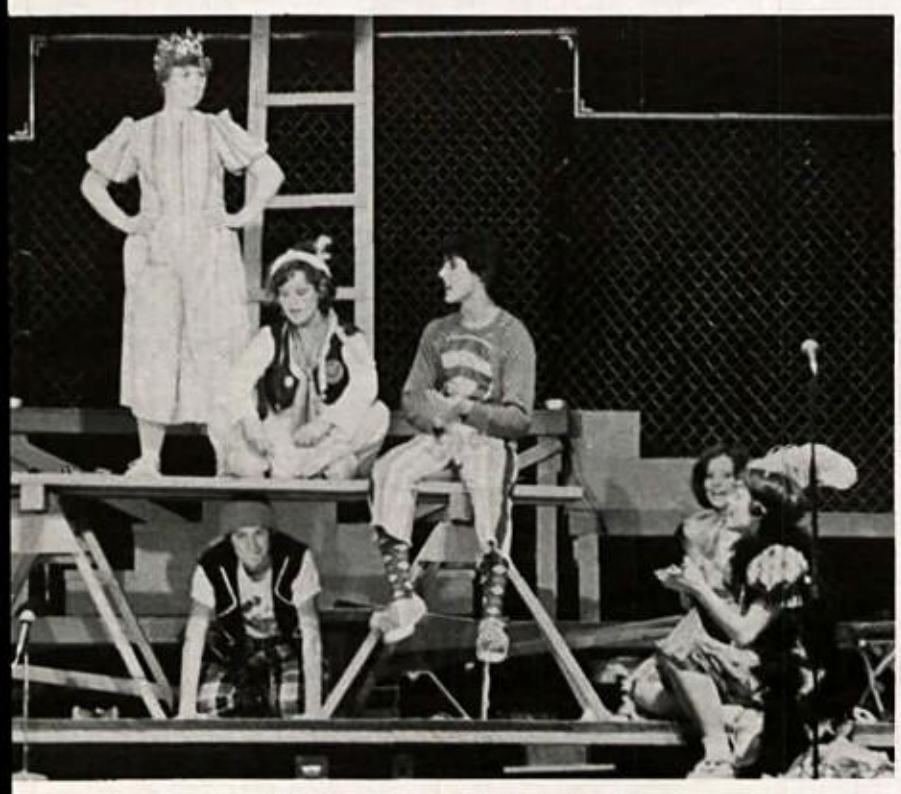
"Have mercy on me . . ."

"To see thee more clearly . . ."

". . . but when he saw him, he was moved to pity."

"You fool, this very night you must surrender your life."

"He must either love the first . . ."



"There once was a king, yeah, yeah."

"For in this fire, I am in AG-O-NY."

In the all-school production of OLIVER, Dicken's characters come to life on the stage. The cast of over 100 people, the elaborate costumes, and the very authentic sets put the audience right back in London in the 19th century. The play was extremely successful and one pleased observer was heard to say "I've seen OLIVER on Broadway and J'Town's was so much better!!!"

HOMECOMING

J'town welcomed home its graduates on October 15, 1976 with the annual Football Homecoming festivities. As usual, the coronation of the new Queen and Princess was the highlight of the evening. The volume of the crowd fell from a loud roar to a soft whisper as the candidates and court representatives, along with their escorts, proceeded onto the football field. The ceremony ended as the 1975 Princess, Mitzi Jordan, crowned the new Princess, Marisa Mazzoli, and the 1975 Queen, Jenny Glass, crowned the new Queen, Cindy Nalley. Each of these girls reigned over the dance which followed the football game.

Homecoming 1977

The Basketball Homecoming, after being postponed due to inclement weather, was finally held on February 18th, and the crowd gave their support like never before. An empty seat was nowhere to be found after 8:05 p.m.!!

Following two quarters of Charger basketball action, the ceremony in which the new queen and princess would be coronated commenced.

All eyes were focused on the candiates and their escorts as they proceeded onto the court. At the height of excitement, Pam Lewallen was crowned Princess by last year's Princess, Nicki Curella, and the new Queen, Jo-Lynn Robinson, was crowned by Heidi Bumgarner, the 1976 Queen.

"A NIGHT OF MIRACLES"

The 1976 Miss JHS contest, "A Night of Miracles," sponsored by the Beta Club, became a reality on the evening of October 10. Anticipation could be felt by everyone, especially by the contestants. All of the exhausting rehearsals were over. Picking the right dress, perfecting the performance . . . All of the preparations were in the past.

The girls were judged on poise, appearance, and personal interviews. The main attraction of the contest, however, was the presentation of each girl's talent. Each performance was marked with confidence, as friends and family proudly admired their favorites.

Following the talent portion, the ten semi-finalists were chosen. From that moment, the judges began the task of selecting the new Miss JHS, who would represent the school during the next year. After the suspense became unbearable, the names of the runners-up were announced. Just as excitement reached its height, Kathy Stearns was crowned the 1976 Miss Jeffersontown High School.

Like the jesters of old, Sandy has "Magic to Do."

With a big smile, Nicki dances to "Boogie Shoes."

Jenny's deep concentration is obvious during her performance.

Shelly gives her own special interpretation of "You're as Beautiful as You Feel."

Lonnie Jo swings her cane with ease during her performance.

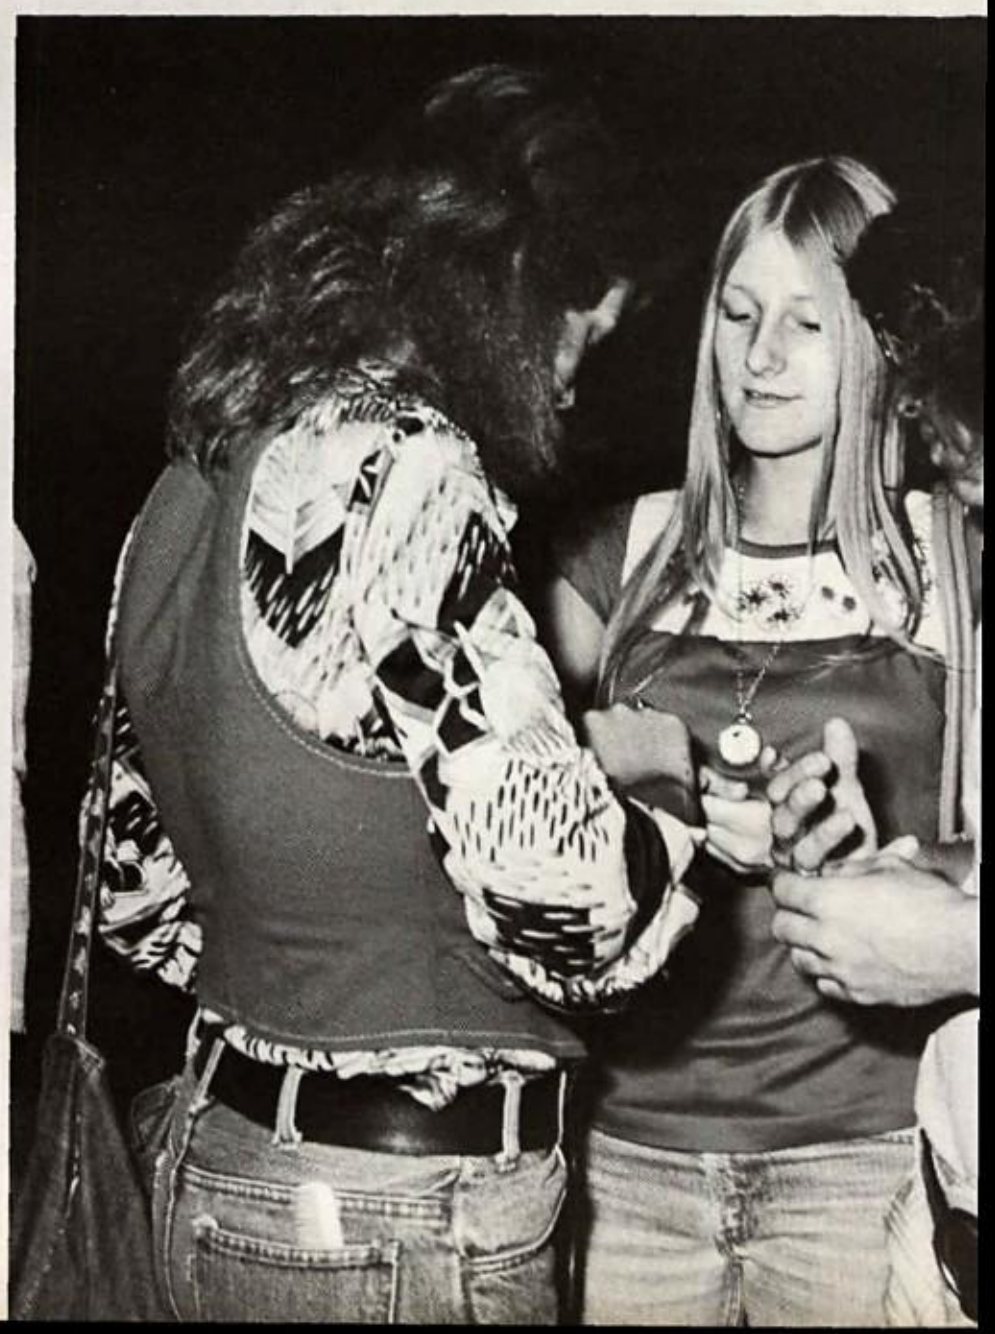
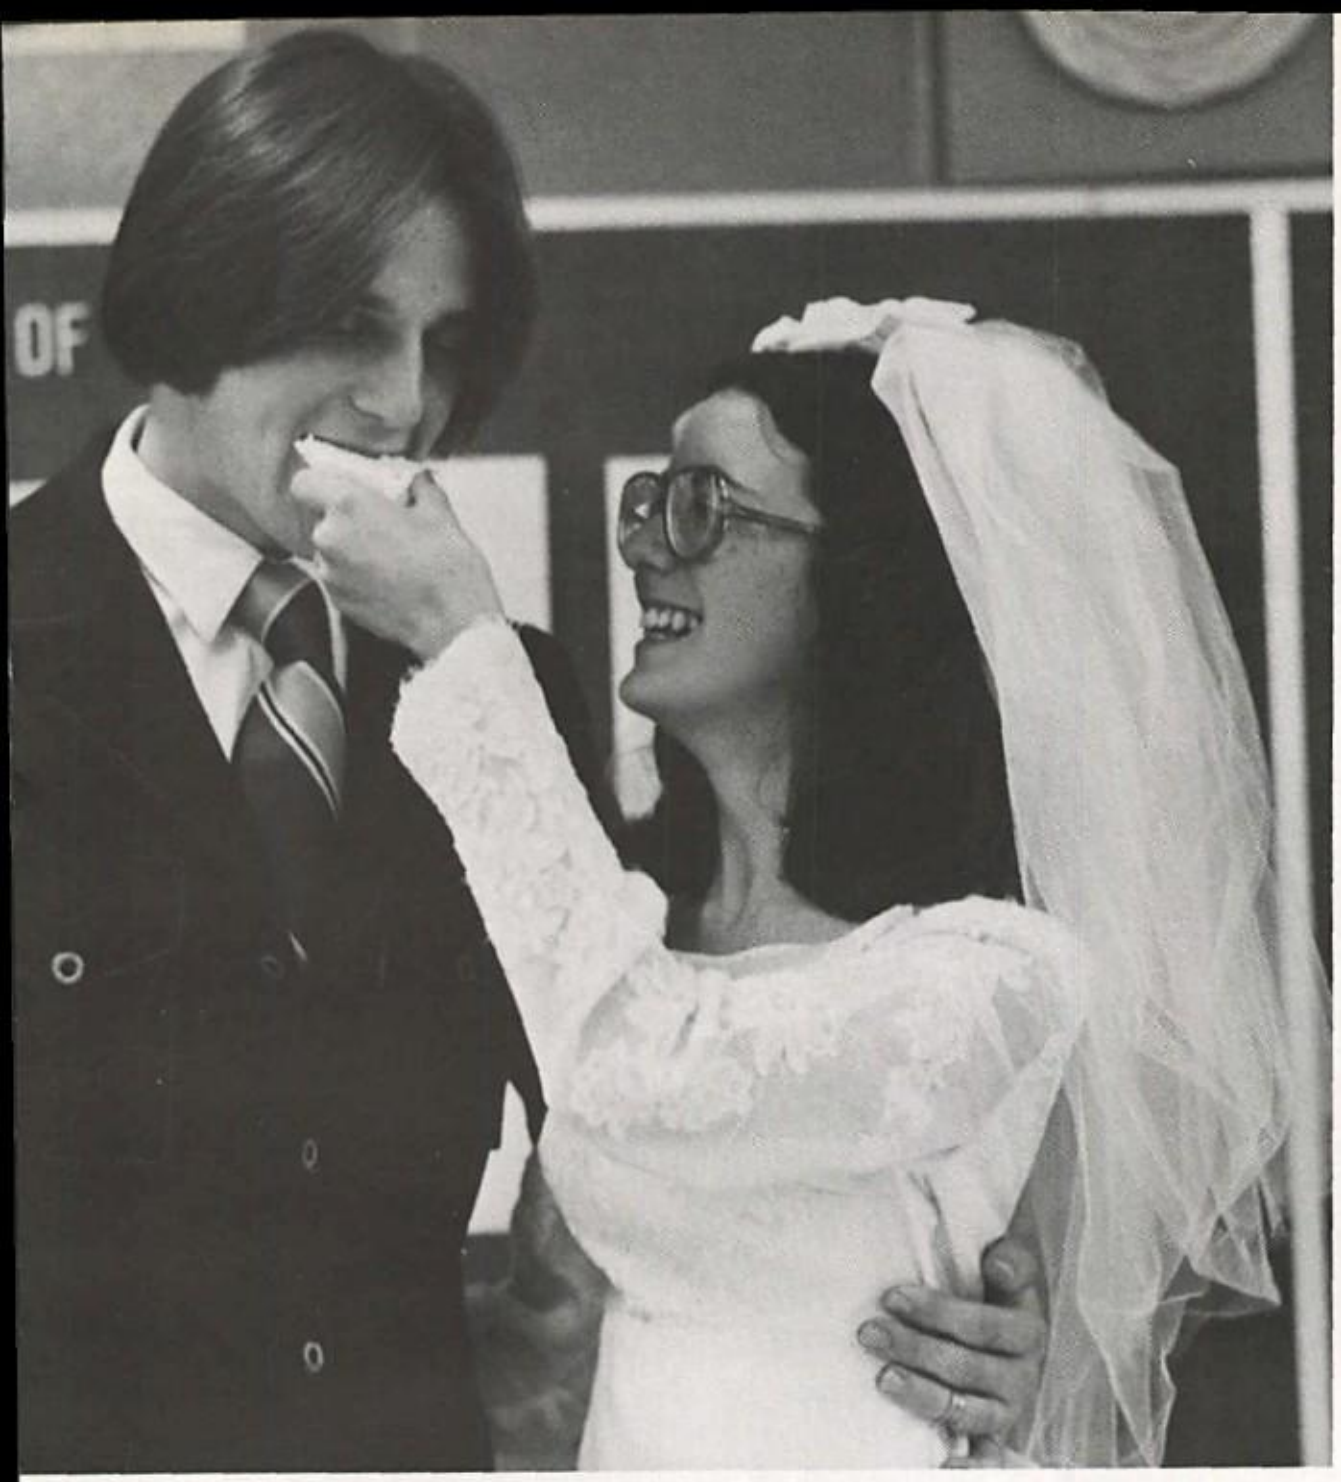
Kathy Stearns flashes a smile to the audience upon her crowning as the 1976 Miss JHS.

With This Ring

Wait a minute! With this ring you what? Well, dummy, it's perfectly clear. With this ring you become a member of the Senior Class. On May 25, 1976, the Juniors of Jeffersontown High School lined up in alphabetical order to receive their bright, shiny symbols of Seniority. Each member of the class, whether receiving a ring or not, was thoroughly excited, and the entire crowd "oohed" and "aahed" in anticipation. When all of the rings had been passed out, each student held on to it nervously. Then the Junior Class President, Gabriel Hernandez, finally gave the word for the packages to be opened; the crowd roared. "Look at my ring!" "Isn't it beautiful!" "Boy, I'm finally a Senior!" "Wow, this is the life!" Smiles were contagious. Then the next tradition began. "Turn my ring," one person cried. "I have to have it turned 77 times for good luck." Even people without rings were delighted in the turning of others. Well, another class has become Seniors (sigh!), and we, the Seniors of '77, would like to wish all future Seniors a hardy GOOD LUCK.



Top left: Look, I'll prove to you that we're Seniors. It says right here "Senior Ring."
Above: "Let go of MY RING, Mr. Craigmyle," says KAREN BENNETT under her breath.
Right: "Turn my ring and I'll turn yours," says SUZIE GAFFORD to DEBBIE MOORE.



I Thee Wed?

At most weddings, the mother of the bride would probably shed a few quiet tears as the bride's father escorted her down the aisle to give her away. This wedding is no exception; yet it is no usual wedding. There will be no honeymoon, no bills to pay, and no possible divorce, for this wedding is a project of the Home-Ec Preparation for Marriage class. Each girl and guy in the class plan an entire wedding. Each class then has a mock wedding ceremony. In the wedding covered by our photographer, bride Paula Raymond, groom Barry Cassidy, maid of honor Paula Mueller, best man Ken Bailey, bridesmaid Kathy Tucker, and usher Bob Lewis participated in the ceremony. A reception in the family living room was held afterwards.

Top: The bride and groom, PAULA RAYMOND and BARRY CASSIDY, enjoy their wedding cake.

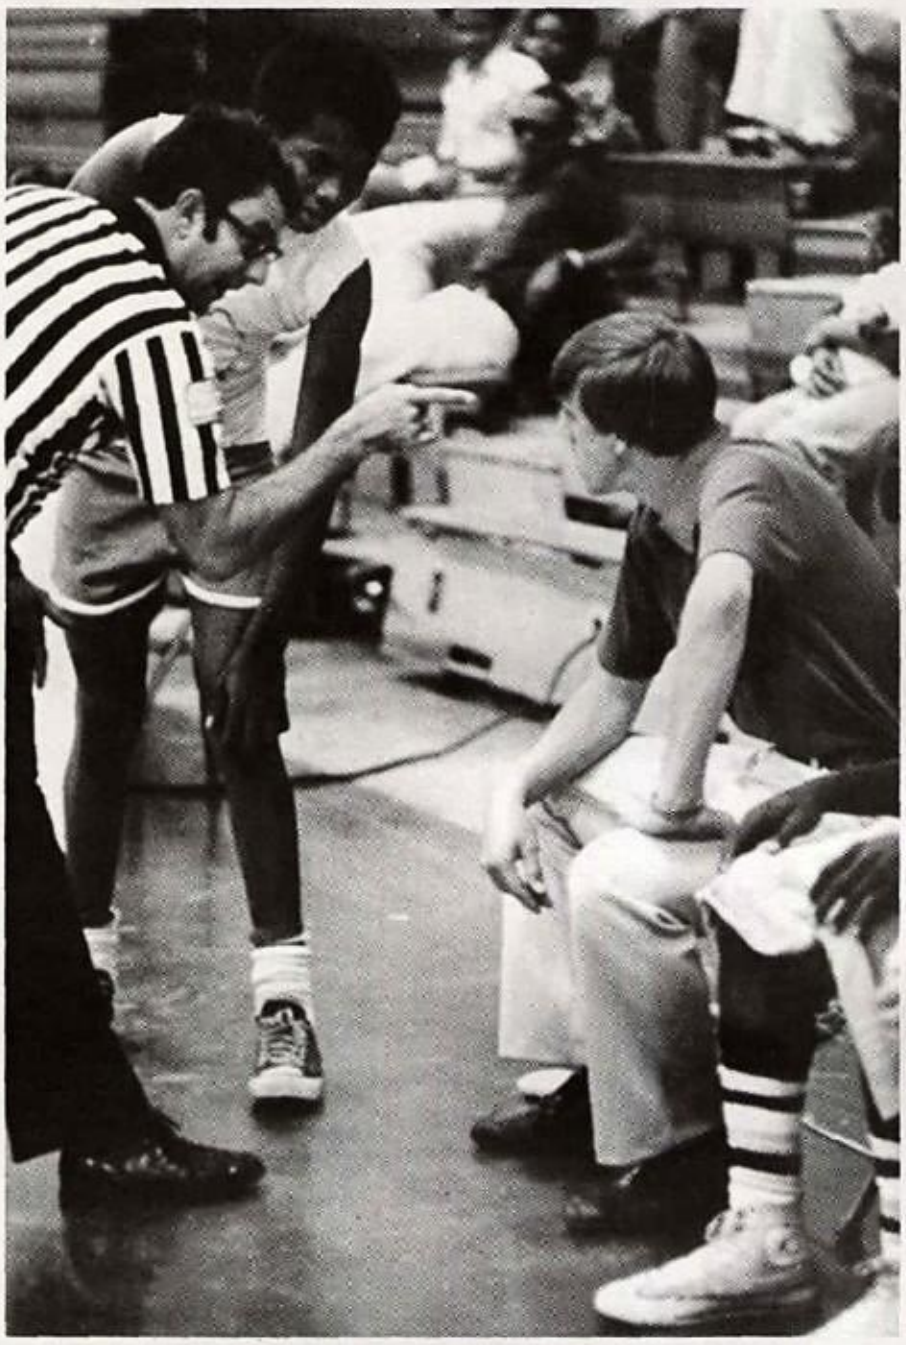
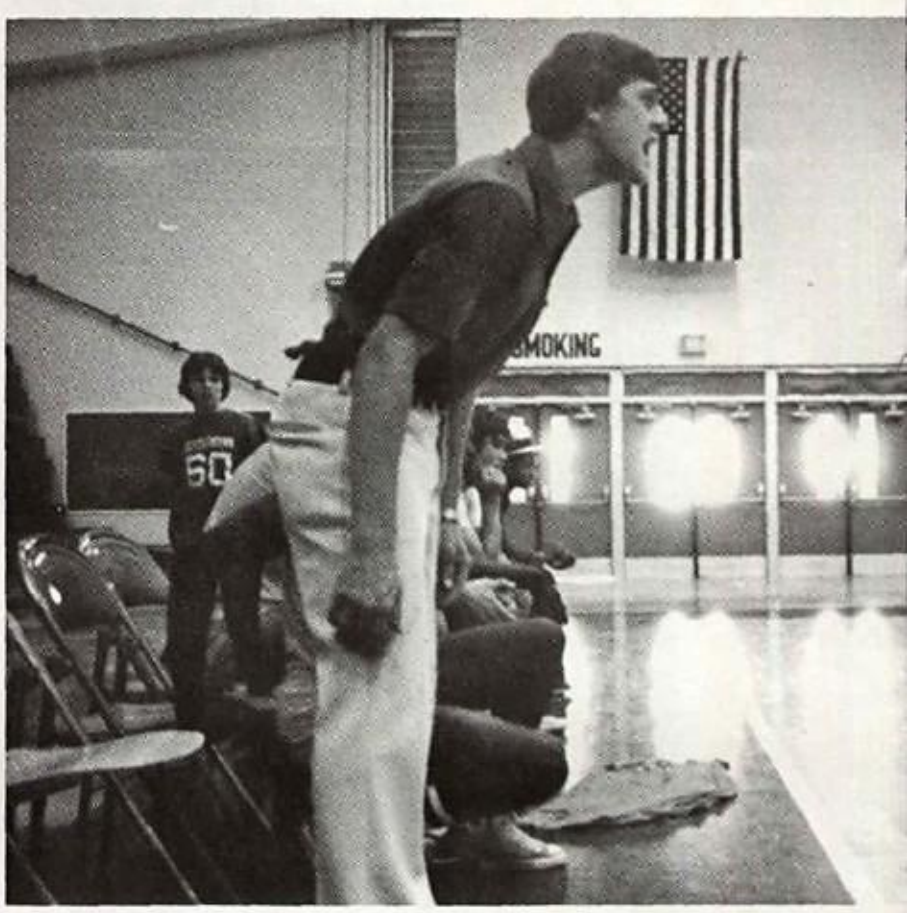
ROUGH

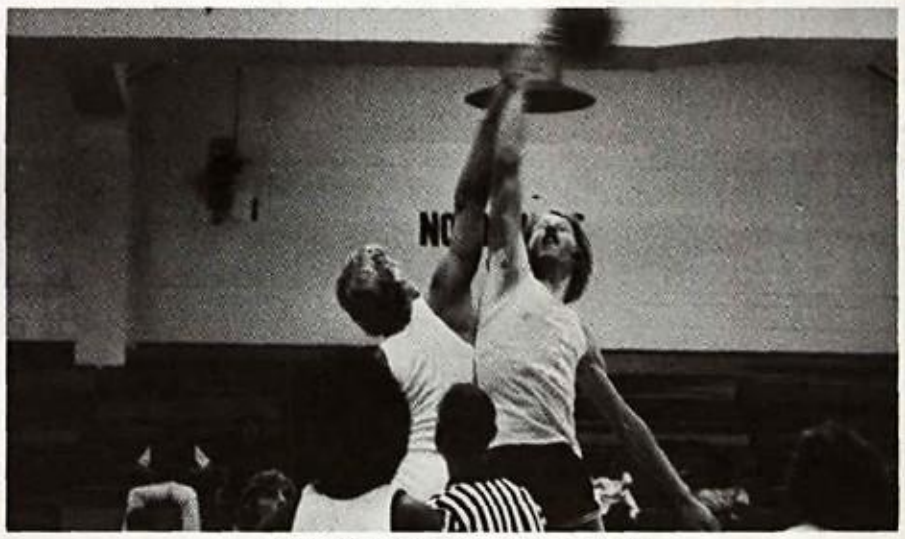


For ALVIN WICKE, coaching the Junior Class Basketball Team is ROUGH . . .

TOUGH



But ALVIN shows that he's TOUGH . . .



BO WISE and MIKE PFEFFER tip off.

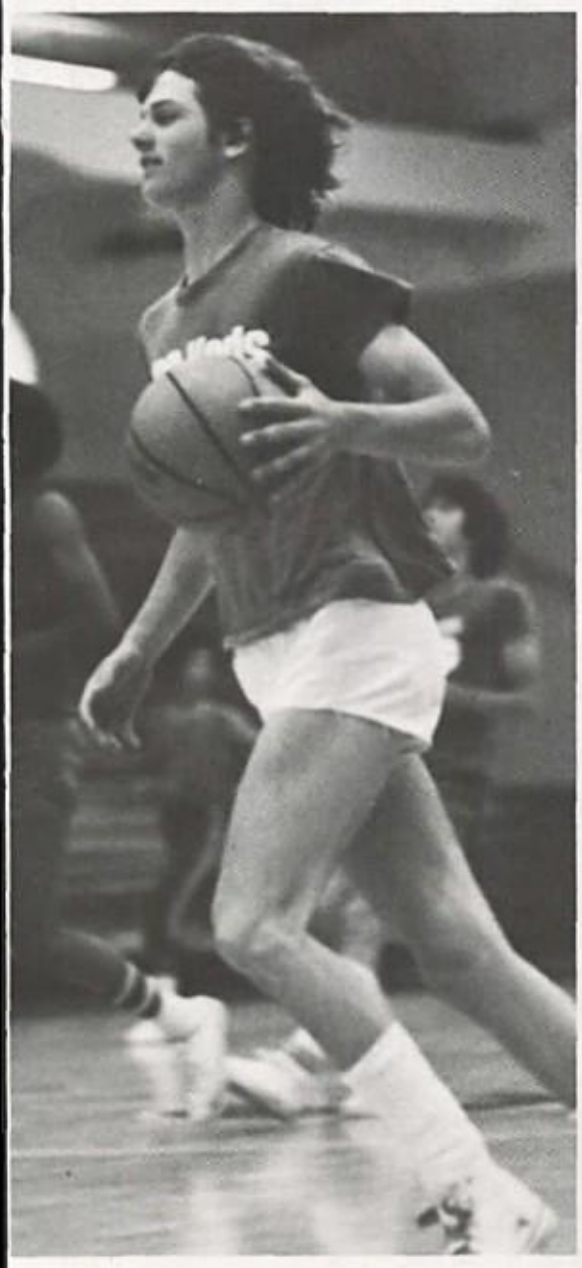
AND READY



There goes Dr. J.!!

And the vivacious cheerleaders are definitely READY!!

This is gonna be a pep rally?

The Class Basketball Tournament proved the Chargers were rough and tough. The preliminary games proved successful for the boys from the Classes of '77 and '79, and the girls from the Classes of '76 and '78. After some pretty fancy team work, the winners were the boys from the Class of '77 and the girls from the Class of '76.

The 1976 Homecoming activities proved the Chargers were ready. The cheerleaders, both the original and newer additions, were full of fight and yelled at the top of their lungs. Everyone else involved in the pep rally was ready too. The football team was ready; the students were ready; as a matter of fact, J'town is ROUGH, TOUGH, and READY!!!

Recording the Year as It Happened . . .

In this bit of space, the annual staff would like to share some of the experiences we've had in the production of this book, our live creation! The year started with a bang. Our ideas were extremely creative, and to our misfortune, extremely expensive! But this did not hamper our spirit. After all, the school year was new, and this always causes lots of optimism in everyone. We needed a lot of money, so we decided to have an ads section this year. (By the way, now is a good time to thank everyone who supported us. To those of you who didn't . . . well, let's just say you'll be our prime target for an ad next year).

We had our yearbook sale, which could have been better, but no one is complaining. (Once again, for those of you who choose to look at a friend's annual, we'll be sure to get you in 1978!)

When the photographers were taking underclassmen's pictures, little did they suspect that one of the cameras had a SLIGHT malfunction, which resulted in a more than SLIGHT catastrophe. We had more pictures than we needed in the retakes, which added to the confusion. (Our thanks to the faculty for your cooperation. It made the situation 100% easier to smile about!)

The annual staff meets one hour a day, which seems sufficient, but a staff member will testify that it takes five minutes to get to class, five minutes to chat with a friend, ten minutes to collect your supplies, five minutes to locate Miss Ruble, ten minutes to find what you did the day before, and ten minutes to figure out what on earth your scribbling means. The remaining time is used to accomplish something! At this rate, one hour is terribly inadequate for meeting our deadlines. (Oh yes, we have deadlines. You didn't think it was this hard, did you?) Our train of thought was lost during the teachers' strike and became nearly irretrievable during the three weeks of snow days.

These are just a few of the major difficulties, not to mention the long list of minor problems. But our inspiration was you, the student who gets up at 5:30, participates in clubs, sports, plays, and other activities, and makes this school the best. Because of you, we fought to the end to make our creation a success. Thank you very much.

Moral: Every cloud has a silver (or should we say a maroon and white?) lining.

LEANN MATLOCK and KEVIN O'BRIEN took many candids throughout the school year. Here they enjoy a friendly exchange about their cameras.

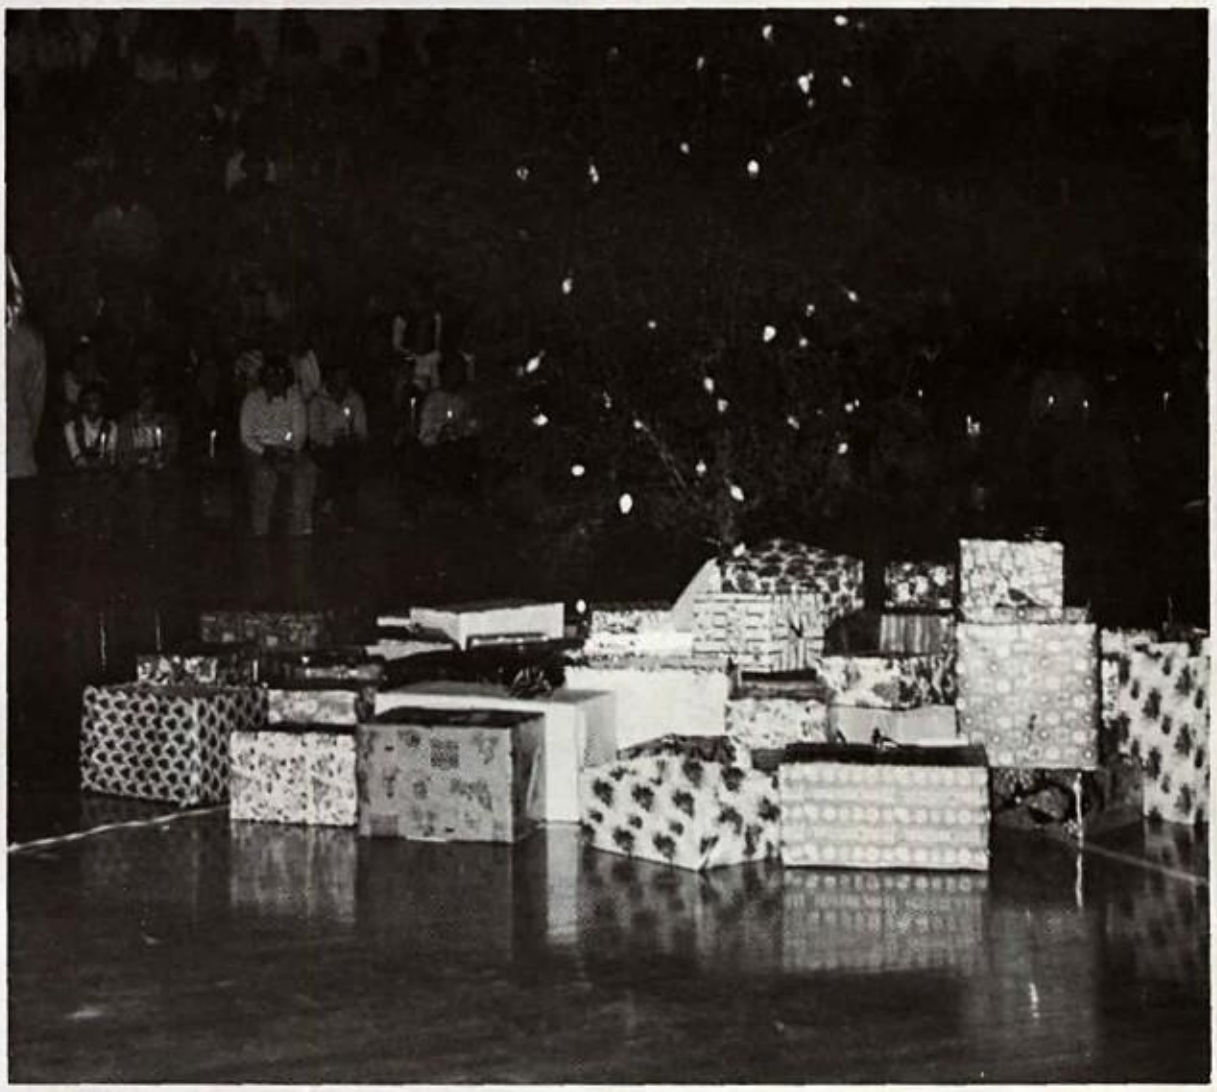
Student Council Works for More Student Involvement

Junior and Senior homerooms always elect outstanding Student Council delegates.

The 1976-1977 Student Council was among the most active and original Councils in J'town's history. Under the leadership of Sherri Son, the Council's first female president, a committee worked over the summer to revise the Student Council Constitution. The result was a Council more responsive and accessible to the student body. In order to encourage input from students, a grievance committee was formed to bring the complaints and suggestions of the student body to the attention of the administration. This helped to insure that the Student Council worked closely with the entire student body.

The Council's first project this year was to cosponsor with the PTSA a drive to increase student membership in the organization. Through the hard work of the Council and the support of the student body and faculty, the annual Christmas Basket Program helped to make Christmas brighter for twenty area families by giving them boxes of canned food and gift certificates for meat. The Council undertook a similar project in the spring. To benefit Appalachian children, a drive for used clothing and toys was held. The student body was again overwhelming in its response. The Dial Book sales were a huge success for the Council this year. They sold out the first day and had to place a second order. Overall, this year's Student Council tried to establish a tradition of student involvement and community service which we hope will be continued by future Councils.



Gift-wrapped boxes, symbolic of the food donated, encircle the Christmas tree at the Christmas Basket Program.

Officers and sponsor listen attentively as Reverend BeMiller gives the devotional.

Candles carried by students add beauty and meaning to the program.

DEBBIE SPRATT'S fistful of money proves that the Dial Book sale is a huge success.

Aides Perform a Valuable Service for Our School

Aides for the Sr. and Jr. High office, the library, and A-V room, all sacrifice their study halls to help out the student body and staff of J'town; and, believe it or not, they ARE a tremendous help. Could you imagine our school without them? It would be impossible to look up a schedule in the office, check out a book, or even see a film. Let's give all the aides a pat on the back, because, like their teachers say, "I don't know what we'd do without them."

GARY GRIMSHAW prepares the ditto machine for running off a test.

This large group of library aides perform many jobs that help to keep the library running smoothly.

The Senior High Office could not possibly be as efficient as it is without the help of these girls.

From running a movie projector to splicing a broken film, these A-V Aides do it all!

Marine Corps Junior ROTC

The Marine Corps Junior ROTC occupies a new facility this year constructed at a cost in excess of $200,000. Perhaps the finest in the entire United States, this modern complex consists of a classroom; a library utilized for lesson plans, reference material and training aides; office spaces for both instructors; a modern and complete clothing storeroom; an armory used for storage of drill rifles and marksmanship training equipment; and a ten-point rifle range which is electrically operated. The rifle range is used in the marksmanship training portion of the training program. Targets travel on overhead rails and return to the shooter for marking and scoring. Such a device precludes wasted time in shooters walking to the targets and is considered a most modern safety device.

The Junior ROTC is in its sixth year at Jeffersontown and has consistently won honors. They have been named the "Best of Kentucky" for two of the past four years and have captured the coveted "Most Outstanding Unit" award for three of the past five years for units in the fourth Marine Corps District.

Band Marches to Five Out of

The band adds to the spirit at the last outside pep rally.

HAROLD YANKEY directs

The past year has been very successful for the Marching Chargers. The year started in June when the band traveled to Virginia for the Virginia Beach Music Festival. There they won the parade competition; the band's field show performance received a standing ovation from the entire audience and caused our band to be the most talked-about band at the show. Following a grueling band camp, the Marching Chargers, under the leadership of Lamar Richardson and Drum Major Harold Yankey, embarked on a successful contest season. After taking third place at the Kentucky State Fair, the Chargers won their next three contests. They won the field show at Elizabethtown and both parade and field show at Central City and Ohio County. These five first places made 1977 and 1974 the band's most winning years.

Choirs and Orchestra Provide Excellent

Roughly 138 people are involved in the choral program at J'town this year. All choruses are directed by Mrs. Batts except the Seventh Grade Chorus, which is directed by Mr. Tiggs. They participate in several programs, including a Christmas, Thanksgiving, and Spring Concert and sing for Baccalaureate and Graduation. The Madrigal Pop Singers also participated in the Gaslight Festival.

In March and April, some of these groups will participate in the State Music Festival. Last year several ensembles won superior ratings, while the Male Chorus won an excellent rating.

The Concert Choir performs for the Christmas Basket Program.

MADRIGALS

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra performs in music programs at school, gives programs in elementary schools, and helps in recruiting programs for elementary students in the fall and spring. Also this year, they participated in the performance of Vivaldi's GLORIA with Waggener. They also give programs for the students in the Learning Disability School located at the old Jeffersontown Elementary School.

Most of the string students are very active in music individually. Some of them are involved in private music lessons and some participate in the Louisville-Jefferson County Youth Orchestra. The orchestra is quite small this year with only nine students, but hopes to increase its membership next year.

A High Kick for J-town

The Chargettes perform regularly for halftime at football and basketball games, as well as at the Miss JHS Pageant and at one pep rally each year. They also participate in drill corps competitions. Besides practicing frequently, the Chargettes stay busy by selling products to earn money to pay for their numerous props. The Chargettes' banquet serves as the culmination of each hectic year.

Concentration, shown here by JULIA HIGHFILL, is the key to a good drill corps performance.

We Strive to Be of Service to Others

J'town's Ecology Club provides many community services and enjoys hiking, camping, and field trips. Last year their major field trip was to Red River Gorge. As one member put it, "It was a really fun hike, and the land was just beautiful."

The Human Relations Committee is an organization which strives to spread goodwill. Members of this organization, chosen from applications submitted by interested students, consists of a cross section of the student body, with students representing each grade. At their monthly meetings, teacher-student, student-student, and student-administration issues are discussed in an attempt to promote inter-school relationships.

We Test Our Minds in Tough Competition

Would you know what 13 times the reciprocal of the sine of 27 plus 34 divided by the square root of 45 plus 93 times the secant of 85 is? Someone on the High Q Team or the Math League probably does or could quickly find the answer.

One of the teams representing J'town in scholastic competition is the High Q Team. Consisting of five members, the team practices regularly throughout the year to prepare for its appearance on the local TV program High Q. Members are chosen after a lengthy testing period of written exams and oral competition on the basis of quick recall and overall knowledge. Members of the team have studied diligently all year to increase their chances of reaching the finals of High Q competition. We congratulate them for being chosen to represent J'town in competition, and we extend them our best wishes for a successful season.

A second team representing J'town in scholastic competition is the Math League team. Jeffersontown High School is a member of the Louisville Mathematics League, which recognizes and rewards academic achievement in math. The team has four meets each year against five other schools in its district. We hope the team can follow in the footsteps of last year's team, which placed first in the district.

We thank the members of both teams for their fine work in representing J'town.

KEERTHI KEMPARAJURS and SCOTT CARTER know that study is the key factor in the success of the High Q team and the Math League team.

Thespian Society

Individuals in the Thespian Society are busy people. Besides giving much time and talent to the Senior Play and the all-school musical, they produce special programs several times a year for the PTSA and organize an awards ceremony in the spring to culminate the year's work. Members attend local theatrical productions, while some work as ushers at Actors' Theater. Membership in this organization is earned, and formal invitations are given out twice a year.

Pep Club

These pictures are an excellent illustration of the school spirit shown at ball games and pep rallies here at J'town. The main objective of the Pep Club is to build school spirit and to support the athletic teams of our school. With the outstanding teams we have had this year, this has not been difficult to do. To those students who take an ACTIVE part in this organization, we extend our thanks.

Language Clubs — An Exchange of Cultures

These five student organizations help to implement the goals and objectives of the Language Department. They act both independently and in collaboration to provide extracurricular activities which will increase interest in and understanding of foreign language and culture. These clubs attend the International Folk Festival in Cincinnati, and they usually produce their own festive International Day Program, which unfortunately had to be cancelled because of three weeks of snow days. Other activities include plays, concerts, seminars, conventions, and dinners, all of which add interest and enjoyment to the study of foreign language.

DECA Students Prepare to Enter the Business World

DECA (Distributive Clubs of America) is students learning to enter the business world through participation in actual business experience.

DECA is involved in many regional and state competitions. Each year the members of DECA prepare and display their projects at various locations to prove themselves ready to enter the world of marketing. This year J'town's DECA Club has a candidate for Regional DECA Sweetheart, Linda Lipton. J'town's DECA members also did very well at regionals this year with one first place in public speaking by Daniel Johnson, two second places, showcase lettering by Linda Husband and visual display by Mitch Gathof, and three third places, DECA Quiz by Mary Eisenback, ad layout by Martha Reid, and merchandising by Debbie Hoffman. Debbie Hoffman, Linda Husband, and Mary Eisenback also received superior ratings from the Louisville Ad Club.

The FBLA Means Business and the Key Club Helps the Needy

The F.B.L.A. is a youth organization on the local, state, and national levels. Membership at J'town is limited to those students who are enrolled in a business subject second or fifth periods. We have a program meeting once a month with speakers, films, etc. on some aspect of the business world. We prepare and sell cookbooks to raise money to attend regional, state, and national conferences. At the conferences, we compete in various areas demonstrating our business skills.

This year the Key Club assisted with the Swine flu immunization program. They also work with the Hurstbourne Kiwanis Club to raise money for needy children.

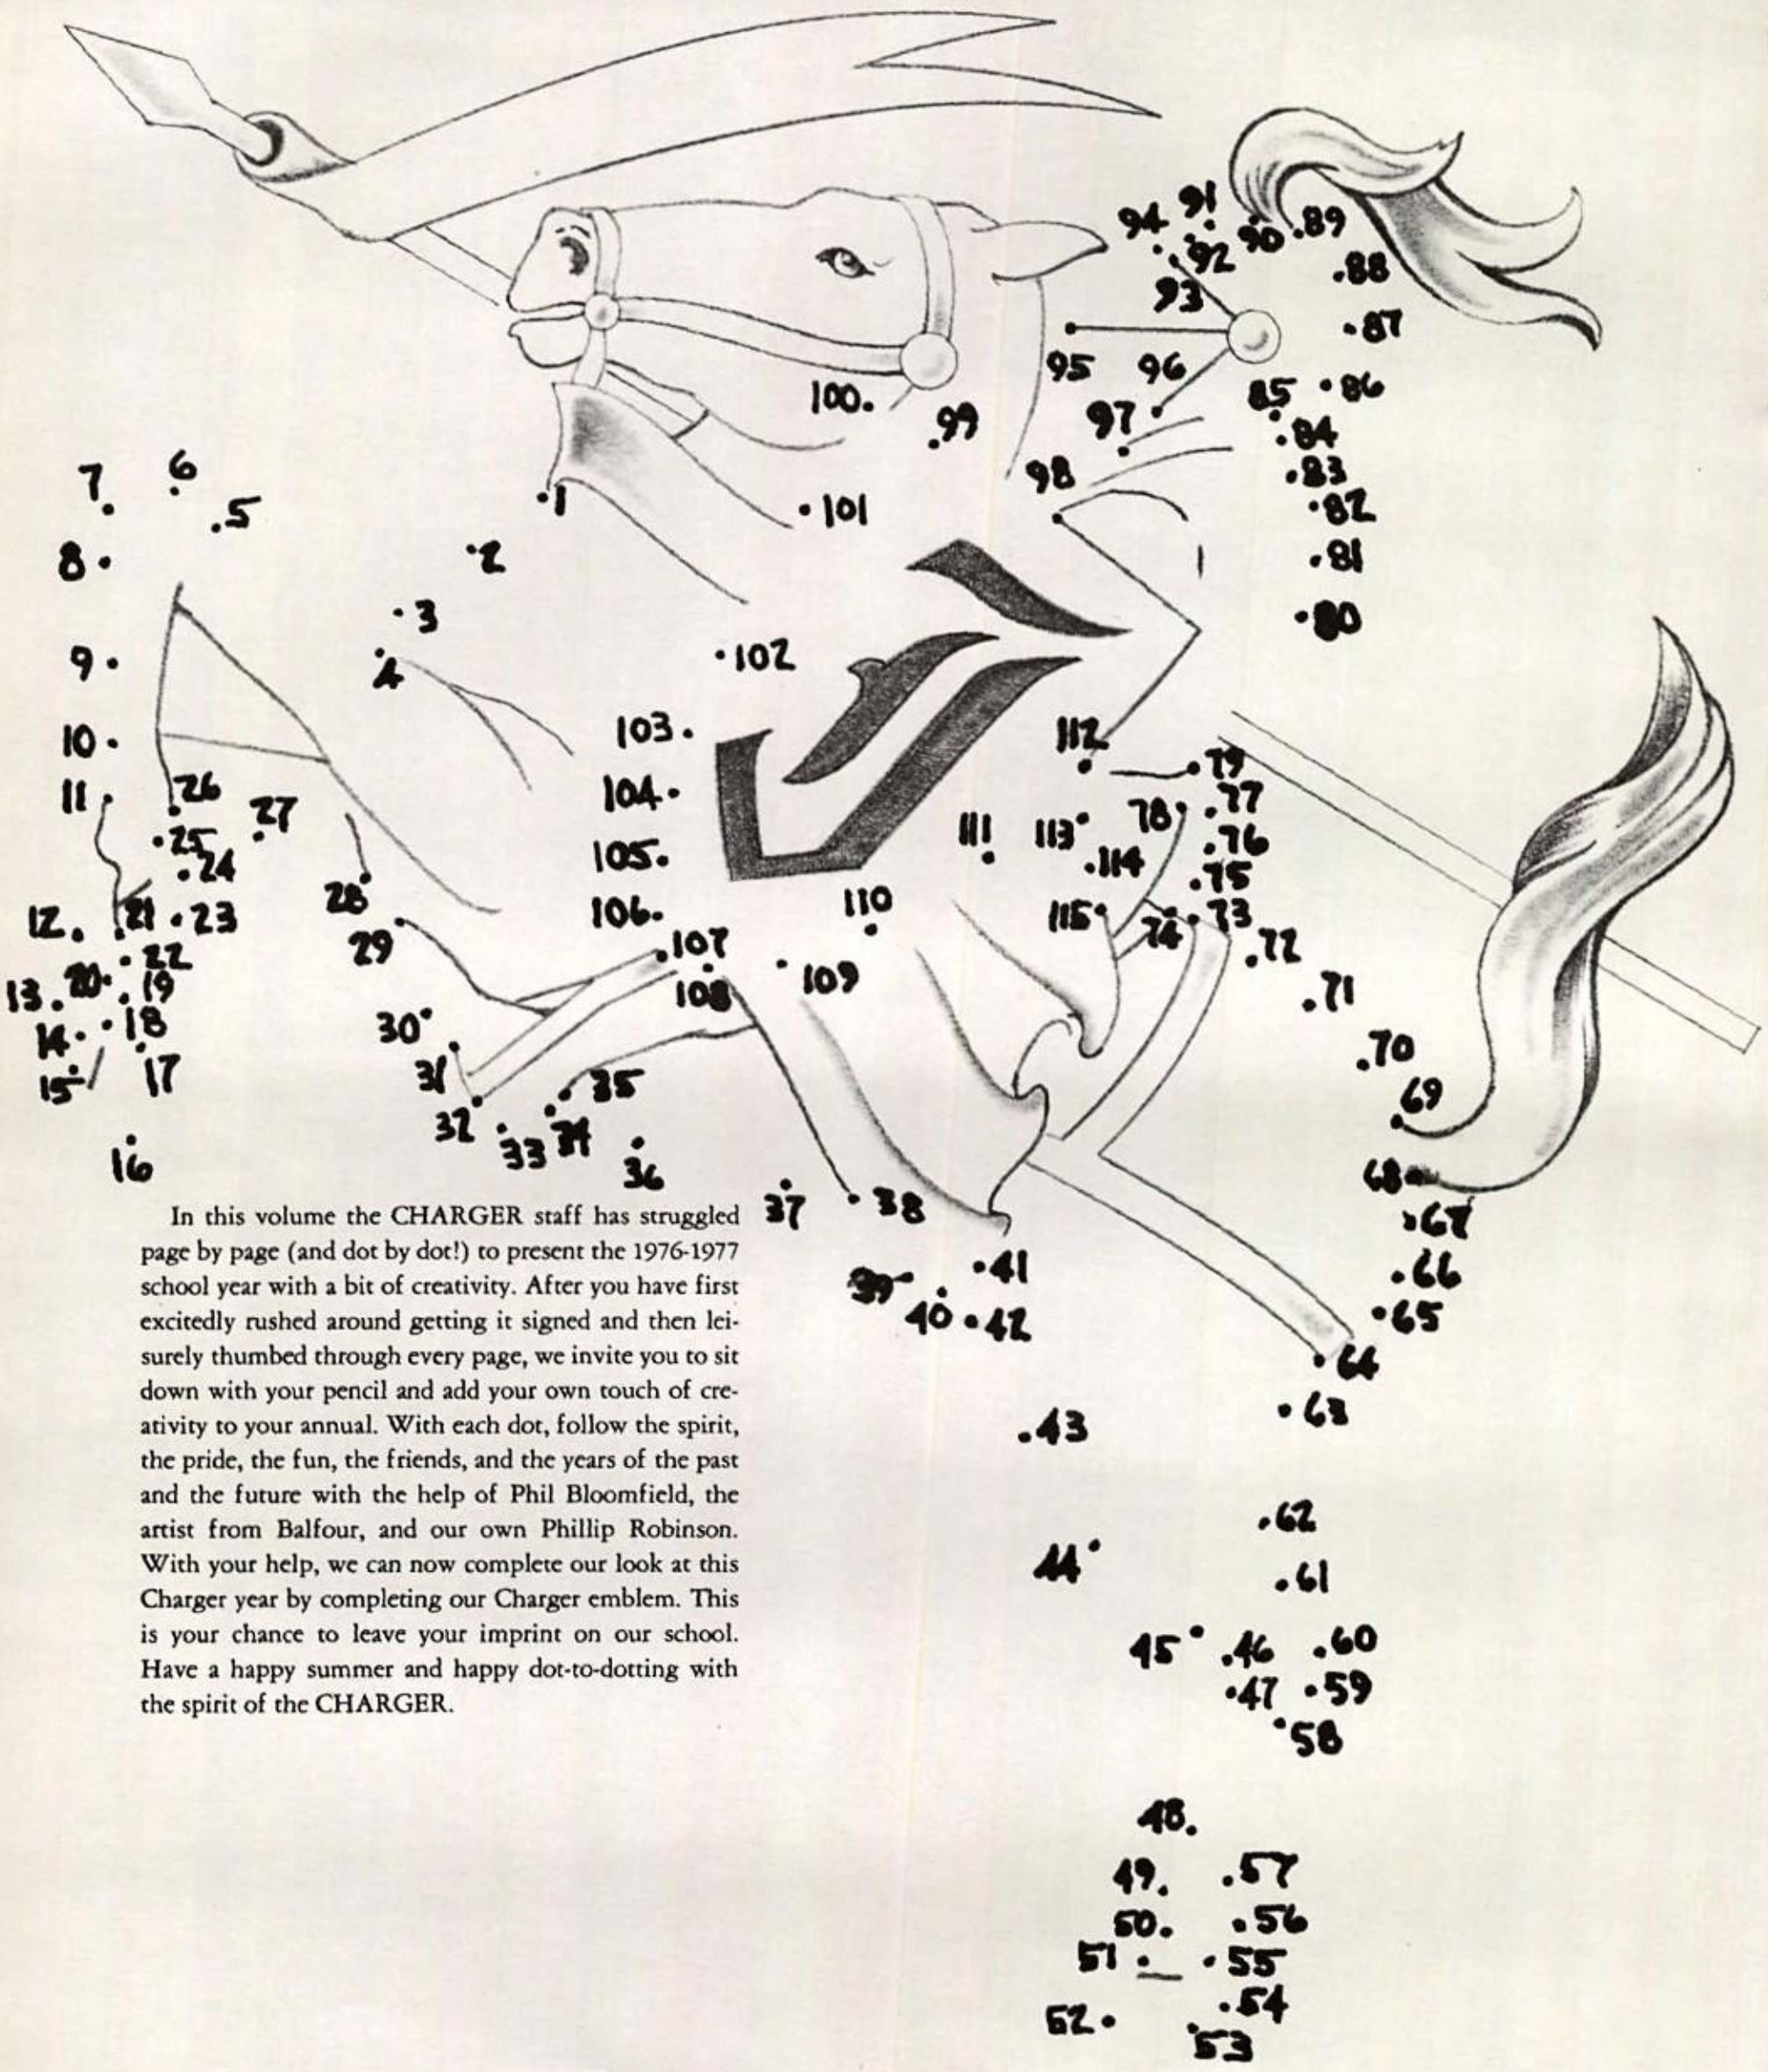
FOLLOW THE CHARGER SPIRIT



In this volume the CHARGER staff has struggled page by page (and dot by dot!) to present the 1976-1977 school year with a bit of creativity. After you have first excitedly rushed around getting it signed and then leisurely thumbed through every page, we invite you to sit down with your pencil and add your own touch of creativity to your annual. With each dot, follow the spirit, the pride, the fun, the friends, and the years of the past and the future with the help of Phil Bloomfield, the artist from Balfour, and our own Phillip Robinson. With your help, we can now complete our look at this Charger year by completing our Charger emblem. This is your chance to leave your imprint on our school. Have a happy summer and happy dot-to-dotting with the spirit of the CHARGER.
